Message from the President

Liberty University, founded in 1971 with 154 students, has grown to become the largest university in Virginia and one of the largest Christian universities in the world. More than 100,000 students study either residentially at our Lynchburg, Va., campus or through our online programs.

At Liberty, we recognize that you are more than the career you pursue. That’s why we will teach you not only how something is done, but also why it should be done — and how you can transform the world by doing it. More than 600 unique programs of study are available to you, many of which combine collaboration between disciplines with hands-on opportunities to simulate the real world environments you will encounter when you graduate.

Our passion for excellence stems from our deep commitment to Train Champions for Christ. All of our courses are taught from a biblical worldview and support our mission to develop Christ-centered men and women with the values, knowledge, and skills essential for impacting tomorrow’s world. Every faculty member is a professing Christian who believes that teaching is a calling, not just a job, and every student is prepared for a life of meaningful service to God and to others. Social responsibility, humanitarian aid, and service-learning opportunities are all intentionally integrated into the Liberty experience.

The same standard for excellence that we invest in our programs, we are also investing in our campus. Nearly $1 billion has gone into new state-of-the-art academic and athletic facilities over the last decade because students who learn and compete in cutting-edge environments are primed for success anywhere. While our top priorities remain academic and spiritual in nature, Liberty also gives students the DI college experience, with 20 NCAA Division I athletic teams, over 40 Club Sports teams, and a wide variety of student activities, intramural sports, and recreational opportunities that you will not find at other Christian colleges.

I invite you to explore our courses and learn more about how Liberty can help prepare you for the career you have dreamed of, joining a community of others who share your vision for making the world a better place.

Jerry Falwell
President

Message from the Provost

Many adjectives might serve to describe Liberty in its fourth decade. Too many, we are huge, and our story is exciting. People everywhere marvel at our rapid growth and our ascendance to a position of leadership in Christian higher education. Under the leadership of our president, the comprehensive rebuilding and refreshment of our school has produced a beautiful and functional campus beyond the dreams of our founder and those of us who came to serve alongside of him. Newly constructed, world-class educational facilities, attractive dorms, and an abundance of recreational facilities provide an unparalleled opportunity for students desiring a Christ-centered education to pursue their dreams in a context that is as modern and filled with opportunities as many of the finest state universities.

Liberty University students study and conduct research in the Jerry Falwell Library with its state-of-the-art robotic retrieval system, abundant group study rooms, and outstanding print and electronic resources. Biology, chemistry, health sciences, and pre-med students attend classes and conduct their research in our 121,000-square-foot science building with cutting-edge labs and classrooms. Music students are challenged to the highest level of excellence as they study and perform in a music and performing arts center that provides an atmosphere that helps to inspire their pursuit of excellence for the glory of God. Liberty’s students will soon enjoy the new School of Business, the latest addition to our academic facilities. Nursing, medical, and engineering students study and learn in facilities equipped with the most modern SIMS and labs. They are fully prepared for graduate school, employment, and excellence in service as they take their next step. Liberty’s approach to cultural engagement has contributed to the development of academic programs connected to real life experiences in cinematic arts, theater, studio and digital arts, and a host of other degree programs that are offered through the newly expanded School of Communication and Creative Arts. The Center for Apologetics and Cultural Engagement, located in the new Freedom Tower, teaches students how to engage culture and answer the biblical, theological, and philosophical questions raised by their generation from a distinctively Christ-centered worldview.

Outstanding facilities are important and necessary, but the most important resource contributing to Liberty’s expanding reputation for excellence is the Liberty faculty. Seventy percent of our faculty have earned doctoral degrees, many from the top schools in America.
and around the world. More importantly, they share our president’s commitment to the creed that “If it’s Christian, it ought to be better.” Liberty University faculty love their disciplines, love teaching, and love their students. Liberty faculty are united in the belief that God has called them to serve Him in this place and that every student has been created by God, bears His image, and is gifted by God to serve a particular purpose in His world. Education at Liberty is a dynamic partnership in which students and faculty are joined in the common resolve to acquire and demonstrate the knowledge, values, and skills required for serving with excellence in their callings.

At the heart of what makes Liberty unique in the world of higher education, is our resolve to create Champions for Christ. This is achievable because administration and faculty are committed to the ongoing preservation of an environment where the Holy Spirit has the freedom to work in our classrooms, in our uplifting Convocations held at least twice a week, and in the conversations and service of Liberty students. As an academic community, we are united in the belief that through reliance upon the Spirit of God, obedience to the Scriptures, and the diligent pursuit of academic excellence, we are able to produce Champions for Christ to serve in and impact our contemporary culture. I invite you to view this catalog and come and see.

Provost

Message from the Online Provost

Liberty University is an exceptional institution in every way, and we are in one of the most exciting seasons of the University’s history. Nowhere is this more evident than in our growing online programs. Students from every walk of life, every state in the nation, and every corner of the globe have found Liberty University Online to be the partner they needed to achieve their educational dreams.

With one of the most innovative online environments in the world, a highly accomplished online faculty possessing both outstanding academic credentials and real-world experience, and over 600 programs of study at the undergraduate, graduate and the doctoral levels, Liberty University is a global leader in online education.

We are also an institution of great mission and purpose. Every course and every program is taught from a biblical worldview and is designed not only to ingrain excellence in every student but to train Champions for Christ. Our online faculty is comprised of individuals of deep faith who lead by example, train with compassion, and serve with the understanding that they are God’s hands and feet in the lives of our students.

This combination of high-quality educational opportunities and dedication to the growth, development and success of our students makes Liberty University an exceptional place to accomplish your educational goals. Whether you are serving in the military, need the flexibility to study from home, or want to enhance your education as you advance in your career, I invite you to explore our degree offerings and to learn more about how Liberty University may be able to help you reach your potential.

Dr. Shawn D. Akers
Online Provost

General Information

Founded
1971

Location
Liberty University is located in the heart of Virginia in Lynchburg (population 75,000) on the south banks of the historic James River with the scenic Blue Ridge Mountains as a backdrop. The city is over 200 years old and is noted for its culture, beauty, and educational advantages. Lynchburg is at the crossroads of U.S. highways 29 and 460 and has adequate transportation facilities by bus, railway, and air.

Campus
Liberty’s campus is surrounded by beautiful mountain vistas and extends over 7,000 acres with over 300 buildings that consist of over six million square feet of building space including 215 classrooms.

Type
The University is a religiously-oriented, private, coeducational, comprehensive institution.

Motto
“Knowledge Aflame”

Distinctiveness
Liberty University was originally formed under the auspices of Thomas Road Baptist Church. Liberty is distinctive among Christian colleges because resident students use Thomas Road Baptist Church, other local church ministries, and community service groups as a laboratory for practical application of what they learn in the classroom. While this practice is not logistically or philosophically possible for students in the online programs, Liberty University Online uses its curriculum and advising to encourage spiritual, moral and ethical development in the student body.

Symbols
The University Seal, a symbol of the administrative authority of the university, depicts the Freedom Tower against the background of an open Bible. To the upper left sits, the Liberty Bell, a replica of which resides at the top of the Freedom Tower. The flame arising from the Bible depicts the motto, “Knowledge Aflame,” and evokes the university’s guiding philosophy—that knowledge has validity only when viewed in the light of biblical truth. The Seal’s octagonal border reflects the Jeffersonian architecture of the building which first housed the university.

The Mace is a symbol of administrative authority, a symbol of continuity as the institution pursues its enduring mission, and a witness of institutional heritage.

The Eagle symbol refers to the soaring spirit of achievement the University seeks to inspire in its students, and to the patriotic spirit of the University. The school colors are blue, red, and white. The school verse is II Corinthians 3:17, “... where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.”

The Eaglehead/Liberty University Logo is symbolic of the athletic teams of the University. The name for all male sports teams is “The Flames”; all female sports teams are referred to as “The Lady Flames.” The Flames Mascot is an eagle named “Sparky.”

State Certification
Liberty University is authorized to confer degrees by the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Pursuant to 23-276.1-12 of the Code of Virginia, the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV) is responsible for developing procedures to which certain private and all out-of-state postsecondary institutions must adhere in order to receive approval to confer degrees, certificates, or diplomas in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Certain private institutions are exempt from the requirements of certification or approval by SCHEV.

Liberty University was incorporated in the State of Virginia on January 18, 1972. It has operated under the same ownership since that time and has remained in good standing with the U.S. Department of Education and its accrediting body. Liberty University is an exempt institution.
SCHEV has limited or no regulatory authority over institutions exempt from certification. Before enrolling in any institution in the Commonwealth of Virginia, students are encouraged to determine the schools regulatory relationship with SCHEV or other state regulatory agencies. Certain consumer protection provisions required by certified schools are not present at or required by exempt institutions.

The exemption entitles Liberty University to conduct academic affairs or business without seeking or obtaining SCHEV approval. The resulting scope of the institutional autonomy includes:

- Offering courses or programs for degree credit;
- Enrolling students in courses or programs;
- Conferring or awarding degrees;
- Initiating other programs for degree credit at a new or additional level; and
- Offering instruction at additional or new locations.

Additional information is available at http://www.schev.edu/.

State Authorization

According to the U.S. Department of Education, "State authorization is a longstanding requirement in the Higher Education Act that requires institutions to be authorized in the state in which they are located as a condition for eligibility to receive Title IV Federal student aid.” States authorize institutions that are located within its borders, as well as institutions that are located elsewhere but offer educational activities within its borders. On October 17, 2014, the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) approved Virginia as a member state to participate in the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC-SARA). Liberty University is an institutional participant in the NC-SARA initiative allowing Liberty University's programs to be available to students who reside in 49 participating states. At present, California is the only U.S. state to have not yet joined NC-SARA.

Disclosures

Arkansas

- M.A. Addiction Counseling: While the Master of Arts in Addiction Counseling offered by Liberty University is intended to lead to licensure as an addiction counselor, the State of Arkansas may have additional course requirements and supervised experience in order to earn an Arkansas license. Please check the website for information on Arkansas licensure: http://www.sbeadac.org/index.html.
- M.Ed. School Counseling: The Master of Education in School Counseling offered by Liberty University requires the student to pursue teacher/administrator licensure in Virginia and then earn an Arkansas educator or school administrator license by reciprocity. Please note that the State of Arkansas has additional course requirements in order to earn an Arkansas license in the program area or a similar program area. Please check the website for information on Arkansas reciprocity: http://www.arkansased.gov/divisions/educator%20effectiveness/educator-licensure/licensure-by-reciprocity.

Kentucky

- Please be advised that Liberty University's Master of Education in School Counseling (M.Ed.) is currently the only educator preparation program approved by the Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board. For students enrolled in the Master of Education in School Counseling offered by Liberty University, the State of Kentucky has additional course requirements in order to earn a Kentucky license in the program area or a similar program area. Upon completion of the M.Ed. in School Counseling program, a student can be recommended for a "provisional" license in Kentucky. In order to advance to a "standard" license, a student must complete 3 additional credit hours related to counseling. An additional 3 hours (6 hours total) may be completed as well. Since the student would have completed the state approved program, they may reenroll through Liberty University as a "Special (Non-degree-seeking) Student". If a student holds a Bachelor's degree and completes 32 additional credit hours, Liberty may complete paperwork to recommend that the student move to "Rank 2" ("Planned 5th Year Program") in pay with Kentucky. If a student holds a Master's degree and completes 30 additional credit hours, Liberty may complete paperwork to recommend that the student move to “Rank 1” (“Planned 6th Year Program”) in pay with Kentucky. Specific paperwork can be found here: http://www.epsb.ky.gov/.
- Other educator preparation programs offered by Liberty University are currently NOT approved in Kentucky by the Education Professional Standards Board and are NOT recognized for initial, additional, or renewal of certification or salary enhancement (rank change) for K-12 educators in Kentucky. For more information, please visit the Education Professional Standards Board's website at http://www.epsb.ky.gov/course/view.php?id=2.

New York

- Due to New York state regulations, the School of Nursing is unable to accept New York residents into the Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner degree program as well as the Post Graduate PMHNP certificate until further notice. Additionally, students are not permitted to complete Post-BSN DNP/FNP clinical hours in the state of New York. However, students are permitted to take residential courses at Liberty University in Lynchburg, VA, and complete their clinical hours in Virginia. Any questions regarding this disclaimer or the nursing programs should be directed to Shirley Lee at sklee@liberty.edu or (434) 582-2507.

Washington

- Liberty University is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. This authorization is subject to periodic review and authorizes Liberty University to offer specific degree programs. The Council may be contacted for a list of currently authorized programs. Authorization by the Council does not carry with it an endorsement by the Council of the institution or its programs. Any person desiring information about the requirements of the act or the applicability of those requirements to the institution may contact the Council at P.O. Box 43430, Olympia, WA 98504-3430.
- The transferability of credits earned at Liberty University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Liberty University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Liberty University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Liberty University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned.

Professional Licensing Boards
Institutions are required to meet program standards associated with professional licensing boards for states in which students are engaging in associated educational activities. The Office of State Approvals is dedicated to researching regulations, seeking and maintaining program approvals when required.

Limits Of Confidentiality
Students are encouraged to share prayer requests and life concerns with the professor in this class. Not only will the professor pray for and care for students, but can guide students to appropriate University resources if desired.

However, in the event of a student’s disclosure, either verbally or in writing, of threat of serious or foreseeable harm to self or others, abuse or neglect of a minor, elderly or disabled person, victim or witness of a crime or sexual misconduct, or current involvement in criminal activity, the faculty, staff, administrator, or supervisor will take immediate action. This action may include, but is not limited to, immediate notification of appropriate state law enforcement or social services personnel, emergency contacts, notification of the appropriate program chair or online dean, or notification to other appropriate University officials. All reported information is treated with discretion and respect, and kept as private as possible.

Doctrinal Position
We affirm our belief in one God, infinite Spirit, Creator, and Sustainer of all things, who exists eternally in three persons, God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. These three are one in essence but distinct in person and function.

We affirm that the Father is the first person of the Trinity, and the source of all that God is and does. From Him the Son is eternally generated, and from Them, the Spirit eternally proceeds. He is the designer of creation, the speaker of revelation, the author of redemption, and the sovereign of history.

We affirm that the Lord Jesus Christ is the second person of the Trinity. Eternally begotten from the Father, He is God. He was conceived by the virgin Mary through a miracle of the Holy Spirit. He lives forever as perfect God and perfect man, two distinct natures inseparably united in one person.

We affirm that the Holy Spirit is the third person of the Trinity, proceeding from the Father and the Son, and equal in deity. He is the giver of all life, active in the creating and ordering of the universe; He is the agent of inspiration and the new birth; He restrains sin and Satan; and He indwells and sanctifies all believers.

We affirm that all things were created by God. Angels were created as ministering agents, though some, under the leadership of Satan, fell from their sinless state to become agents of evil. The universe was created in six historical days and is continuously sustained by God; thus it both reflects His glory and reveals His truth. Human beings were directly created, not evolved, in the very image of God. As reasoning moral agents, they are responsible under God for understanding and governing themselves and the world.

We affirm that the Bible, both Old and New Testaments, though written by men, was supernaturally inspired by God so that all its words are the written true revelation of God; it is therefore inerrant in the originals and authoritative in all matters. It is to be understood by all through the illumination of the Holy Spirit, its meaning determined by the historical, grammatical, and literary use of the author’s language, comparing Scripture with Scripture.

We affirm that Jesus Christ offered Himself as a sacrifice by the appointment of the Father. He fulfilled the demands of God by His obedient life, died on the cross in full substitution and payment for the sins of all, was buried, and on the third day He arose physically and bodily from the dead. He ascended into heaven where He now intercedes for all believers.

We affirm that each person can be saved only through the work of Jesus Christ, through repentance of sin and by faith alone in Him as Savior. The believer is declared righteous, born again by the Holy Spirit, turned from sin, and assured of heaven.

We affirm that the Holy Spirit indwells all who are born again, conforming them to the likeness of Jesus Christ. This is a process completed only in Heaven. Every believer is responsible to live in obedience to the Word of God in separation from sin.

We affirm that a church is a local assembly of baptized believers, under the discipline of the Word of God and the lordship of Christ, organized to carry out the commission to evangelize, to teach, and to administer the ordinances of believer’s baptism and the Lord’s table. Its offices are pastors and deacons, and it is self-governing. It functions through the ministry of gifts given by the Holy Spirit to each believer.

We affirm that the return of Christ for all believers is imminent. It will be followed by seven years of great tribulation, and then the coming of Christ to establish His earthly kingdom for a thousand years. The unsaved will then be raised and judged according to their works and separated forever from God in hell. The saved, having been raised, will live forever in Heaven in fellowship with God.

Philosophy of Education
Liberty University is a Christian academic community in the tradition of evangelical institutions of higher education. As such, Liberty continues the philosophy of education which first gave rise to the university, and which is summarized in the following propositions.

God, the infinite source of all things, has shown us truth through scripture, nature, history, and above all, in Christ.
Persons are spiritual, rational, moral, social, and physical, created in the image of God. They are, therefore, able to know and to value themselves and other persons, the universe, and God.

Education as the process of teaching and learning, involves the whole person, by developing the knowledge, values, and skills which enable each individual to change freely. Thus it occurs most effectively when both instructor and student are properly related to God and each other through Christ.

Statement of Mission and Purpose
Maintaining the vision of the founder, Dr. Jerry Falwell, Liberty University develops Christ-centered men and women with the values, knowledge, and skills essential to impact the world.

Through its residential and online programs, services, facilities, and collaborations, the University educates men and women who will make important contributions to their workplaces and communities, follow their chosen vocations as callings to glorify God, and fulfill the Great Commission.

Liberty University will:

1. Emphasize excellence in teaching and learning.
2. Foster university-level competencies in communication, critical thinking, information literacy, and mathematics in all undergraduate programs
3. Ensure competency in scholarship, research, and professional communication in all graduate programs and undergraduate programs where appropriate.
4. Promote the synthesis of academic knowledge and Christian worldview in order that there might be a maturing of spiritual, intellectual, social and physical value-driven behavior.
5. Enable students to engage in a major field of study in career-focused disciplines built on a solid foundation in the liberal arts.
6. Promote an understanding of the Western tradition and the diverse elements of American cultural history, especially the importance of the individual in maintaining democratic and free market processes.
7. Contribute to a knowledge and understanding of other cultures and of international events.
8. Encourage a commitment to the Christian life, one of personal integrity, sensitivity to the needs of others, social responsibility and active communication of the Christian faith, and, as it is lived out, a life that leads people to Jesus Christ as the Lord of the universe and their own personal Savior.

Approved by the Board of Trustees, March 7, 2014

Statement on Worldview
Liberty University embraces a worldview that is both historically Christian and biblical, and that underlies the very concept and origins of the university. We hold that God exists and is the source of all things, all truth, all knowledge, all value, and all wisdom. We hold that God has created an orderly universe according to His design and purpose and for His glory, and that He has created human beings in His image. God is actively at work in the world and history, governing them according to His ultimate purpose. From these foundational principles, it follows that truth exists and that there is a standard of right and wrong. We hold that all of creation is fallen as a result of human sin. Finally, we hold that God has revealed Himself and His ways in the natural created order, in history, in the Bible, and supremely in Jesus Christ. God in love and through the sacrificial work of Jesus Christ is redeeming humans and the entire created order.

At Liberty University, students receive an education that integrates this Christian and biblical worldview. Students trained with this worldview perspective will be equipped with a rational framework for understanding and interpreting reality, for comprehending the meaning of life and the value of humans and things, for making decisions and engaging in meaningful action, for studying the various academic disciplines, and for understanding the interconnectedness of all knowledge.

Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities

Student Rights
Liberty University is a Christian academic community in the tradition of evangelical institutions of higher education. As such, Liberty continues the philosophy of education which first gave rise to the university, and which logically implies the following statement of student rights.

The Right to Truth. God, the infinite source of all things, has shown us truth through scripture, nature, history, and above all, in Christ.

The Right to Human Dignity. Persons are spiritual, rational, moral, social, and physical, created in the image of God. They are, therefore, able to know and to value themselves and other persons, the universe, and God.

The Right to Growth in Community. Education as the process of teaching and learning, involves the whole person, by developing the knowledge, values, and skills which enable each individual to change freely. Thus it occurs most effectively when both instructor and student are properly related to God and each other through Christ.

Student Responsibilities
As members of the university community, all students have the responsibility to act in a manner consistent with the spirit of the principles articulated in Scripture. Furthermore, all students have the responsibility to know and follow the university conduct regulations contained in the Codes of Conduct appropriate for their academic level. By adhering to these principles and standards of conduct students can enjoy their own rights while also respecting the rights of others.

Academic Facilities

Liberty University's academic facilities are continually changing from year to year. Academic facilities include our nationally recognized library and state-of-the-art buildings.

Arthur S. DeMoss Hall is the primary academic building on campus, this impressive structure spans 500,000 square feet over four floors and houses computer labs, classrooms and student resource centers, and a rooftop terrace.

Home to the seventh largest music school in the country, the Center for Music and the Worship Arts has two linked 4-story buildings that span 141,000 square feet. The center has a 1,600-seat concert hall and is equipped exclusively with Steinway pianos. The building was completed in 2016.

The Center for Natural Sciences is a four-story, 121,000-square-foot facility that houses classrooms, an auditorium, and more than 30 laboratories designed for hands-on learning.

At 275 feet, Freedom Tower is the tallest structure in the city of Lynchburg. Serving as the focal point of campus, the tower and its expansive base are home to the Rawlings School of Divinity, the world's largest accredited school for religious and ministerial training. The tower's base includes a 150-seat interactive classroom as well as a classroom with multiple projectors that provide an immersive view. The tower also includes an observation floor, a 25-bell carillon, and features the Rawlings Scriptorium, which houses a collection of some of the earliest and most rare Bibles, as well as a life-size replica of the Gutenberg Press. Freedom Tower was completed in Spring 2018.

Jerry Falwell Library is named after Liberty's founder, the library was completed in 2014 and boasts over 170,000 square feet, including a technology commons, 30 group-study rooms, an automated storage retrieval system, four-story book tower, multiple terraces and balconies, and a café. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/library/.

