

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN MUSIC EDUCATION (PH.D.)

Purpose

The Doctor of Philosophy in Music Education program emphasizes advanced research and practical application of music education studies to the field of music teaching and learning. The program is designed to equip music education professionals with skills that will prepare them to assume leadership roles within various organizations in the context of music education. The graduates of this program will be prepared to lead in higher education as well as at the district level of K#12 music education.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

- Construct a culturally contextualized music teaching methodology that is informed by Christian ethics.
- Formulate a philosophy of music education informed by the contexts of sociology, psychology, aesthetics, and a Biblical worldview.
- Design and conduct original research that contributes to the discipline of music education.
- Synthesize knowledge of the literature of the discipline with the professional practices of music educators through original research for the teaching environment.

Program Specific Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission procedures, applicants to the Doctor of Philosophy in Music Education must meet the following requirements:
