

PUBLIC HEALTH GATE (PHGT)

PHGT 701 Doctor of Public Health Orientation 0 Credit Hour(s)

This course sets the foundation for the success of the Doctor of Public Health program. A proper understanding of the Gate System and University and department resources is assessed during the course to ensure students are adequately prepared to be successful in moving through the Gates of the Doctor of Public Health program.

Offered: Residential

PHGT 702 Public Health Essay 0 Credit Hour(s)

Prerequisite: PCHR 700 and PHGT 701

Doctor of Public Health students will write a personal reflection essay that defines public health in their own words. The essay needs to identify their interest in the field and their future goals as public health practitioners, which will assist staff and faculty with career advising and help better prepare students for the field.

Registration Restrictions: PHGT 701 (Grade of P), a minimum of 12 completed credit hours.

Offered: Residential

PHGT 703 Public Health Portfolio 0 Credit Hour(s)

Prerequisite: PCHR 710 and PCHR 712 and PCHR 714 and PCHR 716 and PCHR 718 and PCHR 720 and PCHR 722 and PCHR 724 (may be taken concurrently) and PHGT 701 and PHGT 702

The purpose of this course is to ensure students capture the required accreditation and departmental standards of the Doctor of Public Health program by providing a repository for the foundational and concentration competencies and Deliverables created to document mastery of competencies, for accreditation. Further, the course consists of study materials to assist students to begin their journey on preparing for the required competency exam, which is taken during the next gate.

Offered: Residential

PHGT 704 Doctor of Public Health Competency Exam 0 Credit Hour(s)

Prerequisite: PCHR 710 and PCHR 712 and PCHR 714 and PCHR 716 and PCHR 718 and PCHR 720 and PCHR 722 and PCHR 724 and PHGT 701 and PHGT 702 and PHGT 703

The purpose of this course is to ensure students meet the required accreditation and departmental standards of the Doctor of Public Health program. The course consists of the required competency exam students must pass to successfully complete the program, which measures the substantive and integrative knowledge of the field of public health.

Offered: Residential