The Center for Medical and Health Sciences is home to the College of Osteopathic Medicine and select programs of the expanded School of Health Sciences, this 140,000 square-foot center provides hands-on training through lab simulation and standardized patient education. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/lucm/.

Marie F. Green Hall houses the School of Law, Tower Theater, LaHaye Recreation and Fitness Center, and the Cinematic Arts Zaki Gordon Center, as well as academic and administrative offices.

Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/academics.

Athletic Facilities

Liberty University's practice and performance facilities are nationally acclaimed and provide opportunities for students studying medicine, sport management, and other health professions to work with athletes in real-world environments. Touted as the home of the best football stadium in the Big South and the No. 4 collegiate baseball stadium in the country, Liberty University provides students and alumni with a college sports experience they can be proud of.

Williams Stadium is the largest stadium in the Big South Conference with 19,200 seats and a 110-foot viewing tower. It is ranked best stadium in the Big South Conference by the Sports Network and is among the top Football Championship Subdivision facilities. The stadium houses the Football Operations Center, containing locker rooms, coaches' offices, equipment and weight rooms, and a training facility. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38090.

The 169,000-square-foot Indoor Track facility is home to one of 15 hydraulic-banked tracks in the United States. The 1,500-seat indoor track includes a six-lane, 200-meter track, training and weight rooms, locker rooms, concessions, and coaches' offices. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38092.

The Vines Center is home to Liberty University Flames Basketball and Volleyball teams, the facility is also used for concerts, church services, conferences, and Convocation. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38028.

The Cook Tennis Center consists of 18 NCAA regulation courts, including 12 lighted courts for use anytime. The courts have elevated seating with chairbacks that are centered with three courts on each side. The center is used for NCAA competitions, intramural sports, and open play. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38103.

Opened in February 2013, the Liberty Baseball Stadium features the latest turf playing surface, as well as full-length, major league-style dugouts, a fully equipped media area, two suites, a club room, and a spectator picnic area. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38096.

Kamphuis Field at Liberty Softball Stadium features AstroTurf and a clay infield treated specifically to repel water, the stadium meets NCAA regulations. Also includes locker rooms, 1,000 chairback seats, and a video scoreboard. Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/flames/index.cfm?PID=38097.

Liberty University - Online Programs

Mission
The mission of Liberty University throughout online programs is to provide Liberty University courses and programs through non-traditional delivery systems. While Liberty University online and residential course offerings may differ due to distinctions in student profiles and methodologies of instruction, the residential and Liberty University online courses and programs are comparable in range, goals and purpose.

History
Founded in 1985 as the Liberty University School of Lifelong Learning (LUSLL), the distance learning program was designed to bring an accredited University program to non-traditional learners at home, military personnel, and Christian school teachers seeking certification from the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI). The courses were adapted from those offered on the University campus and the initial programs offered were the A.A. in Religion, B.S. in Church Ministries, and M.A. in Counseling.

The initial goal to provide quality Christian education to students around the world has remained intact. Currently, Liberty University offers online services to over 85,000 students across the globe in degree programs including certificate programs, diploma programs in Biblical Studies, and hundreds of associate to doctoral programs.

Using innovative methods, students can take classes without having to relocate. The same quality courses that are offered on the Lynchburg campus are made available to our online students in the convenience of their own homes. Some courses are also offered in an intensive format a number of times throughout the year.

Instructional Delivery Methods
Liberty University offers its online courses through several delivery methods. The University has adopted Blackboard®, an online software platform, as its primary delivery method. Students can access individual lessons, have interaction with other students taking the same course, utilize links to online resources, view supplemental streaming video clips, and receive direct feedback from their professors using this innovative means of delivery. Students may also be required to purchase DVDs for select courses. Video, printed, and online learning tools ensure that students have a learning opportunity available to them that equals or surpasses the traditional classroom model.

Structure
Currently, Liberty University offers online courses in an eight-week format with multiple entry dates throughout the year (see academic calendar). Some courses are offered in a 14- to 17-week format (with one entry date per semester) in which students may enroll at the beginning of each term. Students will need to show consistent progress throughout their coursework in order to maintain good academic standing. Liberty provides students with tools for success. However, students must manage their time and resources to take advantage of these tools.

Degree Program Format
With the online delivery format [distance education], courses in a program are delivered in an online classroom experience that is flexible, personal and challenging. Through the online format a student can earn a degree entirely online. Some programs require that a minimum number of courses be taken face-to-face on campus.

Testing
Students take timed tests online and receive immediate feedback and test results. Essay exams and papers are also submitted online, graded by the course instructor and returned to the student. Portions of assigned work are used to facilitate student-to-student interaction. The interaction is often included as an element in student grading.

Course Materials
Many course materials are offered to students in the course via Inclusive Access, an enhanced educational experience that leverages various interactive learning platforms by converting print content from top publishers into digital content. Students are strongly encouraged to purchase from MBS Direct all materials that are not included in the course through Inclusive Access. Purchases can be made online by accessing the web page at www.mbsdirect.net/liberty or by calling (800) 325-3252. Students should purchase materials after registration but prior to the sub-term start date (course activation). Liberty does not guarantee that required course materials will be available after the sub-term start date.

Course materials outside of Inclusive Access may be charged to a student’s account by means of the online book voucher system, if the student has a credit on his or her student account.

Basic Regulations
To view the Code of Honor, please see the Office of Community Life section in the Student Affairs section of this catalog.

All students enrolled in Liberty University online programs are subject to the Liberty University Online Code of Honor and Personal Code of Honor. Please see the Academic Information and Policies – Online Programs section of this catalog for more information.

Important Information Regarding Licensure-Based Degree Programs, Internships and Clinical Placements
Students who are pursuing degrees leading to application for professional licensure or certification, and/or who will be participating in clinical placements, internships, or practica through their Liberty University program, should be aware that a criminal background checks, finger printing, drug screenings, or other screening processes may be required by Liberty University and/or the host facility.

Internships, Practica, and Clinical Placements
In such situations, each student is responsible for obtaining and paying for the background check or other screening process and for delivering required documentation to the facility. Although the university will provide guidance to admitted students seeking placement in field experiences and internships, it will be up to the host facility to determine whether a student will be allowed to work at that facility.

Licensure-Based Degree Programs
Students in licensure-based degree programs are responsible for understanding the requirements of the program by becoming thoroughly familiar with the Degree Completion Plan (DCP) and the academic school’s web page that outlines degree requirements.

Students should further be aware that a criminal record may jeopardize licensure by the State certification body. Students seeking licensure are urged to contact the relevant licensing agency to determine the licensing requirements for the jurisdiction. Successful completion of a program of study at Liberty University does not guarantee licensure, certification, or employment in the relevant occupation.

Financing the University

The Office of Development is designed to develop and foster lifelong relationships between the University and its constituents. By establishing opportunities for all graduates, friends, students, families, faculty, staff, corporations, and foundations to financially support the University, this office helps Liberty University maintain and enhance the outstanding quality of its faculty, students, programs, and facilities.

Provided below is an overview of ways to support Liberty University.

Development

Annual Fund, Outright Gifts, Matching Gifts, and Gifts in Kind

Annual gifts are contributions for the current, unrestricted use of the University or any of its colleges, schools, and programs. Outright gifts include contributions of cash, securities, and written pledges. Gifts of securities are credited at market value on the date the gift is delivered or postmarked. Matching gifts encourage charitable giving by matching their employees’ contributions. Gifts in kind are gifts of tangible personal property, such as artwork, computers, real estate, and services, which may be used by Liberty University or sold for funds to help support our continuing efforts to provide an outstanding Christian higher education. Gifts in kind may provide substantial tax benefits.

Specific information on the above plans may be obtained by contacting:

Mr. Chris Carroll
Vice President for Development
1971 University Blvd.
Lynchburg, Virginia 24515
(866) 602-7983

Federal and State Funding

Liberty University does not receive any Federal or State funding other than Student Financial Aid, which is utilized only for eligible individual students. Eligible students may receive funds from Federal Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants, Federal Work Study Grants, Federal Family Education (Stafford and PLUS) Loans, Virginia Tuition Assistance Grants, and Virginia College Scholarship Assistance Program Grants.

The University has never accepted Federal or State funds for its operations, endowment, or capital funding projects.

Planned Giving

Bequests

Federal tax laws encourage bequests to qualified institutions like Liberty University, with an unlimited estate tax deduction for such legacies. Here is a sample form of bequest your attorney may adapt in preparing your will:

I give, devise and bequeath to Liberty University, a Virginia non-stock, non-profit corporation located in Lynchburg, Virginia 24515, __% of my estate to be used for its general purposes.

Charitable Gift Annuity

Gift Annuities provide assured fixed income for the lives of one or two qualified individuals by transferring $5,000 or more in cash and/or securities to Liberty University. An annuity agreement established during your lifetime is a good way to increase after-tax income. Your gift allows you to claim a charitable deduction on your tax return to reduce your tax liability.

Life Insurance, IRAs, and Pension Plans

A paid-up life insurance policy makes an excellent gift to Liberty University. The donor may receive significant tax benefits with this type of gift. Traditional IRAs and other qualified pension plan assets can be an excellent source of funding for charitable gifts. If these assets are transferred to an individual, the current value is subject to estate taxes, as well as federal and state income taxes (sometimes exceeding 80% of the value), but when designated to Liberty University, taxes are eliminated.

Real Estate

Land, homes, buildings, and other real property may be given to Liberty University as an outright gift or used to fund a life-income gift. A home may be given to the University and continue to be lived in throughout an individual’s lifetime. This is called a “Life Estate.” All such gifts of real estate and real property can benefit both the individual and the University.

Scholarships/Endowments

Gifts can be placed as a permanent endowment scholarship with the University. Each year the interest earned from the investment will provide tuition help for worthy students.

Trusts

Charitable Remainder Trusts (CRTs) are life income gifts. The remainder comes to the University after the passing of all income beneficiaries. Charitable Lead Trusts generate income for the University during the term of the trust, after which the assets are passed along to the heirs with significant tax savings.

Semester Credit System

The University operates on the semester system. The unit for counting credit is the semester hour. A semester hour of credit consists of the equivalent of one 50-minute period of class work for fifteen weeks, with an assumption of two hours of outside preparation or two 50-minute periods of laboratory work for each semester hour. Online courses are equivalent to the number of classroom contact hours (750 minutes per credit hour) expected in a synchronous residential course.

Enrollment Status

- Full Time equals a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester.
- Half Time equals 6 to 11 credit hours per semester.
- Less than Half Time equals 1 to 5 credit hours per semester.

Semester Load and Overload

To ensure students are successful in their academic endeavors, the University has placed a limit on the maximum number of semester hours students are able to take. Online undergraduate students are considered to be full-time with a semester load of 12 or more semester hours.

Online undergraduate students have a maximum semester limit of 18 hours. Students must seek permission to take more than the maximum hours in a semester and will be required to pay additional tuition for each credit hour they take over the maximum semester limit. Students may review potential overload charges by accessing this chart in the Academic Catalog or by contacting Student Financial Services to confirm the exact charges.

Online undergraduate students must have a Liberty University cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above to be eligible for overload up to 21 credit hours, and a GPA of 3.5 or above to be eligible for overload up to 24 credit hours. Certain degree programs may require a higher Liberty University cumulative GPA for approval.

Due to financial aid regulations, if online undergraduate students use their semester overload to take courses outside their degree completion plan requirements, they should be advised that this could cause issues with their financial aid. Students can check to see whether the course is required for their degree by reviewing the Degree Completion Plan Audit or by contacting their Undergraduate Academic Evaluator to confirm.

Online undergraduate students who want to request overload must secure permission from the Registrar’s Office and may seek this approval by submitting a request at www.liberty.edu/overload.

Enrollment Verification

A student is enrolled when he/she is registered for a course and have attended the course and/or completed academic work for the course after its start date. For enrollment verification purposes, the University policy can be viewed at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Enrollment Verification.

Certificate Enrolled Students

Certificate students are required to abide by some of the same policies as Undergraduate degree-seeking students. These policies include: academic standing, change of major, course registration, class attendance, drop and withdrawal processes, Repeat Policy, broken enrollment, academic and personal codes of honor, incompleted recording of grades and the grade appeal process, FERPA, and Academic Transcript processes. Those policies that do not pertain to the certificate seeking student will be noted in subsequent sections of this catalog.

Student Classification

The classification of students at Liberty is based on their degree level and number of earned semester hours.

¹ “R” is no longer an active option for a grade. Please see the Undergraduate Repeat Policy section for the current policy.

A student’s cumulative GPA comprises all coursework completed at the current academic level (Undergraduate, Graduate, Doctoral, etc.) regardless of prior degree conferral, broken enrollment or a program/major change. To determine the grade point average, (GPA) the quality points earned are divided by the GPA hours as listed on the transcript. Only courses taken at Liberty are used in computing the GPA. Only grades of A, B, C, D, F, and FN are used in the calculation of the GPA. Cumulative GPA is calculated to the hundredths place and is not rounded.

Dean’s List

Undergraduate associate and bachelor level students who earn 12 or more GPA hours with a term GPA of 3.50 or above are placed on the Dean’s List. This does not apply for certificate level students.

Computer Competency

Students are expected to have adequate experience in computer applications such as word processing, spreadsheets, database, Internet research, media presentations, and email communication. Undergraduate students lacking such experience should register for INFT 110 Computer Concepts and Applications (3 c.h.), in their first semester.

Course Planning

A course planning schedule is provided in order for students to plan their classes for upcoming semesters. The planning schedule presents every class offered and the terms where it is scheduled to be taught. This schedule is sorted alphabetically by class. The course planning schedule is published online at: http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=23103.

Transfer of Credits

Normally courses and degrees from regionally accredited institutions or those nationally accredited by accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (e.g., SACSCOC, TRACS, ABHE, etc.) will be evaluated for transfer of credit. However, on a limited basis, Liberty does accept transfer credit via experiential learning, advanced placement and professional certificates from unaccredited institutions under certain terms and conditions established by Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards. Credit earned through this process will not be counted toward the required minimum of 50% of the major and minimum of 25% of the credit hours that must be completed through Liberty University for an associate’s or bachelor’s degree. Also, credit earned through the portfolio process or professional certificate evaluation cannot exceed 30 credit hours. Applicants must request that official transcripts be sent directly from the Registrar(s) of the previous school(s) to the Registrar’s Office at Liberty University. These transcripts must be received before an admission decision will be made.

Credit will be accepted for those courses that are undergraduate level in which applicants have made a grade of C or better. Transfer credit will be awarded grades of P and will not be used in computing the Liberty GPA. Transcripts are evaluated under the guidelines established by the Senate Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards. Internships, capstone courses, special topics, remedial courses, workshops, seminars, independent studies, and varsity courses are not transferable. Students may appeal their transfer evaluation with a course description or course syllabus and Transfer Inquiry Form.

In order to receive direct credit for a course, the description must overlap the Liberty University course content at least 60%. Courses that do not match a Liberty University course by at least 60% are eligible to transfer as elective credit where allowable. Elective credit is coded as 1XX – 4XX, depending on the level of the course.

At any point prior to degree conferral, students may petition to have courses that are listed as electives substitute for required courses by using the Course Substitution form. Additionally, duplicated or repeated institutional and/or transfer credit will only be counted once toward total earned credit hours, unless courses are deemed repeatable.

International Transfer Credit

The evaluation of international transfer credit requires students to submit a translated official transcript. Course descriptions are typically required to determine direct transfer credit. International transfer credit is accepted only from an institution recognized by the government of the country in which the institution is located.

Foreign students are encouraged and sometimes required to use foreign credential evaluation services such as World Education Services (www.wes.org) to have their transcripts validated and evaluated before sending them to Liberty University. A credential evaluation service must be a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (www.naces.org) before it can be accepted at Liberty University.

Transfer credit may not be used in Certificate programs to meet degree requirements.

Credit by Examination

Liberty University offers students the opportunity to receive academic credit toward their undergraduate degrees through testing. Credit may be earned through the Advanced Placement, CLEP, ICE, DSST, Excelsior and Federal Aviation Administration programs. The items listed above, and the following credit by examination options, are not applicable to certificate-seeking students. For more information please visit: http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=38288.
Advanced Placement (AP)
Students who receive a required score on the College Board Advanced Placement examinations will be awarded academic credit toward an undergraduate degree. Credit will be awarded only in those areas applicable to the Liberty curriculum. For more information, or to see a list of accepted AP exams, please visit our website at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=38288.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)
The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), sponsored by The College Board, offers a unique opportunity to gain college credit for knowledge that a student has acquired. The program includes several tests covering a variety of subjects. Students who meet or exceed the Liberty University minimum score will receive the corresponding credit. Students may take the CLEP exam at a local testing center in their area. Students can find an approved testing center by checking www.collegeboard.com/clep. Upon completion of the CLEP exam, students should request the official scores to be sent directly to Liberty University for evaluation. For a list of acceptable CLEP exams, please see the Accepted CLEP Exams on the LU website.

Institutional Challenge Examinations (ICE)
ICE are available to students with a satisfactory justification of previous knowledge in a subject area based upon a non-college training program, job, or self-learning. Through ICE, students have the opportunity to earn credit toward their chosen degree program. For more information about ICE, including courses that may be challenged, and to complete the ICE Request Form, visit http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=37838.

DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSSTs)
Undergraduate college credit may be earned through the DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSSTs) program, which is administered by Educational Testing Services (ETS) in conjunction with DANTES. Examinations are available to both military personnel and civilians. Students may find an approved testing center and view fact sheets for various tests that are offered at www.getcollegecredit.com. A complete list of accepted exams, course equivalency and the minimum required score is available at https://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=30373.

Excelsior College Exam Credit
Excelsior College exams are approved for credit in the Liberty University Online program. Undergraduate college credit may be earned through Excelsior College Exams. For a list of acceptable Excelsior College Exams, visit https://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=30373.

For further information on earning credit through Excelsior exams, go to: https://www.excelsior.edu/start-with-more-credit/transfer-more-credits/.

Experiential Learning Credit
Credit may be granted to students who demonstrate that they have already acquired course knowledge through life experiences such as job training, non-college courses, etc. for the degree program in which they are enrolled.

There are some courses that will not be admitted, such as COMS 101 Speech Communication (3 c.h.), GOVT 200 Constitutional Government and Free Enterprise (3 c.h.), internship courses, capstone courses, as well as other courses not approved by academic departments. Please note that submission of documentation for life experience or submission of a portfolio does not guarantee that credit will be awarded.

A separate portfolio for each course petitioned is required. An administrative fee of $100 will be charged for each portfolio submitted for assessment. Please note that credit earned through the portfolio process, certificates of completion, and/or other documentation will be limited to a combined maximum of 30 hours.

Each portfolio must define learning in terms of college-level competencies for specific course credit. All documentation submitted in portfolios will remain in the student’s personal file at the University.

Students may submit portfolios and/or experiential-learning documentation no later than the semester before they are to graduate.

Credit earned through this process is considered transfer credit and will not be counted toward the required minimum number of credit hours that must be completed through Liberty University.

Military Evaluations
Liberty University will evaluate students’ prior military experience and develop a degree plan for each student to follow. Evaluations will be based solely upon the recommendations of the American Council of Education (ACE) guidebook, Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Students will generally find that the Interdisciplinary major maximizes the use of their existing credits.

Credit for Seminars
As part of the “action-oriented” curriculum at Liberty, certain seminars and travel opportunities are offered for academic credit. Students who wish to obtain credit for such activities must receive prior approval from the Registrar.

Coursework at Other Institutions
Prior to registering for any course at another institution, students must submit a Future Course Request Form to guarantee transferability. The online form can be found at https://apex.liberty.edu/apex/learner/index.cfm?P=189:1:104591628190395.

Change of Certificate
Liberty University Online students select their certificate of study when they apply. If a student decides to change the certificate he/she is seeking, the online student must contact the Academic Advising Department and request to change his/her certificate of study via phone or Liberty University webmail account. All requests for a change of certificate will be effective the following full term of enrollment.

Change of Major
Liberty University Online students select their major when they apply. If a student decides to change his/her major, the online student must contact the Academic Advising Department and request to change his/her major via phone or Liberty University webmail account. All requests for a change of major will be processed by the Registrar’s Office upon receipt, and will be effective the following full term of enrollment.

Double Majors
Students pursuing an associate’s or bachelor’s degree who wish to complete a double major or two separate degrees must contact the Academic Advising Department and declare the double major via phone or their Liberty University webmail account. Students pursuing a certificate may not pursue more than one certificate at a time.
Students who wish to complete a bachelor’s degree with a double major (BS/BS or BSN/BSN) or two separate bachelor’s degrees (BFA and BS, BFA and BSN, or BS and BSN) must have at least 30 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree.

Students who wish to complete an associate’s degree with a double major (AA/AA) or two separate associate’s degrees (AA and AAS) must have at least 15 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree.

The General Education/Core Competency Requirements may be shared if they are the same. However, if any requirements are different, the student must fulfill the higher of the two requirements.

The requirements from one major may be used as electives for the second major, and vice versa. At least 50% of the course work in each major must be earned at Liberty University.

Returning to Liberty University for a Second Degree

Students with an associate’s degree who wish to pursue a second associate’s degree must successfully complete at least 15 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 15 unique hours within the core of the first or second degree. Note: The 15 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Students with a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue an associate’s degree must successfully complete at least 15 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 15 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree. Note: The 15 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Students with a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue another bachelor’s degree must successfully complete at least 30 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 30 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree. Note: The 30 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Duplicate Credit

In the event that a student earns credit for the same course more than one time, whether at Liberty, at another college, or through standardized testing, that course/credit may only count one time toward the completion of his/her degree. The only exception to this is if the course/credit is approved by the academic department or administration to be used more than one time toward a student’s degree/major, or if the course is an approved repeatable course.

Certificate to Another Certificate or Degree Seeking Program

Online certificate students who would like to either earn another certificate after completing one certificate or move onto a degree-seeking program upon completion of the certificate must contact Liberty University Online Admissions to apply for readmission to another certificate or degree-seeking program. All courses taken within the undergraduate certificate will transfer directly into the new undergraduate certificate or degree program, only if applicable. Students must have at least one outstanding course requirement for the new certificate in order to gain acceptance into that program. Completion of that requirement and all other certificate requirements must be successfully met before the new certificate is awarded.

