

MASTER OF ARTS IN HUMAN SERVICES COUNSELING (M.A.)

Format

This program is delivered online.

Purpose

The Department of Community Care and Counseling's non-licensure Master of Arts in Human Services Counseling provides students with an academic program designed to educate students in the study of human behavior and application of helping skills. Students will master coursework and review the literature in the field considered essential to the master's-level professional preparation of human service counseling workers who seek to offer services in areas such as leadership, families, addictions and recovery, etc., that are consistent with a Biblical worldview. Though students are encouraged to evaluate their own specific needs and to take advantage of available resources for personal and professional development, the learning outcomes are applicable to all students as they seek a degree relevant to the vast field of human services.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

- Demonstrate appropriate knowledge in all core curricular areas of human services in preparation for certification and employment.
- Conduct research and generate reports appropriate to the discipline.
- Integrate Biblical principles with professional human service's methods in a variety of contexts.
- Identify and incorporate ethical and legal standards in the human services arena.