If a student chooses not to finish the undergraduate certificate and switch to a degree-seeking program, a new application must be submitted and accepted in order to proceed to a degree-seeking program. Upon acceptance to the new program, the previously earned courses will only apply to that new program if the courses meet the grade and GPA requirements necessary for that certificate or degree program.

Certificate Completion Plan Audit

The Certificate Completion Plan Audit (found under Degree Completion Plan Audit via ASIST) provides real-time advice and counsel, making it possible for students to track progress towards certificate completion at their convenience. It also enables students to immediately view how their credits will apply towards a different program. PDF versions of all CCPs are available online at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=2981.

Degree Completion Plan (DCP) Audit

The Degree Completion Plan (DCP) Audit provides real-time advice, making it possible for students to track progress towards degree completion at their convenience. It also enables students to immediately view how their credits will apply towards a different degree program. PDF versions of all DCPs are available online at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=2981.

Military Degree Plans

Liberty University offers academic benefits on the Degree Completion Plan to undergraduate military students, including current service members, veterans with honorary/general discharge, and military spouses of service members or veterans. The academic benefits offered include:

• Up to 75% of degree requirements may be accepted as transfer credit
• A minimum of one course in the major is required to be taken at Liberty University
• No final year or final semester residency requirement

Students must verify their military status by submitting acceptable military documentation to the Office of Military Affairs to confirm eligibility for these benefits. Once approved, the degree requirements will be updated automatically on the Degree Completion Plan. Students may view their Degree Completion Plan Audit (DCPA) in ASIST.

Students using military Tuition Assistance (TA) may be required to submit an official signed degree plan to their Education Office to confirm course eligibility for TA funds. Students may request an official signed copy of the DCPA by emailing mildcp@liberty.edu. All official transcripts must be submitted and the student must be officially accepted to his/her degree program before this signed degree plan can be issued.

General Education Requirements for Out of State Students

In addition to Liberty University’s general education requirements, distance education students may also be required to fulfill additional requirements set by their home states. Specific Degree Completion Plans for each state whose requirements differ are available from Liberty University Online Advising. This does not apply for certificate seeking students.
Important Information Regarding Internships and Clinical Placements

Students who are pursuing degrees leading to application for professional licensure or certification, and/or who will be participating in clinical placements, internships, or practica through their Liberty University program should be aware that their host facility may require a criminal background check, fingerprinting, or drug screening. In such situations, each student is responsible for obtaining and paying for the background check or other screening process and for delivering required documentation to the facility. Although the university will make reasonable efforts to place admitted students in field experiences and internships, it will be up to the host facility to determine whether a student will be allowed to work at that facility.

Students should further be aware that a criminal record may jeopardize licensure by the State certification body. Students seeking licensure are urged to contact the relevant licensing agency to determine the licensing requirements for the jurisdiction. Successful completion of a program of study at Liberty University does not guarantee licensure, certification, or employment in the relevant occupation.

Minors

Students at Liberty University are not required to complete a minor. Those students in a bachelor’s program who wish to declare a minor, however, are encouraged to contact the Academic Advising Department to review the requirements for that minor. A minor on the student’s transcript indicates the completion of a block of courses that academic departments have specified as meeting the requirements of their minor.

Consequently, since the selection of a minor is not a graduation requirement for any major at Liberty, students may use courses required for any given major to also count toward a minor if such courses are required for the minor. Students must earn a “C” or higher in all upper level courses in their chosen minor. At least 50% of the course work must be earned at Liberty University. Minors are not applicable for associate level or certificate seeking students.

Class Cancellation Policy

From time to time, it may be necessary to cancel a class because of insufficient enrollment or other extenuating circumstances. The decision for such a cancellation is ultimately that of the Provost of the University. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Class+Cancellation.

Late Assignment Policy

If the student is unable to complete an assignment on time, then he or she must contact the instructor immediately by Liberty Webmail.

Assignments that are submitted after the due date without prior approval from the instructor will receive the following deductions:

1. Late assignments submitted within one week of the due date will receive a 10% deduction.
2. Assignments submitted more than one week late will receive a 20% deduction.
3. Assignments submitted two weeks late or after the final date of the class will not be accepted.
4. Late Discussion Board threads or replies will not be accepted. Special circumstances (e.g. death in the family, personal health issues) will be reviewed by the instructor on a case-by-case basis.

Course Audits

Students who wish to audit an online course may do so for a fee (see Expenses and Financial Policy – Online Program section). Audit fees are not covered in full-time tuition billing, and audited courses will not be used to determine full- or part-time status. Auditors will not be expected to take quizzes or examinations. A grade of AU will be recorded on the auditor’s permanent record.

Course audits may not be added via ASIST, but must be requested by emailing the Registrar’s Office at registrar@liberty.edu. Requests to audit a course will only be accepted during the registration timeframes before a term starts. Audit requests will be processed and added, pending availability. A student wishing to change from credit to audit status for a course may only do so until the last day of the registration deadline. Requests to change to or from audit status after the registration deadline will be denied.
Audited courses will not count toward graduation requirements.

Course Substitutions

A Course Substitution request may be made when a student wishes to substitute one course for another required course when a clear relationship exists between the two. This request may also be used when an academic department approves a complete replacement for a Liberty course requirement. Students requesting these exceptions must submit a "Course Substitution Request" through the Transfer Suite portal for review. Approval of the course substitution is under the oversight of the Registrar's Office and the academic department presiding over the required course. Please note that an approved substitution will apply toward the degree requirement(s), but will not change the course number on the student's transcript. Also, a lower-level course substituting for an upper-level requirement will not count toward the total number of upper-level hours required. Course substitutions are not applicable for certificate-seeking students. Changing programs or breaking enrollment may invalidate the request.

Dropping/Adding Courses

Online students may drop a course for a full refund, any time prior to the sub-term start date. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Dropping+and+Adding+Online+Classes.

Definition of Attendance

In an effort to comply with U.S. Department of Education policies, attendance is measured by any submission of a required assignment within the enrollment dates of the course (such as examinations, written papers or projects, any discussion board posts, etc.) or initiating any communication with one's professor regarding an academic subject. Attending is defined as completing an academically related activity which includes, but is not limited to:

- Physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students.
- Submitting a required academic assignment (in Blackboard or disparate system).
- Taking an exam.
- Taking a required interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction.
- Attending a study group that is assigned by the school.
- Participating in an online discussion about academic matters.
- Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

Beginning on the first day of the sub-term through the last day of the sub-term, students who have begun attending a course may withdraw with a grade of "W" and receive a pro-rated tuition credit based on the date of the withdrawal and attendance in the course.

Remember: Any change in status (e.g., from full-time to part-time, etc.) may cause the reduction or cancellation of your financial aid award. In other words, your out-of-pocket expenses may increase.

Liberty University Online Withdrawal

Online students withdrawing from the University must contact the Liberty University Online Academic Advising Department via the student's Liberty University webmail account or by phone to start the process. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/LUO+Official+Withdrawal.

Online Program Unofficial Withdrawals

In accordance with Title IV regulations which require that universities have a mechanism in place for determining whether or not a student who began a course and received or could have received a disbursement of Title IV funds unofficially withdrew, the University has established a procedure for students enrolled in courses. This procedure is used to determine if students are progressing toward the completion of their courses. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Unofficial+Withdrawals.

Unofficial Withdrawal for Non-Attendance Appeal Process

Students who receive a grade of 'FN' may appeal to their professor to have the grade removed to resume work in the course. All professors have the right to approve or deny FN appeals at their own discretion. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/FN+Appeal+Process.

Undergraduate Repeat Policy

The Liberty University Undergraduate Repeat Policy is designed to assist undergraduate students in raising their cumulative grade point average by repeating courses in which they previously performed unsatisfactorily and by removing the previous grade from the GPA calculation. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy is applied for degree-seeking, special (aka non-degree-seeking), and certificate-seeking students.

Undergraduate students are subject to the following conditions:

1. When an undergraduate course is successfully repeated¹, the Undergraduate Repeat Policy will automatically be applied, all earned grades will remain visible on the student's permanent record, and the highest grade earned will be the only grade to count toward the student's GPA. The Registrar's Office will automatically apply the Undergraduate Repeat Policy at the end of each semester², including the summer semester, to all eligible courses.

2. On the student's transcript, the letter "E" will follow the lower grade(s) to indicate that the grade has been "excluded" from the GPA. The letter "I" will follow the higher grade to indicate that the grade has been "included" in the student's GPA. The grades which have been excluded from the GPA calculation will not count toward GPA hours or hours earned, but will remain on the student's record as attempted hours. Consultation by the student with the Financial Aid office may be needed to determine how the Repeat Policy will affect the student's Satisfactory Academic Progress.

3. There is no limit on the number of different courses or retakes in which the Undergraduate Repeat Policy may be applied. However, there may be a limited number of times that Federal Financial Aid will pay for a course taken and passed (grade of "D" or higher). It would be wise to consult with a Financial Aid counselor if there are any questions about this.

4. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy will only be used on Liberty University courses that have been repeated at Liberty University. No transfer credit or credit earned through institutional or standardized testing may be used in the Undergraduate Repeat Policy.

5. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy will only be applied when the same course number/title is retaken, unless there has been a university... approved course number/title change and the department confirms that the courses are the same. Course replacements/substitutions are not eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy.

6. Undergraduate courses in which a grade of B, C, D, F, or FN was awarded are eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy. Courses which are not eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy are: pass/fail courses, zero-credit courses, CSERs, and courses with grades of AU (audit), I, M, O, R, W, WF, X, and Z, or those courses failed due to academic dishonesty. Also, courses that are designed as repeatable courses within certain majors will not have the Undergraduate Repeat Policy applied automatically.

7. Activation of the Undergraduate Repeat Policy for a prior semester will not affect the academic standing or dean’s list award for that semester. Academic standing or dean’s list in a prior semester can only be changed as a result of an approved grade change.

8. Once a student has graduated, the Undergraduate Repeat Policy may not be used on a course taken prior to graduation to enhance the cumulative GPA which was recorded at the time of degree conferral. The repeat of a class after graduation could, however, be used to enhance the students overall undergraduate GPA at Liberty.

1. Final grade has been earned and posted
2. Including sub-terms

Break in Enrollment
A break in enrollment occurs when a student has not actively taken a class within one full academic year. The academic year begins with start of the fall semester and ends with the conclusion of the summer term.

Students who break enrollment will be required to follow the degree requirements in effect at the time of re-entry to the University.

Any military students wishing to be readmitted who broke enrollment due to deployment must contact the Office of Military Affairs.

Academic Standing

Warning/Probation/Suspension/Dismissal
Students must maintain satisfactory standing in order to remain at Liberty. Satisfactory academic standing for students enrolled in an undergraduate program is:

Academic Standing for Liberty University Online students is calculated at the end of the Fall and Spring term, or upon completion of all courses within those terms, and is based on the student’s cumulative GPA. At the discretion of the Registrar’s Office, a student may have his/her standing updated to good standing after completion of all courses in the Summer term. Please refer to the end of this sub-section for a chart listing the cumulative GPA’s required for good academic standing for all current degree programs.

Academic Warning
Liberty University Online students failing to attain and maintain the minimum GPA required are placed on Academic Warning. During the next term, these students should plan to limit enrollment to a 13-semester-hour course load and may be required to take CLST 100 Foundations for Academic Success (3 c.h.) or CLST 101 College Learning Strategies (1 c.h.).

Academic Probation
At the end of the term on Academic Warning, Liberty University Online students who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to the required academic level (see above) are placed on Academic Probation. During the next term of attendance, these students should plan to limit enrollment to a 13-semester-hour course load and may be required to take CLST 100 Foundations for Academic Success (3 c.h.) or CLST 101 College Learning Strategies (1 c.h.).

Additionally, students who are enrolled full-time and fail all courses will be placed on Academic Probation, unless they were previously on Academic Probation or Academic Suspension. Students who are enrolled fulltime and fail all courses while on Academic Probation or Probation will progress to the next academic standing level.

Academic Suspension
At the end of the term on Academic Probation, Liberty University Online students who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to the required academic level (see above) are placed on Academic Suspension. Students who desire to return to Liberty in the future must appeal to the Registrar’s Office in writing through the designated portal.

The Registrar’s Office will review the appeal, and if it is approved, an Academic Contract will be formulated. The student must agree in writing to abide by the terms of the contract before being permitted to register for courses. If a student is a re-applicant to Liberty University Online, the student must agree in writing to abide by the terms of the contract prior to being approved for re-admission.

If a student is denied to return under a contract, he/she will not be permitted to submit a new appeal unless he/she has been away from Liberty for a minimum of two academic years.

Students who are enrolled for 12 or more hours and fail all courses will be Academically Suspended.

Academic Dismissal
Liberty University Online students who are permitted to take classes while Academically Suspended and who fail to raise the GPA to the required academic level (see above) by the end of the term or fail to meet the terms of their Academic Contract will be Academically Dismissed, and will not be allowed to appeal to return to Liberty until a period of at least two academic years has passed.

Academic Amnesty
Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be granted by the Office of the Online Provost. To qualify for academic amnesty, a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University, as well as must satisfy the subsequent guidelines for readmission.

1. Not enrolled at the University for a period of two (2) years. For example, if the student’s last enrollment was in the Fall 2018 term, he/she would not be eligible to appeal for Academic Amnesty until after the Fall 2020 term.
2. A student seeking readmission under academic amnesty must first appeal in writing to the Registrar’s Office through the designated portal. The request must be stated clearly and contain:
a. the reason for the request, and
b. efforts made to improve during absence from Liberty.
3. Corroboration may be requested of the student (e.g., transcripts from other institutions, certificates, awards, etc.).
4. Students who were Academically Dismissed because of academic dishonesty are not eligible for Academic Amnesty.

The Registrar’s Office, upon reviewing the written appeal, must receive approval from Community Life, Student Financial Services, and the Office of the Online Provost before readmission will be granted.

If approved for Academic Amnesty, the student will be readmitted under the following provisions:

1. Previously earned grades of “A,” “B,” and “C” will remain on the student’s record and will calculate into his or her GPA. As determined by the Office of the Online Provost, grades of “D” and “F” are revised to “Q.”
2. Students who have been granted Academic Amnesty are not eligible for graduation honors.
3. If any prior certificate or degree has been awarded through Liberty University, grades earned during that time cannot be excluded when Academic Amnesty is applied. All grades earned toward a previously awarded certificate or conferred degree will remain on the student’s transcript.
4. All previously assigned academic standings will not change and will remain part of the student’s academic records for the respective terms for which they were earned.
5. If, after the first term of enrollment following readmission under Academic Amnesty, the student’s cumulative GPA falls below the minimum cumulative GPA required for good academic standing, the student will be Academically Dismissed, and will not be permitted to submit any further appeals for permission to continue his/her studies through Liberty University.

Liberty University Online Code of Honor
Certificate, Undergraduate, and Graduate Students

Academic and Personal Code of Honor
Liberty University comprises a network of students, Alumni, faculty, staff and supporters that together form a Christian community based upon the truth of the Bible. This truth defines our foundational principles, from our Doctrinal Statement to the Code of Honor. These principles irrevocably align Liberty University’s operational procedures with the long tradition of university culture, which remains distinctively Christian, designed to preserve and advance truth. Our desire is to create a safe, comfortable environment within our community of learning, and we extend our academic and spiritual resources to all of our students with the goal of fostering academic maturity, spiritual growth and character development.

Communities are predicated on shared values and goals. The Code of Honor, an expression of the values from which our Doctrinal Statement was born, defines the fundamental principles by which our community exists. At the core of this code lie two essential concepts: a belief in the significance of all individuals, and a reliance on the existence of objective truth.

While we acknowledge that some may disagree with various elements of the Code of Honor, we maintain the expectation that our students will commit to respect and uphold the Code while enrolled at Liberty University. Adherence to the principles and concepts established within facilitates the success of our students and strengthens the Liberty community.

The Code of Honor can be viewed in its entirety online at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=19155.

Incomplete
Students who are unable to complete coursework by the last day of class due to unavoidable circumstances such as personal illness/injury or family emergencies may appeal to their instructor for a temporary course grade of “I” (Incomplete). A grade of “I” may not be changed to a withdrawal if requested after the end of the course. The authority for the decision to grant an incomplete completely lies with the instructor. The reason for denying a student’s request for an incomplete may include, but is not limited to, the student’s inability to earn a passing grade with completion of the remaining requirements, as well as an insufficient reason for the request. Students must initiate the request for an incomplete directly to the instructor by the last day of class (before the final exam period for residential classes).

The instructor will establish a new deadline for the completion of the remaining coursework, based on the circumstances. The instructor may grant up to two weeks beyond the last day of the term (or sub-term for Liberty University Online courses) for non-medical circumstances and up to four weeks beyond the last day of the term (or sub-term for Liberty University Online courses) for personal medical circumstances.

For extreme personal medical circumstances, a maximum of eight weeks for Liberty University Online courses and 16 weeks for residential courses may be given as long as sufficient medical documentation (from a medical professional) is presented along with the request. However, while the decision to grant an extended incomplete remains with the instructor, the request and medical documentation needs to be submitted to the Registrar’s Office. The instructor will be responsible to communicate the remaining requirements, as well as the extended deadline, to the student.

The instructor will post a final grade within two weeks from the deadline established for the incomplete. If a final grade is not posted within two weeks of the deadline, a grade of “F” may be posted by the registrar’s office.

The GPA is unaffected by the incomplete until a final grade is posted after the deadline. However, grades of “I” will count as hours attempted and not completed, and will negatively affect a student’s Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP).

Military Deployment
Liberty University understands the demands placed on today’s service member and we are willing to work with our students when their military duty causes delays in their academic progress. According to military policy for Tuition Assistance, the University must post grades within 30-days of the end date of the course. If a military student needs additional time to complete their course requirements due to deployments, extended cruises, unit operational tempo, or other duty-related extenuating circumstances, they have two options:

1. They may contact their professor and request up to an additional 3 weeks to complete the requirements.
2. Should they need more time, they can request a military withdrawal.

Military students must notify their Military Education Office of a course Incomplete if they are receiving Tuition Assistance. Incomplete requests
Grading Policies and Procedures

Liberty University Faculty members, both residential and online, must submit final grades for all students to the Registrar at the end of each term. Faculty teaching online courses should have grades submitted to the Registrar on or before the second Wednesday after the course ends. Faculty teaching residential courses should have grades submitted to the Registrar one week after the end of each semester. Liberty University Faculty members, both residential and online, are urged to promptly complete and submit final course grades. Confidentiality of student grades falls under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974. Please see the FERPA (p. 31) section and policies for more information.

Grading Scales

Liberty University incorporates a standardized 1,000 point system across all undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs. The undergraduate programs utilize a 100 point scale, and the graduate and doctoral programs utilize an 80 point scale to differentiate between letter grades. The grading scale will be posted within the syllabus for each course. Students are encouraged to review the syllabus for each course individually to verify the grade scale.

Recording of Grades

All grades will be recorded in the Registrar’s Office as reported by the instructors in charge of the various courses. Requests for grade changes may be submitted in writing only by the instructor.

Any extra credit assignments that are a part of the instructor’s syllabus must be completed prior to the final exam for the course. A student may not submit assignments for extra credit after the semester has ended and a final exam has been given.

Liberty University Online Grade Appeals

Liberty encourages students to have open and respectful communication with their professor to resolve any concerns regarding individual course assignment grades and/or the final grade for the course.

Criteria for Appeal

Only final posted grades may be appealed beyond the professor. Please click here to access the grade appeal form. To access the form, you will need to login using your Liberty username and password.

Appeals are accepted only when the grade assigned conflicts with:

- The published grading rubrics for the course assignments
- Written communication (e.g., email, announcements, etc.)
- Calculation error on an assignment (resulting in a change to the final grade)

Appeals, other than those mentioned above, will not be reviewed. The student must provide written documentation that demonstrates the occurrence of one or more of the above grounds for appeal. Documentation may be in the form of email correspondence, graded assignments, proof of timely submission, etc. After submitting the appeal, if additional information is needed, the student will be notified via their Liberty Webmail.

Appeal Process

A student wishing to appeal a final grade should first appeal to their professor and seek to resolve the situation with them. If the student wishes to appeal further they must follow the process outlined below:

1. Within 30 calendar days of the end of the sub-term, the student may submit a written appeal to the Online Chair, but should do so through the grade appeal form. The student must include the information required above. The Professor will also be notified of the appeal and will be able to provide pertinent documentation, prior to the Online Chair rendering their decision. The Online Chair will have 7 days to review the appeal, from the time of submission. When the review is complete, the student will be notified of the decision via their Liberty Webmail and the appeal portal.

2. If the student has additional support for their appeal, the student may re-appeal to the Online Associate Dean through the appeal portal after receiving the decision of the Online Chair. This written appeal must be submitted within 5 business days of the Online Chair’s decision. The Online Associate Dean will review the student’s appeal, as well as any information provided by the faculty member. The Online Associate Dean will have 7 days to review the appeal, from the time of submission. When the review is complete, the student will be notified of the decision via their Liberty Webmail and the appeal portal.

3. If the student has additional support for their appeal, the student may re-appeal to the Academic Dean, through the appeal portal after receiving the decision of the Online Associate Dean. This written appeal must be submitted within 5 business days of the Online Associate Dean’s decision. The Academic Dean will review the student’s appeal, as well as any information provided by the faculty member. The Academic Dean will have 7 days to review the appeal, from the time of submission. When the review is complete, the student will be notified of the decision via their Liberty Webmail and the appeal portal. The Academic Dean’s decision is final.

Academic Transcripts

Official transcripts are made only at the written, signed request of the student. No transcript will be issued for anyone who has failed to meet all financial obligations to the University. Official transcripts are not released directly to the student. Requests for transcripts are to be made directly to the Registrar’s Office. There is a $10.00 fee for one transcript. Additional transcript requests made at the same time are $1.00 each.

FERPA - Privacy of Student Records: Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

Students attending, or who have attended, Liberty University are given certain rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (20 U.S.C. 1232g) and Rules of the of Education (34 C.F.R. Part 99) implementing this Act. Additional information and University policies regarding the protection of student records are published online at http://www.liberty.edu/ferpa.

Graduation Honors

Honors for graduation will be determined by the cumulative grade point average earned at Liberty. Cumulative GPA is calculated to the hundredths place and is not rounded. Bachelor’s degree students who have earned 60 or more hours at Liberty must meet the following GPA standards to earn the corresponding academic distinction:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>GPA</th>
<th>Distinction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.50 - 3.66</td>
<td>magna cum laude</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.67 - 3.84</td>
<td>cum laude</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.85 and above</td>
<td>summa cum laude</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Bachelor degree students who have earned less than 60 hours at Liberty must meet the following GPA standards:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>GPA</th>
<th>Distinction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.60 - 3.76</td>
<td>magna cum laude</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.77 - 3.94</td>
<td>summa cum laude</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.95 and above</td>
<td>summa cum laude</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The specific honor calculated on or around April 1 of the student’s graduation year will be printed in the Commencement program, and the student will wear that particular honor cord. The final cumulative GPA will be determined after all grades have been recorded and that final cumulative GPA will determine the specific honor that will be printed on the diploma and transcript.

Graduation Approval

All candidates for graduation must be approved by the Faculty and the Board of Trustees.

Graduation Ceremony

Degrees are granted throughout the academic school year. All candidates for degrees may participate in the annual graduation exercises which take place in May.

Time Limits for Degree Completion

Students pursuing a certificate must complete the certificate requirements within three (3) years of the date of matriculation.
Students pursuing an associate’s degree must complete the degree requirements within seven (7) years of the date of matriculation.

Students pursuing a bachelor’s degree must complete the degree requirement within ten (10) years of the date of matriculation.

Any student who does not complete coursework within the permissible time limit for any reason, including discontinued enrollment, must reaply for readmission and will be subject to the requirements of the Catalog and Degree/Certificate Completion Plan (DCP/CCP) in effect at the time of his/her readmission.

A break in enrollment occurs when the student fails to enroll in at least one course during an academic year. The academic year begins with the start of the fall semester and ends with the conclusion of the summer term. Students who break enrollment must apply for readmission and will be subject to the requirements of the Catalog and degree requirements in effect at the time of their readmission.

Semester Credit System

The University operates on the semester system. The unit for counting credit is the semester hour. A semester hour of credit consists of the equivalent of one 50-minute period of class work for fifteen weeks, with an assumption of two hours of outside preparation or two 50-minute periods of laboratory work for each semester hour. Online courses are equivalent to the number of classroom contact hours (750 minutes per credit hour) expected in a synchronous residential course.

Part Time vs. Full Time

To qualify as a full-time undergraduate student, you must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 credit hours. A student is considered part-time student when enrolled in 11 credit hours or less.

Semester Load and Overload

To ensure students are successful in their academic endeavors, the University has placed a limit on the maximum number of semester hours students are able to take. Residential undergraduate students are considered to be full-time with a semester load of 12 or more semester hours.

Residential undergraduate students have a maximum semester limit of 18 hours. Students must seek permission to take more than the maximum hours in a semester and will be required to pay additional tuition for each credit hour they take over the maximum semester limit. Students may review potential overload charges by accessing this chart in the Academic Catalog or by contacting Student Financial Services to confirm the exact charges.

Residential undergraduate students must have a Liberty University cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above to be eligible for overload up to 21 credit hours, and a GPA of 3.5 or above to be eligible for overload up to 24 credit hours. Certain degree programs may require a higher Liberty University cumulative GPA for approval.

Due to financial aid regulations, if residential undergraduate students use their semester overload to take courses outside their degree completion plan requirements, they should be advised that this could cause issues with their financial aid. Students can check to see whether the course is required for their degree by reviewing the Degree Completion Plan Audit or by contacting their Undergraduate Academic Evaluator to confirm.

Residential undergraduate students who want to request overload must secure permission from the Registrar’s Office and may seek this approval by submitting a request at www.liberty.edu/overload.

Enrollment Verification

A student is enrolled when they are registered for a course and have attended the course and/or completed academic work for the course after its start date. For enrollment verification purposes, the University policy can be viewed at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Enrollment+Verification.

Certificate Enrolled Students

Certificate students are required to abide by some of the same policies as Undergraduate degree seeking students. These policies include: academic standing, change of major, course registration, class attendance, drop and withdrawal processes, Repeat Policy, broken enrollment, academic and personal codes of honor, incompletes, recording of grades and the grade appeal process, FERPA, and Academic Transcript processes. Those policies that do not pertain to the certificate seeking student will be noted in the following sections.

1 “R” is no longer an active option for a grade. Please see the Undergraduate Repeat Policy section for the current policy.

A student’s cumulative GPA comprises all coursework completed at the current academic level (Undergraduate, Graduate, Doctoral, etc.) regardless of prior degree conferral, broken enrollment or a program/major change. To determine the grade point average (GPA), the quality points earned are divided by the semester hours attempted (quality hours). Only courses taken at Liberty are used in computing the GPA. Only grades of A, B, C, D, F, and FN are used in the calculation of the GPA. Cumulative GPA is calculated to the hundredths place, and is not rounded.

Dean's List
Undergraduate students who earn 12 or more GPA hours in the fall or spring semester with a GPA of 3.50 or above are placed on the Dean’s List. The Dean’s list is not awarded for the summer term. This does not apply for certificate level students.

Advisors
First-year and Second-year students have access to personalized advising through their assigned Professional Advisor, based on the student’s academic area of study. All Undeclared majors are required to meet with Career Counselors in the Liberty University Career Center. Juniors and Seniors will meet with faculty, as needed, in the Academic Department that corresponds with their major. Both Professional Advisors and Faculty will assist students with reaching their spiritual, academic, and personal goals. For additional information, visit www.liberty.edu/advising.

Assessments
Placement into English and Math courses are based on a combination of scores including required Math / English assessments for all new resident students, first-time college students, and college transfer students that did not transfer in the Math or English course needed for their specific major. A fee is charged only for the information technology and information literacy assessment.

Course Planning
A course planning schedule is provided in order for students to plan their classes for upcoming semesters. The planning schedule presents every class offered and the terms where it is scheduled to be taught. This schedule is sorted alphabetically by class. The course planning schedule is available at: https://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=23103.

Transfer of Credits
Normally courses and degrees from regionally accredited institutions or those nationally accredited by accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (e.g., SACSCOC, TRACS, ABHE, etc.) will be evaluated for transfer of credit. However, on a limited basis Liberty does accept transfer credit via experiential learning, advanced placement and professional certificates from unaccredited institutions under certain terms and conditions established by Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards. Credit earned through this process will not be counted toward the required minimum of 50% of the major and minimum of 25% of the credit hours that must be completed through Liberty University for a bachelor’s degree. Also, credit earned through the portfolio process or professional certificate evaluation cannot exceed 30 credit hours. Applicants must request that official transcripts be sent directly from the Registrar(s) of the previous school(s) to the Registrar’s Office at Liberty University. These transcripts must be received before an admission decision will be made.

Credit will be accepted for those courses that are undergraduate level in which applicants have made a grade of C- or better. Transfer credit will be awarded grades of P and will not be used in computing the Liberty GPA. Transcripts are evaluated under the guidelines established by the Senate Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards. Internships, capstone courses, special topics, remedial courses, workshops, seminars, independent studies, and varsity courses are not transferable. Students may appeal their transfer evaluation with a course description or course syllabus and Transfer Inquiry Form.

In order to receive direct credit for a course, the description must overlap the Liberty University course content at least 60%. Courses that do not match a Liberty University course by at least 60% are eligible to transfer as elective credit where allowable. Elective credit is coded as 1XX – 4XX, depending on the level of the course.

At any point prior to degree conferral, students may petition to have courses that are listed as electives substitute for required courses by using the Course Substitution form. Additionally, duplicated or repeated institutional and/or transfer credit will only be counted once toward total earned credit hours, unless courses are deemed repeatable.

Transfer credit may not be used in Certificate programs to meet degree requirements.

International Transfer Credit

The evaluation of international transfer credit requires students to submit a translated official transcript. Course descriptions are typically required to determine direct transfer credit.

International transfer credit is accepted only from an institution recognized by the government of the country in which the institution is located.

Foreign students are encouraged and sometimes required to use foreign credential evaluation services such as World Education Services (www.wes.org) to have their transcripts validated and evaluated before sending them to Liberty University. A credential evaluation service must be a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (www.naces.org) before it can be accepted at Liberty University.

Credit By Examination

Liberty University offers students the opportunity to receive academic credit toward their undergraduate degrees through testing. Credit may be earned through the Advanced Placement, CLEP, ICE, DSST, Excelsior, and Federal Aviation Administration programs. For further details, please visit: https://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=30373.

For information on the CIE (University of Cambridge International Exams) policy please visit: http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=31875.

For information on the IB (International Baccalaureate) policy please visit: http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=26684.

Advanced Placement (AP)

Students who receive the required score on the College Board Advanced Placement examinations will be awarded academic credit toward an undergraduate degree. Credit will be awarded only in those areas applicable to the Liberty curriculum.

Aviation Testing

The School of Aeronautics Testing Center serves as a Federal Aviation Administration’s official Federal Aviation Testing Site for the Airman and A&P Knowledge Tests. All test candidates, not just students in the Liberty University Aviation program, are eligible to use the FAA aviation computer-based testing center. For scheduling please call (434) 582-2183.

Experiential Learning Credit

Credit may be granted to students who demonstrate that they have already acquired course knowledge through life experiences such as job training, non-college courses, etc., for the degree program in which they are enrolled.

There are some courses that will not be admitted, such as COMS 101 Speech Communication (3 c.h.), GOVT 200 Constitutional Government and Free Enterprise (3 c.h.), internship courses, capstone courses, as well as other courses not approved by academic departments. Please note that submission of documentation for life experience or submission of a portfolio does not guarantee that credit will be awarded.

A separate portfolio for each course petitioned is required. An administrative fee of $100 will be charged for each portfolio submitted for assessment. Please note that credit earned through the portfolio process, certificates of completion, and/or training documentation will be limited to a combined maximum of 30 hours.

Each portfolio must define learning in terms of college-level competencies for specific course credit. All documentation submitted in portfolios will remain in the student’s personal file at the University.

Students may submit portfolios and/or experiential-learning documentation no later than the semester before they are to graduate. Credit earned through this process is considered transfer credit will not be counted toward the required minimum number of credit hours that must be completed through Liberty University. Further information may be found online at http://www.liberty.edu/online/experienceplus/.

Institutional Challenge Examinations (ICE)

ICE are available to students with a satisfactory justification of previous knowledge in a subject area based upon a non-college training program, job, or self-learning. Through ICE, students have the opportunity to earn credit toward their chosen degree program. For more information about ICE, including courses that may be challenged, and to complete the ICE Request Form, visit http://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=37838.

Military Evaluations

Liberty University will evaluate a student's prior military experience and develop a degree plan for the student to follow. Evaluations will be based solely upon the recommendations of the American Council of Education (ACE) guidebook, Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Students will generally find that the Interdisciplinary Studies major offer through Liberty University Online maximizes the use of their existing credits.

Credit for Seminars

As part of the “action-oriented” curriculum at Liberty, certain seminars and travel opportunities are offered for academic credit. Students who wish to obtain credit for such activities must receive prior approval from the Registrar.

Coursework At Other Institutions While Enrolled At Liberty

Prior to registering for any course at another institution, students must submit a Future Course Request Form to guarantee transferability. The online form can be found on the Registrar’s Office webpage at https://apex.liberty.edu/apex/banprd/f?p=189:1:104591628190395.

Declaration Of Undergraduate Major

Students may declare their major at any time prior to the completion of 60 semester hours. They must declare a major by the time they complete 60 semester hours of undergraduate credit. Declaration of a major does not imply the ability to pursue programs such as Athletic Training, Cinematic Arts, Individualized Studies, Interdisciplinary Studies, Nursing, or teacher licensure. Such programs have specific requirements before acceptance is granted.

A student’s computer competency must be demonstrated within the first 45 hours of a student’s program. Transfer students must complete this within their first year at Liberty.

Acceptance into a major does not constitute acceptance into the Teacher Licensure Program.

Change Of Major

Major changes become effective for the semester following their request. The process for changing/declaring a major can be found by visiting the Registrar’s Office, accessing http://www.liberty.edu/registrar, or by calling (434) 592-5100. All requests for a change of major will be processed by the Registrar’s Office upon receipt, and will be effective the following full term of enrollment.

Double Majors

Students pursuing an associate’s or bachelor’s degree who wish to complete a double major or two separate degrees should email their academic evaluator in the Registrar’s Office.

Students pursuing a certificate may not pursue more than one certificate at the same time.

Students who wish to complete a bachelor’s degree with a double major (BA/BA, BFA/BFA, BM/BM, BS/BS or BSN/BSN) or two separate bachelor’s degrees (any two-degree combination of BA, BFA, BM, BS or BSN) must have at least 30 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree.

Students who wish to complete an associate’s degree with a double major (AA/AA) or two separate associate’s degrees (AA and AAS) must have at least 15 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree.

The General Education/Core Competency Requirements may be shared if they are the same. However, if any requirements are different, the student must fulfill the higher of the two requirements.

The requirements from one major may be used as electives for the second major, and vice versa. At least 50% of the course work for each major must be earned at Liberty University.

Returning To Liberty University For A Second Degree

Students with an associate’s degree who wish to pursue a second associate’s degree must successfully complete at least 15 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 15 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree. Note: The 15 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Students with a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue an associate’s degree must successfully complete at least 15 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 15 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree. Note: The 15 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Students with a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue a second bachelor’s degree must successfully complete at least 30 additional hours through Liberty University, and there must be at least 30 unique hours within the major of the first or second degree. Note: The 30 additional hours may also count toward the unique hours.

Duplicate Credit

In the event that a student earns credit for the same course more than one time, whether at Liberty, at another college, or through standardized testing, that course/credit may only count one time toward the completion of his/her degree. The only exception to this would be if the course/credit is approved by the academic department or administration to be used more than one time toward a student's degree/major.

Intercollegiate Athletic Credit

Students who are members of Liberty Intercollegiate Athletic teams may earn one hour of academic credit for a completed season. Such credit may not be used more than one time for each sport in which the student participates. This credit is not intended for transfer.

Certificate Completion Plan Audit

The Certificate Completion Plan Audit (found under Degree Completion Plan Audit via ASIST) provides real-time advice and counsel, making it possible for students to track progress towards certificate completion at their convenience. It also enables students to immediately view how their credits will apply towards a different program. PDF versions of all CCPs are available online at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=2981.

Degree Completion Plans

Once a student has declared his or her major through the registrar’s office, a Degree Completion Plan (DCP) may be retrieved at http://www.liberty.edu/dcps. The student is required to follow the DCP for the academic year in which the declaration becomes effective.

Grades of “D” are not acceptable in upper-level (300-400) courses within the student’s major. For certain majors, a grade of “D” is not acceptable in upper- and lower-level courses within the major.

If a major includes directed electives or support courses, it is possible to use them to also meet a general education requirement, an integrative course requirement, or a minor requirement. Courses cannot fulfill both a major requirement and a general education or integrative requirement.

A student with an already completed bachelor’s degree must take an additional 30 hours or more in order to earn a second bachelor’s degree at Liberty, in conjunction with completing all requirements unique to that degree. The same rule applies to those students who have completed a degree at another accredited institution. Courses may transfer to Liberty from a completed undergraduate degree, but only courses that apply directly to the degree being pursued.

Degree Completion Plan (DCP) Audit

The Degree Completion Plan (DCP) Audit provides real-time advice and counsel, making it possible for students to track progress towards degree completion at their convenience. It also enables students to immediately see how their credits will apply towards a different degree program.

Course Sequencing

Suggested course sequences for resident undergraduate degree programs are available inside the Degree Completion Plan.

Important Information Regarding Internships And Clinical Placements

Students who are pursuing degrees leading to application for professional licensure or certification, and/or who will be participating in clinical placements, internships, or practica through their Liberty University program should be aware that their host facility may require a criminal background check, finger printing, or drug screening. In such situations, each student is responsible for obtaining and paying for the background check or other screening process and for delivering required documentation to the facility. Although the university will make reasonable efforts to place admitted students in field experiences and internship, it will be up to the host facility to determine whether a student will be allowed to work at that facility.

Students should further be aware that a criminal record may jeopardize licensure by the State certification body. Students seeking licensure are urged to contact the relevant licensing agency to determine the licensing requirements for the jurisdiction. Successful completion of a program of study at Liberty University does not guarantee licensure, certification, or employment in the relevant occupation.

Minors
Students at Liberty University are not required to complete a minor. Those who wish to declare a minor, however, are encouraged to meet with their professional advisor to review the requirements for that minor. A minor on the student's transcript indicates the completion of a block of courses that academic departments have specified as meeting the requirements of their minor.

Consequently, since the selection of a minor is not a graduation requirement for any major at Liberty, students may use courses required for any given major to also count toward a minor if such courses are required for the minor. Students must earn a “C” or higher in all upper level courses in their chosen minor. At least 50% of the course work must be earned at Liberty University. Minors are not applicable for associate level or certificate seeking students.

Requests to add or remove a minor will be processed by the Registrar's Office upon receipt, and will be effective the following full term of enrollment.

Special Student Registration
1. Prospective students must apply as a Special Student and receive confirmation of acceptance.
2. Special Students may not accumulate more than 12 credit hours under this status.
3. Special students will follow the same registration rules and procedures as degree-seeking students.
4. Students who have been Academically Dismissed are not eligible to return to Liberty under the Special Student category.

Priority Registration For Military Students
All residential students who have verified their status as a current military service member or veteran will be assigned a unique PIN number before registration opens each semester. The PIN will be emailed to students and allow access to course registration on the early registration date associated with Special Groups. More information about the specific dates in the registration schedule will be posted on the Registrar’s Course Registration web page each semester.

Class Attendance Policy
For the good of the Liberty University student body, a consistent attendance policy is needed so that all students in all majors will understand the expectations of faculty in all their courses. In general, regular and punctual attendance in all classes is expected of all students. Though at times, students will miss classes. Absences for 100-200 level course fall into two categories:

1. University Approved Absences
   a. University Approved Absences include Liberty University sponsored events, athletic competition, and other Provost approved absences.
   b. The student must provide written documentation in advance for University Approved Absences.
   c. Work missed for University approved absences may be made up.

2. Student Elective Absences
   a. Student Elective Absences include, but are not limited to, illness and bereavement.
   b. Work missed for Student Elective Absences may be made up at the discretion of the faculty member. Questions regarding missed work for Student Elective Absences must be addressed by the student with the professor within one week of returning to class. In cases where this is not possible, the student must notify the Professor in writing of the circumstances impacting his or her absence. The student may appeal the Professor’s decision in writing to the respective Chair within one week. Final appeals may be made to the Dean in writing within one week of the Chair’s decision and the Dean’s decision is final.
   c. When circumstances result in excessive absences (e.g., serious medical illness, family crisis), upon return to campus, the student shall communicate in writing with the Registrar’s Office (Registrar@liberty.edu) and provide an explanation of his or her situation with appropriate documentation. The Registrar will consult with the faculty member before making the final decision and will notify, in writing, the student and the faculty member.
   d. Students who are more than 10 minutes late for class are considered absent.
   e. Students who are late for class 10 minutes or less are considered tardy but present for the class. If a student misses in-class work due to tardiness, the faculty member may choose not to allow the student to make up this work. Three class tardies will be counted as one absence.
   f. Number of Student Elective Absences Permitted:
      i. For classes that meet three times per week, the student will be permitted four elective absences per semester.
      ii. For classes that meet twice per week, the student will be permitted three elective absences per semester.
      iii. For classes that meet once per week, the student will be permitted one elective absence per semester.
   g. Penalties for each absence over the permitted number of elective absences per semester will be as follows:
      i. 50 points for classes that meet 3 times per week
      ii. 75 points for classes that meet 2 times per week
      iii. 100 points for classes that meet once per week

For the good of the Liberty University student body, a consistent attendance policy is needed so that all students in all majors will understand the expectations of faculty in all their courses. In general, regular and punctual attendance in all classes is expected of all students. Though at times, students will miss classes. Absences for 300-400 level course fall into two categories:

1. University Approved Absences
   a. University Approved Absences include Liberty University sponsored events, athletic competition, and other Provost approved absences.
b. The student must provide written documentation in advance for University Approved Absences.

c. Work missed for University approved absences may be made up.

2. Student Elective Absences

a. While the University believes that consistent attendance in all classes is the largest contributor to students earning good grades, the University Attendance Policy allows students in upper-level classes the opportunity to make their own decisions concerning attendance.

b. Work missed for Student Elective Absences may be made up at the discretion of the faculty member. Questions regarding missed work for Student Elective Absences must be addressed by the student with the professor within one week of returning to class. In cases where this is not possible, the student must notify the Professor in writing of the circumstances impacting his or her absence. The student may appeal the Professor’s decision in writing to the respective Chair within one week. Final appeals may be made to the Dean in writing within one week of the Chair’s decision and the Dean’s decision is final.

c. When circumstances result in excessive absences (e.g., serious medical illness, family crisis), upon return to campus the student shall communicate in writing with the Registrar’s Office (Registrar@liberty.edu (registrar@liberty.edu)) and provide an explanation of his or her situation with appropriate documentation. The Registrar will consult with the faculty member before making the final decision and will notify, in writing, the student and the faculty member.

The full policy and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Resident+Undergraduate+Class +Attendance+Policy.

Late Assignment Policy

Course assignment should be completed on time. If the student is unable to complete an assignment on time, then he or she must contact the instructor prior to the assignment due date.

The full policy and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Late+Assignments++Residential.

Class Cancellation Policy

From time to time, it may be necessary to cancel a class because of insufficient enrollment or other extenuating circumstances. The decision for such a cancellation is ultimately that of the Provost of the University. The full policy and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/Class+Cancellation.

Independent Study

Students may request to do an independent study project in a major field or related discipline. This option is limited to graduating seniors, students who have changed majors and have no other course of action, and students who may have approved extenuating circumstances. Permission for the independent study will be granted only upon approval by the Department Chair, the Dean/Administrative Dean of the School, the Vice Provost, and the Registrar. Forms are available in the Registrar’s Office and on the Registrar’s webpage.

Course Audits

Students who wish to audit a residential course may do so for a fee (see Expenses and Financial Policy – Resident Program section). Audit fees are not covered in full-time tuition billing, and audited courses will not be used to determine full- or part-time status. Auditors will not be expected to take quizzes or examinations. A grade of AU will be recorded on the auditor’s permanent record.

Course audits may not be added via ASIST, but must be requested in person at the Registrar’s Office. Requests to audit a course will only be accepted during add/drop week (or the week before the start of a summer term for summer courses). Audit requests will be processed and added on the last day of the add/drop period, pending seat availability. A student wishing to change from credit to audit status for a course may only do so until the last day of the add/drop period. Requests to change to or from audit status after the add/drop period will be denied.

Lecture-only courses may be audited. Courses considered lecture/lab, labs, private instruction, etc. may not be audited. Audited courses will not count toward graduation requirements.

Course Substitutions

A Course Substitution request may be made when a student wishes to substitute one course for another required course when a clear relationship exists between the two. This form may also be used when an academic department approves a complete replacement for a Liberty course requirement. Students requesting these exceptions must complete a “Course Substitution Request” through the Transfer Suite portal for review. Approval of the course substitution is under the oversight of the Registrar’s Office and the academic department presiding over the required course. Please note that an approved substitution will apply toward the degree requirement(s), but will not change the course number on the student’s transcript. Also, a lower-level course substituting for an upper-level requirement will not count toward the total number of upper-level hours required. Course substitutions are not applicable for certificate-seeking students. Changing programs or breaking enrollment may invalidate the request.

Dropping/adding/withdrawing From Courses

Changes are discouraged after a student and advisor have arranged the student’s schedule for the semester.

A Fall/Spring course may be dropped up to and during Drop/Add Week. From the sixth day of the semester until around the 12th week of class (see academic calendar for exact date), a normal Fall/Spring course may be withdrawn with a grade of “W.” Courses with an early or non-traditional end date may be withdrawn up until the last day of class.

“W” grades are not used in calculating a GPA. Course withdrawals with grades of “W” are used in determining a student’s academic load for the semester, upon which tuition charges are based. The student will be responsible for the tuition and fees for the course.

No course can be added after the first week of classes without signed approval from the course instructor and the Registrar’s Office.

Exceptions to these deadlines may be granted by the Registrar in unusual circumstances, such as extreme illness or other circumstances beyond the student’s control. If a student is unable to withdraw for a specific reason (e.g., death, incapacitation, incarceration, hospitalization, etc.) an administrative grade change to “W” may be approved by the Registrar’s Office.

No course is considered officially added or dropped until the add/drop form is submitted to the Registrar’s Office and processed. This form may require the written approval of the instructor of the course.
Note:

- A student may not withdraw from or drop MENT 100 Foundations for Academic Success (3 c.h.) and MENT 101 Mentoring for University Transition (1 c.h.), ASCS 101 Theory for Academic Success (1 c.h.), ASCS 103 Practical Application for Academic Success (1 c.h.) or ASCS 105 Accountability for Academic Success (1 c.h.) without permission from the department chair for Success Studies in the Academic Success Center.

- A student may not withdraw from or drop RLGN 105 Introduction to Biblical Worldview (2 c.h.) without the permission of the Christian/Community Service Office.

Students who do not attend their intensive(s), will be dropped from the course roster. An intensive may be dropped without a grade or a tuition charge prior to the start date of the course. Class attendance is defined, but is not limited to, any required submission to Blackboard, any required submission outside of Blackboard, initiating any communication with the professor regarding an academic subject, or physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students within the enrollment dates of the course. If the student has attended, he or she must withdraw from the intensive(s) and will be liable for tuition and fees. Please note that while students are given access to their courses in advance of the start date to allow for an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the course, assignments will not be accepted until the start date of the course. Students should not submit any assignments until after the current sub-term begins.

Remember: Any change in status (e.g., from full-time to part-time, etc.) may cause the reduction or cancellation of your financial aid award. In other words, your out-of-pocket expenses may increase.

Resident Students Taking Online Classes
Resident students desiring to take an online course must enroll in the course during the prescribed Liberty University Online registration period. A cumulative Liberty GPA of 2.00 or higher is needed before a residential student may register for an online course. Note: Residential courses that are available to resident students as either a hybrid or in a strictly online format do not fall under these restrictions. Resident students taking online courses will be charged resident tuition.

Withdrawal from Liberty
Students withdrawing from the University during the semester must meet with a representative from the Student Advocate Office for exit counseling. As a part of this process, the student must also meet with a representative from the Financial Aid Office and the Student Accounts Office (if there is an outstanding balance on the student’s account), and will be required to submit a signed statement of withdrawal. The student’s official withdrawal date is the date they begin the withdrawal process by notifying a representative from the Student Advocate Office of his/her intent to withdraw.

Students withdrawing before the semester begins must only contact the Student Advocate Office in order to initiate the withdrawal process.

Any student who withdraws from the University during the first eight weeks of classes will receive a tuition refund. (See Expenses and Financial Policy Information: Official Withdrawal Policy section). This is in effect even if the student drops classes in such a way as to go below full-time status during add/drop week.

If a student withdraws from all classes in a term, the student has officially withdrawn from the University. Financial Aid Recipients are subject to the Title IV withdrawal calculation.

An expulsion resulting from violation of the disciplinary system will result in an administrative withdrawal. A grade of W will be recorded in all courses for which the individual is officially registered but has not yet completed.

A $50 fee will be charged for the processing of an official, unofficial, or administrative withdrawal. This fee will be deducted from any refund due on the student’s account or he/she will be responsible for payment of this fee.

Anyone who withdraws from the University is considered to be breaking enrollment. Students who break enrollment must apply for readmission and will be subject to the requirements of the catalog and degree requirements in effect at the time of his or her readmission.

A student may not withdraw after finals begin or final exam/paper has been submitted.

Unofficial Withdrawals
In accordance with Title IV regulations which require that universities have a mechanism in place for determining whether or not a student who began a course and received or could have received a disbursement of Title IV funds unofficially withdrew, the University has established a procedure for students enrolled in residential courses. This procedure is used to determine if students are progressing toward the completion of their courses. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/UnofficialWithdrawals.

Definition Of Attendance
Regular attendance in residential courses is expected throughout the length of the term. The U.S. Department of Education requires that every university monitor the attendance of their students. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/ResidentUndergraduate+Class+Attendance+Policy.

Unofficial Withdrawal for Non-Attendance Appeal Process
Students who receive a grade of ‘FN’ may appeal to their professor to have the grade removed to resume work in the course. All professors have the right to approve or deny FN appeals at their own discretion. The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/UnofficialWithdrawals.

Undergraduate Repeat Policy
The Liberty University Undergraduate Repeat Policy is designed to assist undergraduate students in raising their cumulative grade point average by repeating courses in which they previously performed unsatisfactorily and by removing the previous grade from the GPA calculation. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy is applied for degree-seeking, special (aka non-degree-seeking), and certificate-seeking students.

Undergraduate students are subject to the following conditions:

1. When an undergraduate course is successfully repeated, the Undergraduate Repeat Policy will be applied, all earned grades will remain visible on the student’s permanent record, and the highest grade earned will be the only grade to count toward the student’s GPA. The Registrar’s Office will automatically apply the Undergraduate Repeat Policy at the end of each semester, including the summer semester, to all eligible courses.

2. On the student’s transcript, the letter “E” will follow the lower grade(s) to indicate that the grade has been “excluded” from the GPA. The letter “I” will follow the higher grade to indicate that the grade has been “included” in the student’s GPA. The grades which have been excluded from the GPA calculation will not count toward GPA hours or hours earned, but will remain on the student’s record as attempted hours. Consultation by the student with the Financial Aid office may be needed to determine how the Repeat Policy will affect the student’s Satisfactory Academic Progress.

3. There is no limit on the number of different courses or retakes in which the Undergraduate Repeat Policy may be applied. However, there may be a limited number of times that Federal Financial Aid will pay for a course taken and passed (grade of “D” or higher). It would be wise to consult with a Financial Aid counselor if there are any questions about this.

4. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy will only be used on Liberty University courses that have been repeated at Liberty University. No transfer credit or credit earned though institutional or standardized testing may be used in the Undergraduate Repeat Policy.

5. The Undergraduate Repeat Policy will only be applied when the same course number/title is retaken, unless there has been a university approved course number/title change and the department confirms that the courses are the same. Course replacements/substitutions are not eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy.

6. Undergraduate courses in which a grade of B, C, D, F, or FN was awarded are eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy. Courses which are not eligible for the Undergraduate Repeat Policy are: pass/fail courses, zero-credit courses, CSERs, and courses with grades of AU (audit), I, M, Q, R, W, WF, X, and Z, or those courses failed due to academic dishonesty. Also, courses that are designed as repeatable courses within certain majors will not have the Undergraduate Repeat Policy applied automatically.

7. Activation of the Undergraduate Repeat Policy for a prior semester will not affect the academic standing or dean’s list award for that semester. Academic standing or dean’s list in a prior semester can only be changed as a result of an approved grade change.

8. Once a student has graduated, the Undergraduate Repeat Policy may not be used on a course taken prior to graduation to enhance the cumulative GPA which was recorded at the time of degree conferral. The repeat of a class after graduation could, however, be used to enhance the students overall undergraduate GPA at Liberty.

</table>

Warning/Probation/Suspension/Dismissal

Students must maintain satisfactory academic standing in order to remain at Liberty. Satisfactory academic standing for students enrolled in an undergraduate program is:

- Level 1: 0–23.99 hours, minimum GPA 1.50
- Level 2: 24–47.99 hours, minimum GPA 1.65

Academic Warning

Students failing to attain and maintain the minimum GPA required are placed on Academic Warning. During the next term, these students are limited to a 12-14-semester-hour course load, are required to take ASCS 101 Theory for Academic Success (1 c.h.) or ASCS 105 Accountability for Academic Success (1 c.h.), and may not represent the University on any team without approval from the appropriate committee. A student may not drop or withdraw from the ASCS course without permission from the Academic Success Center.

Academic Probation

At the end of the term on Academic Warning, students who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to the required academic level (see above) are placed on Academic Probation.

Additionally, students who are enrolled full-time and fail all courses will be placed on Academic Probation, unless they were previously on Academic Probation or Academic Suspension. Students who are enrolled full-time and fail all courses while on Academic Probation or Suspension will progress to the next academic standing level.

Students on Academic Probation are required to sign an academic plan from CASAS indicating the grades necessary to remove Probation status. During the next term of attendance, undergraduate students are limited to a 12-14-semester-hour course load, are required to take ASCS 101 Theory for Academic Success (1 c.h.) or ASCS 105 Accountability for Academic Success (1 c.h.), and may not represent the University on any team without approval from the appropriate committee. A student may not drop or withdraw from the ASCS course without permission from the Academic Success Center.

Academic Suspension

At the end of the term on Academic Probation, students who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to the required academic level (see above) are placed on Academic Suspension. Students who desire to return to Liberty in the future must appeal to the Registrar’s Office in writing through the designated portal. Students should not expect automatic readmission after serving a period of Suspension.

If approved to return, the Registrar’s Office/CASAS will determine a plan that will prepare students for a successful re-entry to Liberty. These students are required to sign an academic plan indicating the grades necessary to remove the Academic Suspension status. During the next term of attendance, undergraduate students are limited to a 12-14-semester-hour course load, are required to take ASCS 101 Theory for Academic Success (1 c.h.) or ASCS 105 Accountability for Academic Success (1 c.h.) and may not represent the University on any team without approval from the appropriate committee. A student may not drop or withdraw from the ASCS course without permission from the Academic Success Center.

If a student is denied to return under a contract, he/she will not be permitted to submit a new appeal until he/she has been away from Liberty for a minimum of two academic years.

Students who are enrolled for 12 or more hours and fail all courses will be Academically Suspended.

Academic Dismissal

Students who are readmitted to Liberty after serving a period of suspension and who fail to raise their cumulative GPA to the required academic level (see above) by the end of the term will be Academically Dismissed and will not be allowed to appeal to return to Liberty until a period of at least two academic years has passed.

Academic Amnesty

Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be granted by the Office of the Provost. In order to qualify for academic amnesty, a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University, as well as must satisfy the subsequent guidelines for readmission.

1. Not enrolled at the University for a period of two (2) years. For example, if the student’s last enrollment was in the Fall 2018 term, he/she would not be eligible to appeal for Academic Amnesty until after the Fall 2020 term.
2. A student seeking readmission under academic amnesty must first appeal in writing to the Registrar’s Office through the designated portal. The request must be stated clearly and contain:
   a. the reason for the request, and
   b. efforts made to improve during absence from Liberty.
3. Corroboration may be requested of the student (e.g., transcripts from other institutions, certificates, awards, etc.).
4. Students who were Academically Dismissed because of academic dishonesty are not eligible for Academic Amnesty.

The Registrar’s Office, upon receiving the written request, must receive approval from Community Life, Student Financial Services, and the Office of the Provost before readmission will be granted.

If approved for Academic Amnesty, the student will be readmitted under the following provisions:

1. Previously earned grades of “A,” “B,” and “C” will remain on the student’s record and will calculate into his or her GPA. As determined by the Office of the Provost, grades of “D” and “F” are revised to “Q.”
2. Students who have been granted Academic Amnesty are not eligible for graduation honors.
3. If any prior certificate or degree has been awarded through Liberty University, grades earned during that time period cannot be excluded when Academic Amnesty is applied. All grades earned toward a previously awarded certificate or conferred degree will remain on the student’s transcript.

4. All previously assigned academic standings will not change, and will remain part of the student’s academic records for the respective terms for which they were earned.
5. If, after the first term of enrollment following readmission under Academic Amnesty, the student’s cumulative GPA falls below the minimum required for good academic standing in the student’s degree program, the student will be Academically Dismissed, and will not be permitted to submit any further appeals for permission to continue his/her studies through Liberty University.

Academic Code of Honor

I. Preamble

Liberty University students, faculty, administrators, and staff together form a Christian community based upon the values and goals of the Bible. These are defined in our foundational statements, including our Doctrinal Statement, our Philosophy of Education and Mission Statement, the Statement of Professional Ethics for the Faculty, and our Student Code. Together, these statements situate Liberty University within the long tradition of university culture, which in its beginnings was distinctively Christian, designed to preserve and advance truth.

Anyone, whether Christian or non-Christian, who shares our values and goals, is both welcome and valued in our community. We want all students to feel comfortable in our community of learning, and we extend to all of our students our spiritual and academic resources, with the goal of fostering spiritual growth, character development, and academic maturity.

Communities are based upon shared values and practices. This Code of Honor, an expression of the values inherent in our Doctrinal Statement, defines the rules and principles by which our community functions. At the core of this Code are two key concepts: a belief in the dignity of all persons and an insistence on the existence of objective truth.

While we understand that everyone will not agree with the statements that follow, we do expect that our students respect and uphold these standards while enrolled at Liberty University. Abiding by the principles and behaviors established in this Code of Honor makes possible the success of our students and the strengthening of the Liberty community.

Academic Honor Code

1. Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to plagiarism, cheating and falsification.

a. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the intentional failure to give sufficient attribution to the words, ideas, or data of others that the student has incorporated into his/her work for the purpose of misleading the reader. In some cases, a student may be careless and fail to give credit to the words, ideas or data of others. In such situations, plagiarism has still occurred, but the professor may choose a sanction as deemed appropriate. In order to avoid plagiarism, students must conscientiously provide sufficient attribution.
Attribution is sufficient if it adequately informs and, therefore, does not materially mislead a reasonable reader as to the true source of the words, ideas, or data. Students who have any doubt as to whether they have provided sufficient attribution have the responsibility to obtain guidance from their professor or other person to whom they are submitting their work.
Plagiarism in papers, projects or any assignment prepared for a class shall include the following:

- Omitting quotation marks or other conventional markings around material quoted from any printed source (including digital material)
- Directly quoting or paraphrasing a specific passage from a specific source without properly referencing the source
- Replicating another person’s work or parts thereof and then submitting it as an original
- Purchasing a paper (or parts of a paper) and representing it as one’s own work

b. Cheating
Cheating is a form of dishonesty in which a student gives the appearance of a level of knowledge or skill that the student has not obtained, provides unauthorized aid, or wrongly takes advantage of another’s work. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Copying from another person’s work on an examination or an assignment
- Allowing another student to copy any portion of one’s work on an examination or an assignment
- Using unauthorized materials or giving or receiving any other unauthorized assistance on an examination or an assignment
- Taking an examination or completing an assignment for another, or permitting another to take an examination or to complete an assignment for the student.
- Reusing a paper from a previous course
- Paying another student to complete a course, an individual assignment or exam

c. Falsification
Falsification is a form of dishonesty in which a student misrepresents the truth, invents facts, or distorts the origin or content of information used as authority. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Dishonestly answering or providing information in the application process
- Citing a source that is known not to exist
- Attributing to a source ideas and information that are not included in the source
- Falsely citing a source in support of a thought or idea when it is known not to support the thought or idea
- Citing a source in a bibliography when the source was neither cited in the body of the paper nor consulted
- Intentionally distorting the meaning or applicability of data
- Inventing data or statistical results to support conclusions

a. Processing Allegations
When an alleged violation of the Academic Code of Honor has been reported to the instructor or administration, the instructor will confront the student within ten business days of the discovery of the infraction. The instructor may issue an oral (or written) reprimand, send written notification to the Department Chair or Program Director, reduce a grade, adjust credit and/or require additional work. The instructor may determine that a failing grade for the course is the appropriate sanction. In any event, the instructor will inform the student of the decision.

The reporting procedure is as follows:

i. The instructor will write a report outlining the violation.

ii. The report will be provided to the student and the Department Chair or Program Director along with the sanctions recommended.

iii. If blatant academic dishonesty occurs in a clear and convincing manner, the student may receive a grade of F for the course in which the academic misconduct occurred.

iv. Students receiving a grade of F for academic dishonesty on a particular assignment will be notified by the professor of the course in an appropriate manner, including but not limited to returning the assignment with comments, email, letter, telephone call, and/or a personal meeting.

v. If warranted, the results of an academic honesty review may be forwarded to the Office of Student Affairs for any other disciplinary action that may be appropriate.

vi. If non-blatant academic misconduct (such as inadvertent plagiarism) occurs in a course, the professor will contact the student and conduct such further investigation as needed.

vii. When a student receives a course grade of F for academic dishonesty, the professor may report the reason for the F to the Registrar and request that it be recorded as an F grade. This F grade will appear on the student’s transcript.

viii. The student, upon receipt of the results of the academic honesty review, will have five business days to appeal the decision to the professor and the Department Chair or Program Director.

b. Sanctions
If the professor determines that a sanction is called for, the professor may issue an oral or written reprimand, adjust credit and/or require additional work. The professor also maintains the right to assign the grade of F for the course if the investigation determines that it is the appropriate sanction. In this instance, the Registrar will record the F, which will appear on the student’s transcript. The repeat policy may not be applied to this grade.

If the student is found guilty of academic dishonesty (either blatant or non-blatant) in any subsequent course where a grade of F for academic dishonesty is posted, he or she will be dismissed from the University.

In determining the sanction to be imposed, the following will be considered: the student’s intent to violate the Code of Honor, the degree of carelessness, the gravity of the offense and the student’s overall conduct while enrolled at Liberty University. Student Affairs and Registrar may be consulted during this process.

In cases of proven academic misconduct in a particular course, the Department Chair or Program Director will usually defer to the course professor’s recommendation. In some cases, however, where the Department Chair or Program Director perceives a clear conflict of interest or faulty judgment on the part of the faculty member, or where the sanctions suggested by the professor are demonstrably inconsistent with those that resulted from other similar instances of academic misconduct, the Department Chair
c. Appeal Procedure

In cases where an allegation of any Academic Code of Honor violation occurs and the student does not admit guilt, he/she may pursue the process below. The student will be given an opportunity to provide written evidence in opposition to the charge. Persons who threaten or conduct other acts of retaliation against those individuals who acted in good faith (i.e., honestly and with intentions of being fair) in reporting (even if mistakenly) alleged instances of academic dishonesty will be subject to disciplinary action, including possible suspension or expulsion from Liberty. Any report of alleged academic dishonesty not made in good faith will also be subject to disciplinary action.

Examples of retaliation include, but are not limited to:
- Circumventing the appeal procedure and going directly to a university administrator such as the Dean, the Provost or the Chancellor
- Threatening a faculty member or student
- Harassment
- Verbal or physical abuse
- Verbal or written disrespect to a faculty or staff member (this includes e-mails)
- Offensive or crude language directed at individuals
- Falsely accusing someone of committing academic dishonesty.

A complete overview of the appeal process follows:

1. Within five business days of the notification of an alleged violation, the student may submit a written appeal to the Department Chair or Program Director. The Department Chair or Program Director will review the instructor’s report and the student’s written appeal, then notify the instructor and the student of his/her decision.

2. Both the student and any Liberty University personnel involved in or affected by the Academic Code of Honor violation will have the right to present their views to the Department Chair or Program Director before any decision is rendered.

3. If the student produces additional support for his/her appeal, the student will be given an opportunity to provide oral evidence in person and written evidence in opposition to the charge.

4. The Department Chair or Program Director will determine whether the student may continue in the class pending the outcome of the appeal.

5. Once informed by the Department Chair or Program Director of the decision, the student may further appeal to the Dean of the appropriate school for review.

6. Once informed by the Dean of the decision, the student may further appeal to the Faculty Senate Committee on Academic & Admissions Standards (CAAS) for further review.

7. In determining whether any violation has occurred, the Committee will apply a “clear and convincing” evidence standard. In some cases, Student Affairs or another University representative may join in the deliberations of the Committee as a non-voting member for the purpose of providing any background information that may be pertinent to the case.

8. If deemed appropriate by the Committee or if requested by the student, the student only may be present in person at the meeting of the Committee where the review will be made.

9. The student will not be permitted to be present after the Committee has received all evidence and begun its deliberation toward a decision.

10. The Committee will inform the Dean of its decision regarding the appeal. The decision of the CAAS in regard to the occurrence of academic dishonesty is final.

11. The student will be informed of the decision of the Committee by the Dean of the appropriate school in writing or by e-mail within ten academic days of the meeting.

12. Should no violation be found, the Committee’s report indicating such will be forwarded to the Department Chair or Program Director and faculty member. A report of all findings (either in favor of or against the student) will be sent to the Student Affairs and Registrar’s office. The findings will be kept in the student’s official record.

13. In cases that do not require a grade of F for Academic Dishonesty, but may require a failed assignment, failure in the course or reduced grade, the professor reserves the right not to report the violation to Student Affairs’ or Registrar’s office.

d. Reinstatement

Upon receiving two or more grades of F for academic dishonesty, the student will be dismissed for violation of the Code of Honor. Following dismissal, the student may not be considered for readmission for a minimum of three years. Readmission to the University will follow the academic amnesty policy described in the Academic Catalog. The Dean of the School has the right to refuse readmission of the student to the same degree program from which he or she was dismissed for academic dishonesty.

Incompletes

Students who are unable to complete coursework by the last day of class due to unavoidable circumstances such as personal illness/injury or family emergencies may appeal to their instructor for a temporary course grade of “I” (Incomplete). The authority for the decision to grant an incomplete completely lies with the instructor. Denial of the request for an incomplete may include, but is not limited to, the student’s inability to earn a passing grade with completion of the remaining requirements, as well as an insufficient reason for the request. Students must initiate the request for an incomplete directly to the instructor by the last day of class (before the final exam period for residential classes).

The instructor will establish a new deadline for the completion of the remaining coursework, based on the circumstances. The instructor may grant up to two weeks beyond the last day of the term (or sub-term for Liberty University Online courses) for non-medical circumstances and up to four weeks beyond the last day of the term (or sub-term for Liberty University Online courses) for personal medical circumstances.

For extreme personal medical circumstances, a maximum of eight weeks for Liberty University Online courses and 16 weeks for residential courses may be granted as long as sufficient medical documentation (from a medical professional) is presented along with the request. However, while the decision to grant an extended incomplete remains with the instructor, the request and medical documentation needs to be submitted to the registrar’s office. The instructor will be responsible to communicate the remaining requirements, as well as the extended deadline, to the student.

The instructor will post a final grade within two weeks from the deadline established for the incomplete. If a final grade is not posted within two weeks of the deadline, a grade of “F” will be posted by the registrar’s office. A grade of “I” may not be changed to a withdrawal unless the course is still in session.

The GPA is unaffected by the incomplete until a final grade is posted after the deadline. However, grades of “I” will count as hours attempted and not completed, and will negatively affect a student’s Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP).

Grading Policies And Procedures
Liberty University Faculty members, both residential and online, must submit final grades for all students to the Registrar at the end of each term. Faculty teaching residential and online courses should have grades submitted to the Registrar one week after the end of each semester. Liberty University Faculty members, both residential and online, are urged to promptly complete and submit final course grades. Confidentiality of student grades falls under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974. Please see the FERPA (p. 44) section and policies for more information.

Grading Scales
Liberty University incorporates a standardized 1,000 point system across all undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs. The undergraduate programs utilize a 100 point scale, and the graduate and doctoral programs utilize an 80 point scale to differentiate between letter grades. The grading scale will be posted within the syllabus for each course.

Students are encouraged to review the syllabus for each course individually to verify the grade scale.

Recording Of Grades
All grades will be recorded in the Registrar’s Office as reported by the instructors in charge of the various courses. Requests for grade changes may be submitted in writing only by the instructor.

Any extra credit assignments that are a part of the instructor’s syllabus must be completed prior to the final exam for the course. A student may not submit assignments for extra credit after the semester has ended and a final exam has been given.

Grade Appeal Process
Liberty encourages students to have open and respectful communication with their professor to resolve any concerns regarding individual course grades and/or the final grade for the course.

Criteria for Appeal
Only final posted grades may be appealed beyond the professor. Appeals are accepted only when the grade assigned conflicts with:

- The published syllabus for the course assignments
- Written communication (e.g., email, announcements, etc.)
- Calculation error on an assignment (resulting in a change to the final grade)

Appeals, other than those mentioned above, will not be reviewed. The student must provide written documentation that demonstrates the occurrence of one or more of the above grounds for appeal. Documentation may be in the form of email correspondence, graded assignments, proof of timely submission, etc.

Appeal Process
A student wishing to appeal a final grade must submit the appeal to their professor and seek to resolve the situation with them. If the student wishes to appeal further they must follow the process outlined below:

1. Within 30 calendar days of the end of the term, the student may submit a written appeal to the Department Chair. The student must include the information required above. The Chair will consult with the instructor and review the student’s written appeal. The Chair will then notify the instructor and the student of his/her decision.

2. If the student has additional support for their appeal, the student may submit a written appeal to the Dean after receiving the decision by the Department Chair. This written appeal must be received by the dean within five (5) business days of the Chair’s email. The Dean will review the student’s appeal, as well as any information provided by faculty member. When a decision has been reached, the Dean will notify the Chair, the faculty member and the student.

Academic Transcripts
Official transcripts are made only at the written, signed request of the student. No transcript will be issued for anyone who has failed to meet all financial obligations to the University. Requests for transcripts are to be made directly to the Registrar’s Office. There is a $10.00 fee for one transcript. Additional transcript requests made at the same time are $1.00 each.

FERPA – Privacy Of Student Records: Family Educational Rights And Privacy Act
Students attending, or who have attended, Liberty University are given certain rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (20 U.S.C. 1232g) and Rules of the Department of Education (34 C.F.R. Part 99) implementing this Act.

Additional information and University policies regarding the protection of student records are published online at http://www.liberty.edu/ferpa.

Graduation Honors
Honors for graduation will be determined by the cumulative grade point average earned at Liberty. Bachelor’s degree students who have earned 60 or more hours at Liberty must meet the following GPA standards to earn the corresponding academic distinction:
To receive the distinction of graduating with honors in the University Commencement, students graduating in the honors program wear a gold medallion during certificate seeking students. Associate degree students who have a 3.50 cumulative GPA will receive awards of a certificate. Certificate-seeking students must have all of the following requirements successfully completed before being considered candidates for the awarding of a certificate.

Certificate Completion Requirements

All matriculated students, whether Resident or Liberty University Online, must meet the same academic requirements for certificate completion. Certificate-seeking students must have all of the following requirements successfully completed before being considered candidates for the awarding of a certificate.

1. The undergraduate certificate requires a minimum of 18 semester hours. Each program differs; therefore, the student must follow the certificate requirements carefully.
2. Each undergraduate certificate program requires a minimum GPA of 2.00.
3. To satisfy the requirements for the fields of study, only final grades of C or above, in all certificate courses, will apply towards successful certificate completion.
4. Students who return to Liberty to complete a second certificate at the undergraduate level must have at least 3 credit hours remaining and must take a minimum of 3 additional hours of coursework at Liberty to qualify for a second certificate.
5. All 18 semester hours of the certificate coursework must be completed at Liberty.
6. Graduate or Doctoral credit may not be applied to an undergraduate certificate.
7. A Certificate Completion Application must be filled out at the beginning of the final semester before the certificate can be awarded. The Certificate Completion Application is found online at: http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=4849.
8. The Registrar’s Office will process the conferral of a certificate once all certificate requirements have been met, including the minimum GPA requirement and certificate completion application. If a student wishes to take further non-applicable coursework, they must do so under a new application.

Graduation Requirements

All undergraduate residential students must meet these requirements for graduation.

1. Undergraduate students must have all courses in the Core Competency Requirements and in the declared major and minor completed before being considered candidates for graduation.
2. The bachelor’s degree requires a minimum of 120 semester hours. However, certain majors require more than 120 hours. Of these total hours, a specified number of upper-level (300-400) courses must be completed with the minimum number being 30 semester hours. Each program differs; therefore, the student must follow the degree requirements carefully. The Associate degrees require a minimum of 60 semester hours. However, many majors require more than 60 hours.
3. All Christian/Community Service requirements must be satisfied before a degree will be awarded.
4. Each undergraduate degree program consists of designated General Education Core Competency requirements, major requirements, and in many cases, free electives. Free electives may be taken from the undergraduate courses offered in any department. A GPA of 2.00 or higher, unless otherwise specified in a particular major or minor, is required for graduation.
5. To satisfy the requirements for the major and minor fields of study, only grades of C or above in upper level courses may be included. This includes directed electives. All professional courses in a teacher preparation program require a grade of C or better. Certain majors require a grade of C or better in all major courses.
6. At least 25% of the credit hours required for the bachelor’s degree must be completed at Liberty. 50% of the credit hours in the major and minor must be completed at Liberty, unless otherwise specified within the degree requirements. At least 25% of the credit hours required for the associate’s degree must be completed at Liberty, and with the exception of the A.A. in General Studies, 50% of the credit hours in the major component of the Associate degree must be completed at Liberty.
7. Graduate or Graduate or Doctoral credit may not be applied to an undergraduate degree, unless required as part of a dual degree program.
8. Technology Competency
9. Submission of Degree Completion Application
10. The Registrar’s Office will process the conferral of a degree once all degree requirements have been met, including the minimum GPA requirement and Degree Completion Application. If a student wishes to take further non-applicable coursework, they must do so under a new application.
Graduation Checklist

After the matriculated bachelor's degree candidate has completed approximately 90 hours toward graduation, the Academic Evaluators in the Registrar's Office will evaluate the academic and Christian/Community Service record using the transcript and any approved exceptions to the program which might have been placed in the file.

The associate's degree student will be evaluated after completing 30 hours toward graduation. Every attempt will be made to keep students informed of curricular changes so that time is given for correcting any deficiencies prior to graduation.

Students are also encouraged to utilize the DCP Audit on ASIST in order to determine which requirements may still be outstanding.

Students who break enrollment will be required to follow the degree requirements in effect at the time of re-entry to the University.

Graduation Approval

All candidates for graduation must be approved by the Faculty and the Board of Trustees. Conditions such as transfer credit and incomplete grades should be satisfied by the beginning of the candidate's last semester.

Graduation Ceremony

Degrees are granted throughout the academic school year. All candidates for degrees may participate in the annual graduation exercises which take place in May.

Time Limits for Degree Completion

Students pursuing a certificate must complete the certificate requirements within three (3) years of the date of matriculation.

Students pursuing an associate's degree must complete the degree requirements within seven (7) years of the date of matriculation.

Students pursuing a bachelor's degree must complete the degree requirement within 10 years of the date of matriculation.

Any student who does not complete coursework within the permissible time limit for any reason, including discontinued enrollment, must reapply for readmission and will be subject to the requirements of the Catalog and Degree/Certificate Completion Plan (DCP/CCP) in effect at the time of his/her readmission.

Break in Enrollment

A break in enrollment occurs when the student fails to enroll in at least one course during a fall or spring semester. Students who break enrollment must apply for readmission and will be subject to the requirements of the Catalog and degree requirements in effect at the time of their readmission.

Any military students wishing to be readmitted who broke enrollment due to deployment must contact the Office of Military Affairs.

Purpose
The Jerry Falwell Library is the focal point of academic life at Liberty University. Strategically located in the center of campus, the library supports teaching, learning, and research by providing information, resources, spaces, and related services for the Liberty University community.

Overview
A collection of approximately 65,000 highly used and recently published volumes is available for browsing. The majority of the collection is housed in an automated storage and retrieval system allowing the library to conserve space for student use. With over 30 group study rooms, 7 learning commons, outside terraces, and a spacious atrium, the library has spaces to support the needs of all students. During the academic term, the library is open daily for Liberty University and surrounding communities.

Instructional Resources
The Jerry Falwell Library has innovative technology, including an active learning classroom where classes are offered in finding and using information. It also features perceptive pixel tables, collaborative technologies for group study, a media wall and self-serve kiosks.

The library provides access to 170 computers in the Dookad Technology Commons and other places within the building most of which have a variety of software titles available for student use, including Microsoft® Office, Adobe® Creative® Suite, Mathematica, and SPSS.

All library computers have a high-speed connection to the Internet. In addition, wireless network signal is available throughout the facility, allowing laptop computer and mobile device users to access the full array of network resources.

Collections
The library is an integral part of the educational process, providing digital and traditional information resources to support the University curricula and mission. The Jerry Falwell Library collects and organizes resources across a wide range of formats, including books, periodicals, media, musical scores, curricula, and archival materials. Its physical collections consist of over 409,000 books, media items, and other materials.

The Jerry Falwell Library continues to aggressively collect resources that support both residential and online students. Digital information resources provided by the library include over 675,000 electronic items and content from more than 84,000 unique full-text journals. The library provides access to approximately 535 online research resources from companies such as American Psychological Association, Credo, EBSCO, Elsevier, Emerald, Gale, JSTOR, LexisNexis, Oxford University Press, ProQuest, SAGE, Standard and Poor’s, and Wiley. A large majority of these print and electronic resources are available by searching a single discovery tool, Summon. Resources can be accessed directly from this discovery tool, or users are able to make a request for materials to be purchased which are not currently owned by our library.

Students and faculty can request to borrow materials from libraries across the United States through the interlibrary loan service. Books and media borrowed from local and in-state libraries are often available in less than three days. Copies of periodical articles are typically delivered in digital form, often within two days or less.

The Jerry Falwell Library bears responsibility for collecting and providing access to historical records and academic publications created by members of the Liberty University community through its Archives Digital Collection and online institutional repository, Scholars Crossing. Physical resources related to the history of the institution are kept in the Archives and Special Collections Department.

Curriculum Library
The Curriculum Library supports the School of Education at Liberty University by providing access to a variety of instructional resources. Offerings include teacher-edition textbooks and teaching materials for pre-school through grade twelve, including teaching English as a second language, as well as standardized educational assessments. Educational games, manipulatives, and models enhance the collection.

An extensive selection of juvenile titles provides reinforcement for classes in Children’s Literature and Adolescent Literature in addition to classes in curriculum development. Materials related to educational theory and research are found in the main collection of the Jerry Falwell Library.

Services
The Jerry Falwell Library services are organized and provided through a highly qualified faculty and staff. A broad range of support is provided to help students and faculty use information resources and technology effectively. These services include classroom-based instruction, topic-specific workshops, personalized research assistance, and software support. The Customer Service Center on the main floor of the library serves as a starting point for help with borrowing services, research questions, and computer assistance.

The Jerry Falwell Library provides many services and resources to students in the Liberty University Online programs. Online students can access virtually all electronic database resources through a proxy login system. In addition, online students have direct telephone, chat, and email support through the library’s Research Support Center, which provides access to research assistance librarians and staff. A Customer Service Center, staffed with librarians and specially trained research support specialists, is available during all hours the library is open.

The Jerry Falwell Library is committed to being the primary library for Liberty University Online students by offering timely personal contact and document delivery in order to meet their academic needs. This includes the delivery of books and journal articles as well as research and reference services.

Memberships
Academic libraries are undergoing significant changes as they adapt to the terms of a new information economy. Not only are information and technology resources in unprecedented demand, but they must be configured to support teaching, learning, and research regardless of the end user’s location. In this context, the Jerry Falwell Library benefits from collaboration with other agencies and professionals through membership in the American Theological Library Association, the Christian Library Consortium, Lyrasis, the Virginia Library Association, VIVA (the Virtual Library of Virginia), the Center for Research Libraries, and other information services organizations.

General Requirements

Prospective students who wish to speak to an Admissions representative about the admissions process or admission policies may do so by contacting the Liberty University Admissions Office.

Prospective students are encouraged to apply over the phone with an experienced Admissions representative or online at https://www.liberty.edu/online/.
Application for Admission

Items to Be Submitted
Applicants must submit the following items to the Office of Admissions in order to be considered as candidates for admission. A decision will not be made until all documentation has been received and evaluated.

1. Academic Records
   Prior to acceptance, applicants must submit a final official transcript from an accredited high school, an official transcript of the General Educational Development (GED) test scores, or a High School Self-Certification form. Applicants with prior college coursework must submit official transcripts from all colleges attended.
   - Students may submit a High School Self-Certification form through ASIST in lieu of a final official high school transcript.
   - Preliminary transcripts - must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-11, and an overall grade point average (GPA).
   - Final official transcripts - must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-12, a graduation date, and an overall GPA. (Mailed transcripts must be in a sealed and unopened envelope.)
   - Students should refer to www.liberty.edu/online/admission-requirements/ for a detailed list of applicable admissions requirements. The high school transcript, GED requirement, and High School Self-Certification form will be waived if the applicant earned an associate’s degree.

Although the University does not require specific high school courses for admission, successful applicants usually have completed at least 4 years of English, 2–3 years of college preparatory mathematics, 2 years of laboratory science, 2 years of social science, 2 years of foreign language, and at least 4 units of elective credits in subjects such as art, music, or drama. A high school diploma must be a standard or advanced diploma, or its equivalent. This curriculum prepares one for the classroom expectations at Liberty University.

Liberty University’s minimum acceptable college GPA is 2.00 on a 4.00 scale. Applicants who fail to meet the minimum required GPA will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to perform satisfactorily at the college level and may be admitted on Caution status. All students accepted on Caution status may be required to enroll in one or more developmental courses as determined by the Office of Admissions.

2. Other Documentation
   If the Admissions Committee determines that additional information is needed in order to make a determination on the applicant’s status, the applicant may be required to submit letters of recommendation or other relevant documentation.
   U.S. Citizens and those with Legal Permanent Residency in the U.S. who have completed a secondary education outside of the U.S. will be evaluated as international students for admission purposes.

3. RN to BSN program
   Students who are interested in the RN to BSN program must submit additional admissions documents, such as:
   - RN licensure in state of residence (copy of licensure document)
   - Graduate of an NLN accredited nursing program leading to an associate degree or hospital diploma

4. BS in Aviation program
Students who are interested in the BS in Aviation program must submit additional admissions documents, such as:
- Confirmation at which Liberty University Flight Training Affiliate they will be completing their flight training requirements, and that they meet Federal Transportation Security Administration requirements.
- In lieu of the above requirement, a student can provide a Commercial Pilot Certificate issued by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Students who are interested in the BS in Aviation Maintenance Management program must submit proof of having obtained their Federal Aviation Administration Airframe & PowerPlant mechanic license.

5. BS in Respiratory Therapy
Students who are interested in the BS in Respiratory Therapy program must submit additional admissions requirements, such as:
- AS or AAS in Respiratory Care/Therapy
- Current Registered Respiratory Therapy (RRT) credential provided by the National Board for Respiratory Care (NBRC).

6. Wilmington School of the Bible Program
Students applying to this program only need to submit proof of high school graduation (see details above regarding the high school transcript requirement). Students with a conferred accredited Associates degree or higher can have the High School Transcript requirement waived.

Homeschool Applicants

Homeschooled applicants must submit the above requirements plus:
- Verification that they have completed the equivalent of a standard secondary school education. This requirement may be satisfied by a statement signed by the parent or guardian, a home-education diploma, or a graduation date posted on the home education records.
- Verification that the home education was carried out in compliance with applicable commonwealth or state laws. The form of this documentation will vary depending on the state statutes governing home education. The documentation may be a letter from the local school board or public school superintendent, a letter from an umbrella school, or a signed affidavit from the parent or guardian. Students homeschooled outside of the United States must submit a transcript that confirms completion of a secondary education according to an identified standard or authority.

Note: The University recognizes that the academic records of home-educated students widely vary. However, records of academic work plus any evaluations or grades awarded by the parent or other evaluator must be included on the academic records to properly evaluate the applicant’s eligibility for a postsecondary program. See www.liberty.edu/online/homeschool-students/ for a sample home school transcript. Do not submit portfolios, photocopies of awards, or photographs of school projects.

Students Serving in the U.S. Army

Active Duty, Reserve, and National Guard students serving in the Army must apply for admission and enroll via the GoArmyEd portal, www.goarmyed.com. Admission and enrollment through the Army portal will allow Tuition Assistance to be approved through the enrollment process. Additional information is provided online at www.liberty.edu/militaryaffairs.

Conditional Enrollment

Students may be conditionally enrolled following the receipt of a completed application. Undergraduate students who register on a conditional basis may enroll for up to 12 semester hours within the first semester only pending receipt of all official transcripts and standardized test scores. Students who have not submitted the required documentation by the completion of the first semester will not be allowed to enroll in additional courses until the admission file is completed and program admission is granted.

Conditional enrollment is not a guarantee of full acceptance into a degree program. Federal and state financial aid is not available to students under conditional enrollment. Some programs that require additional admission requirements, such as licensure, will not be eligible for conditional enrollment.

Admission Notification

Applicants must submit all of the required documents to complete the admission file. When all documents have been received and evaluated, applicants will be notified as to whether they have been fully accepted. Following notification of acceptance, applicants will receive information related to Financial Check-In and course registration.

Assessment Tests

Liberty University offers English and Math placement tests for all new undergraduate students. These placement tests will be used to ensure that students are placed in the proper English and Math courses to help students be successful as they begin online coursework at Liberty University.

Developmental Courses

Liberty University offers several developmental courses to students who need assistance with some of the basic skills required in order to be successful in college. Students who fail to meet the minimum required GPA will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to perform satisfactorily at the college level.

Transfer Students

Transfer applicants must complete all of the forms that are listed for the initial application procedure.

An official transcript from each college or university that the transfer applicant attended must be sent directly to the Office of Admissions from the Registrar(s) of the respective institution(s) of higher learning (Wilmington School of the Bible applicants are exempt from this requirement).

Unofficial transcripts will allow for acceptance and registration. Unofficial transcripts will not be reviewed for transfer credit. Before submitting unofficial transcripts, please make sure they include the following:

1. School name or logo printed on the document
2. List of completed courses and earned credit

To be admitted with unofficial transcripts, students must also submit a Transcript Request Form. Upon an admission decision, official transcripts are required within 60 days; official transcripts are required in order to register for a second semester of courses.

All students who intend to transfer to Liberty must be eligible for re-enrollment or readmission at the last institution attended. The record is reviewed based on Liberty’s admissions standards. If an applicant’s GPA...
does not meet Liberty’s admissions standards, even though the applicant may not have been placed on Academic Warning or Probation at the last school attended, the applicant may be denied or admitted on Caution. Appeals may be granted, and will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to satisfactorily perform at the college level as determined by the Office of Admissions.

Transfer of Credits

Only courses and degrees from a regionally accredited institution or those nationally accredited by accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (e.g., SACSCOC, TRACS, ABHE, etc.) will be evaluated for transfer of credit. Applicants must request that official transcripts be sent directly from the Registrar(s) of the previous school(s) to the Registrar’s Office at Liberty University.

Credit will be accepted for those courses that are equivalent to courses offered at Liberty in which applicants have made a grade of “C” or better. Transcripts are evaluated by the Liberty University Office of Transfer Evaluations under the guidelines established by the Liberty University Online Curriculum Committee.

In order to receive direct credit for a course, the description must overlap the Liberty University course content at least 60%. Courses that do not match a Liberty University course by at least 60% are eligible to transfer as elective credit where allowable. Elective credit is coded as 1XX – 4XX, depending on the level of the course.

Credit for military training is awarded based on the recommendations provided by the American Council on Education, in A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services (ACE Guide). This includes credit for general military training and occupational specialty. The work must also be applicable to the student’s program of study.

A list of policies and transferable courses is provided at www.liberty.edu/online/transfer-students/.

Evaluation of Military Training for College Credit

The Liberty University Office of Transfer Evaluations will evaluate students’ prior military experience. Evaluations will be based solely upon the recommendations of the American Council of Education (ACE) guidebook, A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Military applicants should send in their Joint Services Transcript or appropriate transcript from their branch of service (CCAF, DAU, CGI, MCI). If those documents are unavailable, applicants should submit a copy of their DD214, 2-1, 2A, or DD295 for evaluation.

Upon completion of the military evaluation, students may access their degree completion plan through the Degree Completion Plan Audit. Liberty University online military students will generally find that the Interdisciplinary Studies major maximizes the use of their existing credits.

International Admission

Applicants who have completed secondary education or college-level academic coursework outside of the U.S. must have their transcripts evaluated by a credential evaluation service provider that is a member of the National Association of Credential Services (NACES®).

If NACES credential evaluation was completed based on a preliminary secondary transcript for the purpose of admission to the University, the student must also submit a NACES evaluation of the final secondary credential before being permitted to register for second semester courses.

Applicants whose native language is a language other than English must submit official scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or an approved alternate assessment (see below). Applicants who successfully complete the levels of English-Second-Language (ESL) instruction indicated below at one of two schools will have the TOEFL requirement waived. Students will have their application held until transcripts from one of the below schools are received.

- Level 6: Language Consultants International (LCI) www.englishlci.edu
- Level 109: ELS Educational Services (ELS) www.els.edu
- Advanced 6: Forum Intensive English Center (Forum) https://www.forumenglishcenter.edu/

If an international student is seeking admission to an undergraduate program of study and has attended an accredited U.S. high school for a minimum of two years, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived.

If an international student is seeking admission to an undergraduate program of study and has earned a high school diploma at an accredited international high school outside of the U.S. using a U.S. high school curriculum and in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school’s Registrar Office.)

If an undergraduate degree at an accredited university/college outside of the U.S. in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school’s Registrar Office.)

Students who have attended an American college/university for two or more years may not be required to submit a test of English proficiency.

The University offers general admission to its undergraduate program of study to applicants who achieve one of the following scores on a standardized test of English proficiency:

- TOEFL (Internet Based Test or iBT): 61
- International English Language Testing System (IELTS): 6.0
- Pearson Test of English (PTE): 51
- International Test of English Proficiency Academic Plus (iTEP): 3.9

Information regarding the TOEFL may be obtained from: TOEFL Services.

The Education Testing Service
P.O. Box 6151
Princeton, New Jersey 08541
or online at www.toefl.org.

Information regarding the IELTS may be obtained online at www.ielts.org and information regarding the PTE may be obtained online at www.pearsonpte.com.

Special (or Non-degree Seeking) Status Students

Status 1 Special Students are early enrollment or dual enrollment students who do not have a high school diploma or equivalent. These students must show evidence of ability to complete the courses selected. They may become candidates for a degree after completing high school diploma requirements.

Status 2 Special Students are those students who are not interested in obtaining a degree, however, they are interested in taking one or more college level courses up to a maximum of 12 credit hours. Additional courses may be approved if the student has no intention of being a degree seeking student. This decision is based on review from the Registrar's Office.

Applications are available at www.liberty.edu/online. Students deciding to enroll as degree seeking students in the future must complete a new application and fulfill all admissions requirements.

Students who have been Academically Dismissed from Liberty University are not eligible for Special Student status. Students who have completed 12 or more credit hours at their current level are not eligible for Special Student status. Financial Aid is not available under Special Student status.

Break in Enrollment
A break in enrollment occurs when a student is not actively taking a class each academic year.

Students who break enrollment will be required to follow the degree requirements in effect at the time of re-entry to the University.

Any military students wishing to be readmitted who broke enrollment due to deployment must contact the Office of Military Affairs.

Readmission
Students who have withdrawn from the University or who have broken enrollment must apply for readmission through the Office of Admissions. Admission status is subject to the terms of any previous academic or disciplinary suspension or probation. Re-applicants will be subject to the current Degree Completion Plan for the program of application. Applicants must provide official transcripts from all educational institutions attended since enrollment at Liberty. Students must receive approval from the Registrar's Office, Student Conduct, and Student Accounts before an acceptance decision can be made.

Academic Amnesty
Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be granted by the Office of the Online Provost. In order to qualify for academic amnesty, a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University, as well as must satisfy the subsequent guidelines for readmission.

1. Not enrolled at the University for a period of two (2) years. For example, if the student's last enrollment was in the Fall 2018 term, he/she would not be eligible to appeal for Academic Amnesty until after the Fall 2020 term.

2. A student seeking readmission under Academic Amnesty must first appeal in writing to the Registrar's Office through the designated portal. The request must be stated clearly and contain:
   a. the reason for the request, and
   b. efforts made to improve during absence from Liberty.

3. Corroboration may be requested of the student (e.g., transcripts from other institutions, certificates, awards, etc.).

4. Students who were Academically Dismissed because of academic dishonesty are not eligible for Academic Amnesty.

The Registrar's Office, upon receiving the written request, must receive approval from the Office of Community Life, Student Financial Services, and the Office of the Online Provost before readmission will be granted.

If approved for Academic Amnesty, the student will be readmitted under the following provisions:

1. Previously earned grades of “A,” “B,” and “C” will remain on the student's record and will calculate into his or her GPA. As determined by the Provost, grades of “D” and “F” are revised to “Q.”

2. Students who have been granted Academic Amnesty are not eligible for graduation honors.

3. If any prior certificate or degree has been awarded through Liberty University, grades earned during that time period cannot be excluded when Academic Amnesty is applied. All grades earned toward a previously awarded certificate or conferred degree will remain on the student's transcript.

4. All previously assigned academic standings will not change, and will remain part of the student's academic records for the respective terms for which they were earned.

5. If, after the first term of enrollment following readmission under Academic Amnesty, the student's cumulative GPA falls below the minimum cumulative GPA required for good academic standing in the student's degree program, the student will be Academically Dismissed, and will not be permitted to submit any further appeals for permission to continue his/her studies through Liberty University.

Privacy of Student Records: Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
Students attending, or who have attended, Liberty University are given certain rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (20 U.S.C. 1232g) and Rules of the Department of Education (34 C.F.R. Part 99) implementing this Act.

Additional information and University policies regarding the protection of student records are published online at www.liberty.edu/ferpa.

Additional Information
Additional information regarding the University's academic and administrative policies and procedures can be found on the University website at www.liberty.edu/online.

General Requirements

Admission to Liberty University’s undergraduate program is governed by policies and procedures developed by the Senate Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards.

The mission of Liberty University is to develop Christ-centered men and women with the values, knowledge, and skills essential to impact the world. We expect that our students understand and respect our mission and purpose while enrolled at Liberty University.

The Liberty University resident undergraduate admissions department operates on a rolling admission basis. This policy means that we do not have a final deadline for applications to be considered and will consider each applicant on a case by case basis. However, we do have a priority deadline for submission and it is recommended that applicants strongly consider adhering to that deadline as the majority of our applications are received by that date.

Prospective students are assessed according to academic background; personal moral behavior and character; personal philosophy; and willingness to follow Liberty’s rules, regulations, and policies. In the consideration process, the applicant’s complete prior academic record, recommendations, plans for the future, and personal information will be reviewed upon request. Applicants meeting the required standards in these areas may be admitted to one of the academic terms at the University.

Liberty University does not engage in unlawful discrimination or harassment because of race, color, ancestry, religion, age, sex, national origin, pregnancy or childbirth, disability or military veteran status in its educational programs and activities. Liberty University maintains its Christian character and reserves its right to discriminate on the basis of religion to the extent that applicable law respects its right to act in furtherance of its religious objectives. The following persons have been designated to coordinate Liberty University’s compliance with certain anti-discrimination laws:

- Coordinator of LU Online Disability Accommodation Support at (434) 592-5417 or luoadas@liberty.edu;
- Director of Disability Academic Support (Residential) at (434) 582-2159 or odas@liberty.edu;
- Title IX Coordinator at (434) 582-8948 or TitleIX@liberty.edu.

The University reserves the right to refuse or revoke admission or readmission to any prospective student or returning student. Any applicant who intentionally withholds pertinent information or who falsifies information may be required to withdraw from Liberty.

The Office of Admissions may request additional documentation from applicants who do not meet admissions standards. If the Office of Admissions, in its professional opinion, determines that the documentation justifies the candidate’s potential for success, the Office of Admissions may present the documentation to the Provost’s Office with a request to admit the student.

The regulations listed herein are subject to change after the date of publication through established procedures. Liberty University reserves the right to make necessary changes without further notice.

Contact Information

Prospective students who wish to speak to an admissions counselor about the admissions process or admission policies may do so by contacting our Resident Admissions office.

SAT 10:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. EST

Mailing Address:

Liberty University
Attn: Resident Admissions Office
MSC Box #710278
1971 University Blvd.
Lynchburg, Virginia 24515

Prospective students are encouraged to apply online at http://www.liberty.edu/undergrad/ or www.liberty.edu.

Application for Admission

The Admissions Committee welcomes applications for first-year, transfer and readmit admission. When we read undergraduate applications, we value intellectual ability, academic achievement, and personal qualities that will contribute to the University mission and campus community. The university also reserves the right to withdraw an application for admission after 60 days of inactivity.

Admission decisions are competitive and are based primarily on the following factors:

- Cumulative High School GPA and college (if applicable)
- GED, HiSET, or TASC scores (if applicable)
- Consistency and trends of grades
- Results from the CLT, SAT or ACT, using the highest score on each section where applicable
- Essay submission

Note: Other documentation such as reference letters, community service, and leadership, may also be helpful or required by the admissions committee.

Mid-ranges for enrolled freshmen:

- High School GPA 3.15-3.83
- SAT (math and *critical reading) 1020-1220
- ACT composite 20-27

This means that 50% of admitted students come from above or below the ranges.

Items to be Submitted

1. Academic Records

   Prior to an admissions decision, applicants must submit an official transcript from an accredited high school or an official transcript of the General Educational Development (GED) test scores.

Applicants with prior college coursework may submit a high school self-certification in lieu of an official high school transcript, or an official high school transcript, and unofficial transcripts from all colleges attended.

Please note: Unofficial transcripts can be used for acceptance purposes when a transcript request form is also submitted.

An official transcript will be required in order to register for a second semester.

2. To be considered complete, a high school transcript must meet the following minimum requirements:

a. Preliminary transcript – must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-11, an overall grade point average (GPA), and should be signed by the school administrator.

b. Final transcript – must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-12, must list graduation date, an overall GPA, and must be signed by the school administrator.

In lieu of a final transcript, Liberty University will accept a preliminary transcript. A self-certification of high school graduation or a final high school transcript will be required to continue the program beyond the first semester.

In addition, some high school and college transcripts may be waived if they are unobtainable due to circumstances as determined by the Resident Admissions Office.

Official transcripts of the final high school or college records must be requested directly from the educational institution and sent to the Resident Admissions Office. An official high school or homeschool transcript is defined as a transcript received in a sealed envelope with the school's address. In addition, the final high school transcript or GED, HiSET, or TASC is considered official if it is faxed (or sent by other electronic means such as email or electronic transcript service) by the high school or center itself, and received by the Resident Admissions Office. In order to be considered official, the transcript must be stamped official by the Resident Admissions Office, after confirming receipt with the issuing high school or homeschool.

Although the University does not require specific high school courses for admission, successful applicants usually have completed at least 4 years of English, 2–3 years of college preparatory mathematics, 2 years of laboratory science, 2 years of social science, 2 years of foreign language, and at least 4 units of elective credits in subjects such as art, music, or drama. A high school diploma must be a standard or advanced diploma, or its equivalent. This curriculum prepares one for the classroom expectations at Liberty University.

Liberty University reviews high school transcripts only on a 4.00 GPA basis. All transcripts are converted to an unweighted 4.00 scale. Applicants who fall outside of the range for acceptance will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to perform satisfactorily at the college level and may be admitted on Academic Caution or Probation.

All students accepted on Academic Caution or Probation status will be limited to 12 to 14 semester hours of coursework including:

- MENT 100 Foundations for Academic Success (3 c.h.) or
- CLST 101 College Learning Strategies (1 c.h.)

These courses are designed to help students develop critical thinking and study strategies necessary for success in college.

3. Test Scores

All applicants, age 21 or younger, must submit official copies of test results from either the Classic Learning Test (CLT), Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing (ACT) exam. Liberty University does not recognize the essay portion of the SAT or ACT exam for acceptance decision purposes. SAT scores are based on Critical Reading (now known as Evidence-based Reading and Writing) and Math portions only. The best scores from multiple exams may be combined for admissions purposes. SAT scores are based on Evidence – based Reading and Writing and Math portions only. The best scores from multiple exams may be combined for admissions purposes. However, we do not combine best test scores if the SAT was taken both before and after March 2016. The SAT, ACT, And CLT is not required for students 22 or older and/or who have 25+ credit hours transferred into Liberty. Applicants who fail to meet the minimum required scores may have their application rejected or will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to perform satisfactorily at the college level and may be admitted on Academic Caution or Probation. Scores will be used for academic counseling and placement. SAT Subject tests are not acceptable. Test scores may be waived if they are unobtainable due to circumstances as determined by the Resident Admissions Office.

4. Essay

All resident applicants must submit an essay between 200 and 400 words describing how their personal faith and beliefs will allow them to contribute to Liberty University’s mission of developing Christ-centered leaders.

5. Other Documentation

If the Admissions Committee determines that additional information is needed in order to make a determination on the applicant’s status, the applicant may be required to submit letters of recommendation or other relevant documentation such as a guidance counselor letter.

U.S. Citizens and those with Legal Permanent Residency in the U.S. who have completed a secondary education outside of the U.S. will be evaluated as international students for admission purpose.

6. Priority Deadlines for Admissions Process
Resident Program:

- Fall:
  - Application: December 15
  - Accept and Confirm: February 28
  - Financial Check-in: April 30
  - Course Registration: June 15
- Spring:
  - Application: November 1

These dates are subject to change

Homeschool Applicants

The University recognizes that the academic records of home-educated students vary widely. However, records of academic work plus any evaluations or grades awarded by the parent or other evaluator must be included on the academic records to properly evaluate the applicant’s eligibility for college work.

Homeschooled applicants must submit the above requirements plus:

1. Verification that they have completed the equivalent of a standard secondary school education. This requirement may be satisfied by a statement signed by the parent or guardian, a home-education diploma, or a graduation date posted on the home education records.
2. Verification that the home education was carried out in compliance with applicable commonwealth or state laws. The form of this documentation will vary depending on the state statutes governing home education. The documentation may be a letter from the local school board or public school superintendent, a letter from an umbrella school, or a signed affidavit from the parent or guardian.

Students homeschooled outside of the United States must submit a transcript that confirms completion of a secondary education according to an identified standard or authority.

Note: See www.liberty.edu/homeschool for a sample home school transcript. (Do not submit portfolios, photocopies of awards, or photographs of school projects.)

Transfer Students

Transfer applicants must complete all of the forms that are listed for the initial application procedure. However, undergraduate transfer applicants who earn an Associate’s degree from an accredited institution do not need to submit standardized test scores except when specifically requested to do so by the University.

A copy of the official transcript from each college or university that the transfer applicant attended must be sent directly to the Admission’s Office from the Registrar(s) of the respective institution(s) of higher learning.

Unofficial transcripts will allow for acceptance and registration. Unofficial transcripts will not be reviewed for transfer credit. Before submitting unofficial transcripts, please make sure they include the following:

1. School name or logo printed on the document
2. List of completed courses and earned credit

Official transcripts are required in order to register for a second semester.

All students who intend to transfer to Liberty must be eligible for readmission at the last institution attended. The record is reviewed based on Liberty’s scholastic regulations. Any applicant whose GPA does not meet Liberty’s scholastic standards, even though the applicant may not have been placed on Academic Caution or Probation at the last school attended, may be denied or placed on Academic Caution or Probation.

Transfer of Credits

Only courses and degrees from a regionally accredited institution or those nationally accredited by accrediting agencies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (e.g., SACSCOC, TRACS, ABHE, etc.) will be evaluated for transfer credit. Applicants must request that official transcripts be sent directly from the Registrar(s) of the previous school(s) to the Registrar’s Office at Liberty University. These transcripts should be received before an admission decision will be made.

Credit will be accepted for those courses that are equivalent to courses offered at Liberty in which applicants have made a grade of C or better. Transcripts are evaluated by the Registrar’s Office under the guidelines established by the Senate Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards.

In order to receive direct credit for a course, the description must overlap the Liberty University course content at least 60%. Courses that do not match a Liberty University course by at least 60% are eligible to transfer as elective credit where allowable. Elective credit is coded as 1XX – 4XX, depending on the level of the course.

Undergraduate credit may be allowed for courses completed at military service schools if this credit is recommended in A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services (ACE Guide). The work must also be applicable to the student’s program of study.

Internship credit is not transferable.

Military Evaluations

Liberty University will evaluate students’ prior military experience and develop a degree plan for each student to follow. Evaluations will be based solely upon the recommendations of the American Council of Education (ACE) guidebook, A Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services. Military applicants should send in military transcripts or documentation from their particular branch of service. If those documents are unavailable, applicants should submit a copy of their DD214, 2-1, 2A, or DD295 for evaluation.

Admission Notification

Applicants must submit all of the required documents to complete the admission file. When all documents have been received and evaluated, applicants will be notified of their admission decision. Following notification of acceptance, applicants will receive information relating to Financial Check-In and course registration.

Enrollment Deposit

New students who decide to attend Liberty University must submit a $250 Enrollment Deposit. This deposit secures any available institutional grants or scholarships; however, only completion of Financial Check-In ensures the availability of a class schedule and housing assignment. The $250 Enrollment Deposit may be submitted online at www.liberty.edu/Confirm. This deposit will be credited to the student’s account as a deposit toward the upcoming semester.

Should the student decide not to attend, the University must be notified in writing with an Enrollment Deposit refund request by May 1 of each academic year for those who confirmed for fall term, and by December 1 for those who confirmed for spring term. After these deadlines, the $250 Enrollment Deposit is non-refundable and non-transferable. The credit, however, may be deferred up to one academic year should the student... be able to attend in a subsequent semester. However, if you update your deposit to any other semester, you will no longer be eligible for a refund.

Health Record
All resident students must complete and submit an online Health Form through their Liberty ASIST account. This form does not need to be submitted prior to acceptance. Any accepted applicant who withholds pertinent health information may be required to withdraw from the University.

Special Students
a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University, as well as must satisfy the subsequent requirements.

In order to qualify for academic amnesty, Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be approved by the Office of the Provost. In order to qualify for academic amnesty, the student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University.

Academic Amnesty
a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed.

In order to qualify for academic amnesty, Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be approved by the Office of the Provost. In order to qualify for academic amnesty, the student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University.

Applications are available upon request from the Resident Admissions Office. Students deciding to enroll as degree seeking students in the future must complete a new application and fulfill all admissions requirements.

Students who have been Academically Dismissed from Liberty University are not eligible for Special Student status. Financial Aid is unavailable under Special Student status.

Audit
Applicants not interested in becoming degree candidates and who want to audit classes must complete a special student application. Only lecture courses may be audited. Courses requiring labs or private instruction may not be audited.

Readmission
Students who have withdrawn from the University or who have broken enrollment must apply for readmission through the Resident Admissions Office. Admission status is subject to the terms of any previous academic or disciplinary suspension or probation. Applicants must provide official transcripts from all educational institutions attended since enrollment at Liberty. Students must receive approval from the Registrar’s Office, Office of Community Life, and Student Financial Services before an acceptance decision can be made.

Students applying for readmission who have been dismissed from the University should submit an application not less than 2 months prior to matriculation since applicants must make an appeal to the Committee on Academic and Admissions Standards (CAAS).

Academic Amnesty
Approval for readmission under Academic Amnesty must be approved by the Office of the Provost. In order to qualify for academic amnesty, a student must have been academically suspended or academically dismissed from the University, as well as must satisfy the subsequent guidelines for readmission.

1. Not enrolled at the University for a period of two (2) years. For example, if the student’s last enrollment was in the Fall 2018 term, he/she would not be eligible to appeal for Academic Amnesty until after the Fall 2020 term.

2. A student seeking readmission under academic amnesty must first appeal in writing to the Registrar’s Office through the designated portal. The request must be stated clearly and contain:
   a. the reason for the request, and
   b. efforts made to improve during absence from Liberty.

3. Corroboration may be requested of the student (e.g., transcripts from other institutions, certificates, awards, etc.).

4. Students who were Academically Dismissed because of academic dishonesty are not eligible for Academic Amnesty.

The Registrar’s Office, upon receiving the written request, must receive approval from Community Life Student Financial Services, and the Office of the Provost before readmission will be granted.

a. Previously earned grades of “A,” “B,” and “C” will remain on the student’s record and will calculate into his or her GPA. As determined by the Office of the Provost, grades of “D” and “F” are revised to “Q.”

b. Students who have been granted Academic Amnesty are not eligible for graduation honors.

c. If any prior certificate or degree has been awarded through Liberty University, grades earned during that time period cannot be excluded when Academic Amnesty is applied. All grades earned toward a previously awarded certificate or conferred degree will remain on the student’s transcript.

d. All previously assigned academic standings will not change, and will remain part of the student’s academic records for the respective terms for which they were earned.

e. If, after the first term of enrollment following readmission under Academic Amnesty, the student’s cumulative GPA falls below the minimum cumulative GPA required for good academic standing in the student’s degree program, the student will be Academically Dismissed, and will not be permitted to submit any further appeals for permission to continue his/her studies through Liberty University.

For readmission to the resident programs, an application for readmission and $50 readmission fee are required.

International Admission
Liberty University is authorized by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to issue the SEVIS Form I-20 to eligible international students and their dependent family members. Any person who is not a U.S. citizen or Legal Permanent Resident of the United States and who desires to be admitted to the University and attend on campus courses while on Student (F-1) Visa Status must follow the procedure established by the Office of International Admissions. Applications for the fall semester should be submitted by April 1 and applications for the spring semester should be made by October 1.

Applicants who have completed secondary education or college-level academic coursework outside of the U.S. must have their transcripts evaluated by a credential evaluation service provider that is a member of the National Association of Credential Services (NACES®).

If a NACES credential evaluation was completed based on a preliminary secondary transcript for the purpose of admission to the University, the student must also submit a NACES evaluation of the final secondary
If an international student is seeking admission to an undergraduate program of study and has earned a high school diploma at an accredited international high school outside of the U.S. using a U.S. high school curriculum and in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school’s Registrar Office.)

If an international student completes an undergraduate degree at an accredited university/college outside of the U.S. in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school’s Registrar Office.)

Students who have attended an American college/university for two or more years may not be required to submit a test of English proficiency.

Information regarding English proficiency tests may be obtained online as follows:

- TOEFL: www.toefl.org;
- IELTS: www.ielts.org;
- PTE: www.pearsonpte.com;

Unmarried students under the age of 21 are required to reside in housing provided by the University. Unmarried students who are 21 years of age or older may choose to reside off campus. It is strongly recommended that a minimum of one semester be spent in University housing to help international students adjust to the local area and culture. On-campus housing is not available for married students or those over the age of 25.

International students must be covered by an adequate health insurance policy each semester of enrollment. A mandatory student health insurance fee is added to the account of international students each fall and spring semester. It is the responsibility of international students to remain enrolled in an adequate health insurance policy while studying at the University.

As part of the admission requirements, international students must document availability of adequate funds to pay for all University-related expenses for the regular nine-month academic schedule. Those who intend to remain during the summer must document additional funds (approximately $4,000 US) for living expenses.

Newly accepted international students are required to complete the International Online Orientation course on their ASIST account.

Parent and Family Connections

The Parent and Family Connections Office provides communication between the University and parents of Liberty University students in order to support student success, generate goodwill for the University, and promote an appropriate role for parents within the campus community.

Additional information on events and services is provided online at www.liberty.edu/casas/.

Admission is governed by policies and procedures developed by the Senate Committee on Academic and Admission Standards.

The mission of Liberty University is to develop Christ-centered men and women with the values, knowledge, and skills essential to impact the world. We expect that our students understand and respect our mission and purpose while enrolled at Liberty University.

Prospective students are assessed according to academic background; personal moral behavior and character; personal philosophy; and willingness to follow Liberty’s rules, regulations, and policies. In the consideration process, the applicant’s complete prior academic record, recommendations, plans for the future, and personal information will be reviewed. Applicants meeting the required standards in these areas will be admitted to one of the academic terms at the University.

Liberty University does not engage in unlawful discrimination or harassment because of race, color, ancestry, religion, age, sex, national origin, pregnancy or childbirth, disability or military veteran status in its educational programs and activities. Liberty University maintains its Christian mission and reserves its right to discriminate on the basis of religion to the extent that applicable law respects its right to act in furtherance of its religious objectives.

The University reserves the right to refuse or revoke admission or readmission to any prospective student or returning student. Any applicant who intentionally withholds pertinent information or who falsifies information may be required to withdraw from Liberty.

The Office of Admissions may request additional documentation from applicants who do not meet admissions standards. If the Office of Admissions determines that the documentation justifies the candidate’s potential for success, the Office of Admissions may present the documentation to the Provost’s Office with a request to admit the student.

The regulations listed herein are subject to change after the date of publication through established procedures. Liberty University reserves the right to make necessary changes without further notice.

Technology Requirements
All Liberty University students in an online program are required to meet the minimum technology requirements as listed at www.liberty.edu/techrequirements.

Application for Admission
Items to be Submitted
Applicants must submit the following items to the Office of Admissions in order to be considered as candidates for admission. A decision will not be made until all documentation has been received and evaluated.

Application for Admission
1. Academic Records
Prior to acceptance, applicants must submit a final official transcript from an accredited high school, an official transcript of the General Educational Development (GED) test scores, or a High School Self-Certification form. Applicants with prior college coursework must submit official transcripts from all colleges attended.
   a. Students may submit a High School Self-Certification form through ASIST in lieu of a final official high school transcript.
   b. Preliminary transcripts – must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-11, and an overall grade point average (GPA), and must be signed by the school administrator.
   c. Final transcripts – must reflect all coursework and final grades received for grades 9-12, a graduation date, and an overall GPA.
   d. Students should refer to www.liberty.edu/online/admission-requirements/ a detailed list of applicable admissions requirements.

The high school transcript, GED requirement, and High School Self-Certification form will be waived if the applicant earned an associate’s degree.
In lieu of a final transcript, Liberty University will accept a preliminary transcript and a self-certification of successful completion of the represented high school program.

In addition, some high school and college transcripts may be waived if they are unobtainable due to circumstances as determined by the Office of Admissions.

Although the University does not require specific high school courses for admission, successful applicants usually have completed at least 4 years of English, 2–3 years of college preparatory mathematics, 2 years of laboratory science, 2 years of social science, 2 years of foreign language, and at least 4 units of elective credits in subjects such as art, music, or drama. A high school diploma must be a standard or advanced diploma, or its equivalent. This curriculum prepares one for the classroom expectations at Liberty University.

Liberty University’s minimum acceptable unweighted (GPA) is 2.00 on a 4.00 scale. Applicants who fail to meet the minimum required GPA will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to perform satisfactorily at the college level as determined by the Office of Admissions.

2. Other Documentation
   If the Admissions Committee determines that additional information is needed in order to make a determination on the applicant’s status, the applicant may be required to submit letters of recommendation or other relevant documentation.

Homeschool Applicants

Homeschooled applicants must submit the above requirements plus:

1. Verification that they have completed the equivalent of a standard secondary school education. This requirement may be satisfied by a statement signed by the parent or guardian, a home-education diploma, or a graduation date posted on the home education records.

2. Verification that the home education was carried out in compliance with applicable commonwealth or state laws. The form of this documentation will vary depending on the state statutes governing home education. The documentation may be a letter from the local school board or public school superintendent, a letter from an umbrella school, or a signed affidavit from the parent or guardian. Students homeschooled outside of the United States must submit a transcript that confirms completion of a secondary education according to an identified standard or authority.

Note: The University recognizes that the academic records of home-educated students widely vary. However, records of academic work plus any evaluations or grades awarded by the parent or other evaluator must be included on the academic records to properly evaluate the applicant’s eligibility for a postsecondary program. See www.liberty.edu/online/homeschool-students/ for a sample home school transcript. Do not submit portfolios, photocopies of awards, or photographs of school projects.

Conditional Enrollment

Conditional Enrollment is not available to students pursuing certificates.

Admission Notification

Applicants must submit all of the required documents to complete the admission file. When all documents have been received and evaluated, applicants will be notified as to whether they have been fully accepted.

Following notification of acceptance, applicants will receive information related to Financial Check-In and course registration.

Transfer Students

Transfer applicants must complete all of the forms that are listed for the initial application procedure.

An official transcript from each college or university that the transfer applicant attended must be sent directly to the Office of Admissions from the Registrar(s) of the respective institution(s) of higher learning.

All students who intend to transfer to Liberty must be eligible for re-enrollment or readmission at the last institution attended. The record is reviewed based on Liberty’s admissions standards. If an applicant’s GPA does not meet Liberty’s admissions standards, even though the applicant may not have been placed on Academic Warning or Probation at the last school attended, the applicant may be denied. Appeals may be granted, and will be evaluated on other indicators of ability to satisfactorily perform at the college level as determined by the Office of Admissions.

Transfer of Credits

All credits must be completed through Liberty University for a certificate program. Courses taken outside of Liberty University cannot transfer into a certificate program.

International Admission

Applicants who have completed secondary education or college-level academic coursework outside of the U.S. must have their transcripts evaluated by a credential evaluation service provider that is a member of the National Association of Credential Services (NACES®).

If NACES credential evaluation was completed based on a preliminary secondary transcript for the purpose of admission to the university, the student must also submit a NACES evaluation of the final secondary credential before being permitted to register for second semester courses.

Applicants whose native language is a language other than English must submit official scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or an approved alternate assessment (see below) Applicants who successfully complete the levels of English-Second-Language (ESL) instruction indicated below at one of two schools will have the TOEFL requirement waived. Students will have their application held until transcripts from one of the below schools are received.

- Level 6: Language Consultants International (LCI) www.englishlc.edu
- Level 109: ELS Educational Services (ELS) www.els.edu

If an international student is seeking admission to an undergraduate program of study and has attended an accredited U.S. high school for a minimum of two years, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived.

If an international student is seeking admission to an undergraduate program of study and has earned a high school diploma at an accredited international high school outside of the U.S. using a U.S. high school curriculum and in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school’s Registrar’s Office.)

If an undergraduate degree at an accredited university/college outside of the U.S. in which the primary medium of instruction is English, the English proficiency test requirement may be waived. (Proof must be submitted in the form of an official statement from the school's Registrar's Office.)

Students who have attended an American college/university for two or more years may not be required to submit a test of English proficiency.

The university offers general admission to its undergraduate program of study to applicants who achieve one of the following scores on a standardized test of English proficiency:

- TOEFL (Internet Based Test or iBT): 61
- International English Language Testing System (IELTS): 6.0
- Pearson Test of English (PTE): 51
- International Test of English Proficiency Academic Plus (iTEP): 3.9

Information regarding the TOEFL may be obtained from:
TOEFL Services
The Education Testing Service
P.O. Box 6151
Princeton, New Jersey 08541

or online at www.toefl.org. Information regarding the IELTS may be obtained online at www.ielts.org and information regarding the PTE may be obtained online at www.pearsonpte.com.

Break In Enrollment
A break in enrollment occurs when a student has not attended a course within an academic year.

Students who break enrollment will be required to follow the certificate requirements in effect at the time of re-entry to the University. Any military students wishing to be readmitted who broke enrollment due to deployment must contact the Office of Military Affairs.

Readmission
Students who have withdrawn from the University or who have broken enrollment must apply for readmission through the Office of Admissions. Admission status is subject to the terms of any previous academic or disciplinary suspension or probation. Re-applicants will be subject to the current Certificate Completion Plan for the program of application. Applicants must provide official transcripts from all educational institutions attended since enrollment at Liberty. Students must receive approval from the Registrar's Office, Student Conduct and Student Accounts before an acceptance decision can be made.

Privacy of Student Records: Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
Students attending, or who have attended, Liberty University are given certain rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (20 U.S.C. 1232g) and Rules of the Department of Education (34 C.F.R. Part 99) implementing this Act.

Additional information and University policies regarding the protection of student records are published online at www.liberty.edu/ferpa.

Enrollment Deposit
The student may pay the $250 enrollment deposit online, over the phone, in person, or by mail to the Resident Admissions Office or at Cashiering & Treasury Services located in the Student Service Center in Green Hall. The deposit will be applied as a credit toward the student’s charges for their first semester. An enrollment deposit may be refunded only if the request is in writing and received by May 1 for Fall applicants and December 1 for Spring applicants. The student may request to have the deposit refunded by emailing admissions@liberty.edu or writing to Liberty University
1971 University Blvd.
Lynchburg, VA 24515

The enrollment deposit is non-transferable and non-refundable after the above mentioned deadlines. Should the student decide to attend in a subsequent semester, the deposit may be deferred for up to one academic year. However, if a student updates their application to any other semester, the student will no longer be eligible for a refund.

Financial Check-In (FCI)
Financial Check-In (FCI) is Liberty University’s online system that secures financial arrangements with the University for direct charges like tuition and fees, to include prior, current, and/or future balances. All resident students are required to complete FCI each semester prior to attending a class or arriving on campus. Current deadlines, procedures, and payment options can be viewed on the Student Financial Services webpage: http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/. Students who do not complete FCI by the published deadline will be subject to having courses and housing (if applicable) dropped and may be assessed a late FCI fee of $125. FCI deadlines are given in Eastern Standard Time (EST).

Once a student completes FCI, all payments made prior to the beginning of the semester are held in deposit to secure the student’s class schedule and institutional grants or scholarships, and campus housing, as applicable.

- First term residential students: first complete FCI then register for classes.
- Returning residential students: register for courses during the open registration period then complete FCI.

Resident Students Taking Online Courses
Students enrolled in a residential program will be charged residential tuition and fee charges, regardless of whether they enroll in online or residential courses. They are also subject to all residential policies and deadlines for FCI.

Non-attending Or Non-returning Students
If a new student decides not to attend and drops their course(s), they should contact the Admissions Office in order to request a refund of the initial payments (excluding payments covering non-refundable fees). If a current student decides not to return, the Student Advocate Office must be notified in writing with a request for refund of the initial payments (excluding payments covering non-refundable fees) prior to the last day of drop/add week. This written request may be sent to sao@liberty.edu.
Without prior written notification, the student is subject to the conditions described in the official withdrawal policy (explained below).

Payments On Student Account
Payments on a student’s account can be made by check, ACH, money order, cashier’s check, credit/debit card, online via the student’s ASIST account, or through Liberty’s International payment portal (for international students only). Liberty University cannot process payments from non-U.S. bank accounts, money markets, trusts, home equity, or savings accounts. Cash payments are received at Cashiering & Treasury Services located in the Student Service Center in Green Hall. Liberty accepts international payments through Liberty's International Payment Portal (https://www.flywire.com/pay/liberty) powered by Flywire.

By using Liberty's International payment portal, the student can:

- Execute, track, and confirm international payments online.
- Choose payment options from their home country.
- Access a 24/7 multilingual Customer Support Team.
- Save on bank fees and ensure the best exchange rates with Flywire's Best Price Guarantee (https://www.flywire.com/priceguarantee).

A student's account must be paid in full prior to registering for any future courses. When a student completes FCI for a future term and then becomes delinquent in the current term, or financial aid funds are returned and causes a balance owed, the resulting balance must be resolved prior to future registration. In this circumstance, the student should consult a Student Accounts Contact Center Agent to discuss payment options.

Monthly account statements are sent to current students who have an outstanding account balance via their Liberty email address.

Please visit the Student Financial Services webpage for current information on procedures, payment options, and schedules: http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/.

Payment Plans

The University may offer the student the option of paying remaining balances through a monthly payment plan as an alternative to paying in full. Payment plan options will vary depending upon when Financial Check-In is completed. Payment plans are interest-free and include a non-refundable $50 participation fee. The participation fee is factored into the student's total balance and is charged for each semester that a student participates in a payment plan. Special payment plans with varying fees may be offered to students with delinquent balances.

Payment plans are scheduled with automatic monthly drafts. The initial payment is due immediately upon acceptance of the payment plan and the remaining installments are automatically processed on the scheduled draft date from the established checking account or debit/credit card.

It is the responsibility of the student to maintain current and valid bank or credit card information on their account. Under the payment plan agreement, the student must ensure that the account has sufficient funds at the time of the scheduled drafts. When using a debit/credit card, the student must check with the bank or credit card company that the daily spending limit can accommodate the draft amount. The bank or credit card account must be from an institution that participates in automatic draft programs.

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that all financial aid estimates are reflected correctly prior to the processing of the first draft. If changes or payments are added, removed, or adjusted after the payment plan is in place which result in an increase or decrease in the remaining balance, it is the responsibility of the student to review and make any adjustments to the payment plan. Any payment(s) made outside of the payment plan will not prevent the next scheduled draft from being processed. The student may confirm any changes by reconfirming FCI. The system will calculate and display the new draft amounts in FCI, and once completed, the FCI receipt page will display the updated draft amount(s). If the student fails to reconfirm FCI to confirm the updated drafts, the previously confirmed draft amount(s) will be processed and the student is responsible to pay any remaining balance.

While it remains the responsibility of the student to manage adjustments to the payment plan, Liberty University reserves the right to adjust a payment plan down as necessary. The University also reserves the right to cancel/terminate a payment plan for any reason and/or remove a student from a financially checked-in status. The student may be removed from classes, have services suspended, and/or have curriculum access blocked.

Failed Payment Processing Fee

A student will be charged a non-refundable failed payment processing fee for each returned or declined payment made via check, ACH, debit card automatic draft, and credit card automatic draft. If a student accumulates three or more returned or declined payments within a year, the student:

- May be ineligible to participate in a payment plan
- May not be able to make online payments via ACH

Check Cashing

As a courtesy to currently enrolled students, Cashiering & Treasury Services will cash checks from parents, the student’s personal checking account, or a Liberty University payroll check.

The maximum amount that may be cashed is $50 per week, and a $1 fee will be assessed for each cashed check. If a check is returned or declined for any reason, the student's account will be charged the check amount as well as a returned payment fee. The student may lose the privilege of cashing checks with Liberty University after two offenses.

Flames Pass

The Flames Pass is the official Liberty University ID card. The card can be used for meal plans, Flames Cash, campus events and recreation, authorized building entry, student discounts, and other activities and services. Students may obtain a Flames Pass by submitting a photo online or visiting the ID & Campus Services Office. In the event the card is lost or damaged, the student will incur a $25 replacement fee.

Flames Cash

Flames Cash is a declining balance account accessed through the Flames Pass. Funds added via FCI are available approximately six weeks prior to the start of a term. Funds added online and in-person are available immediately. Flames Cash is accepted at participating on and off campus merchants. Flames Cash provides a convenient and secure way to carry money with no account fees, rolls over from year to year, and can be easily added and managed online.

BankMobile

BankMobile is the University's refund management third-party servicer that disburses refunds, per diems, and stipends for the University. Upon completing FCI for the first time, students will be directed to the BankMobile site where they are able to utilize the single sign on (SSO) option and then choose their refund preference. For information about these refund options, go to www.liberty.edu/refund.
Additional Information

Additional information about the Flames Pass, Flames Cash, and BankMobile can be found online at http://www.liberty.edu/CampusServices.

Books And Supplies

Tuition and fees may not cover the cost of all course materials. Costs will vary according to the student's course of study. The student should purchase any materials that are not covered after registration but prior to the sub-term start date (course activation). Liberty does not guarantee that required course materials will be available after the sub-term start date.

Resident students using financial aid or payment plans can pay for books and supplies by requesting a book voucher advance for use at the on-campus bookstore. To estimate the amount needed for the book voucher, contact the Liberty University Campus Bookstore. Students can add funds to a book voucher through FCI. Any amount added to the voucher that is not covered by the student's credit (if applicable) must be paid out of pocket.

- New Student Book Dollars: a one-time award given to qualifying students upon completion of FCI. Amount of award will be determined according to the FCI completion date.
- Book Vouchers: students can include funds through FCI to be transferred to the book store as a book voucher.
- Flames Cash: funds can be applied to a Flames Cash Account and used at the bookstore as well as other approved participating merchants. Current information is found at www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?pid=21106.

Personal Needs

Laundry, cleaning, spending money, items related to personal grooming, towels, sheets, pillow, off-campus transportation, etc., vary by individual and are the student's responsibility.

Activity Fee

All resident students are required to pay an activity fee each semester (Fall and Spring). This fee provides access to Liberty University activities, admission to athletic events, access to the LaHaye Student Union recreational facilities and helps to offset the cost of other resources dedicated to student activities. Regardless of residence status, all students are subject to this fee. This fee is not pro-rated for part-time students.

Health Fee

All residential students are required to pay a health fee each semester (Fall and Spring). Services covered by the health fee can be reviewed at this link: https://www.lustudenthealth.com/lu-student-health.html. This fee is not pro-rated for part-time students.

Liberty University requires students to be immunized according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention guidelines before classes begin each semester. Students who do not submit documentation of immunizations and medical history will have a health records late fee added to their student account.

International Health Insurance

For information about this fee, please visit https://www.liberty.edu/academics/casas/isc/index.cfm?PID=8251.

Course, Online Content, Material, And Inclusive Access Fees

The student is responsible for paying applicable course fees, online content fees (including e-Books), material fees, inclusive access fees, and fees charged for special elective-type courses by organizations other than the University. A list of these fees is published on the Student Financial Services webpage (http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/). Most fees are non-refundable unless stated otherwise.

The inclusive access fee includes electronic access to required course content and direct access to Blackboard at any time and on any device. If applicable, the fee may cover the cost of printed course materials for online courses. The fee is required and is non-refundable.

Nursing Fee

Residential undergraduate students who have declared a nursing major will be charged a Nursing Semester Fee each semester (Fall and Spring).

Housing Fee

An eligible student living in University housing is required to pay the applicable housing fee each semester depending on location and amenities as outlined in the housing policy: https://www.liberty.edu/studentaffairs/residencelife/index.cfm?PID=462.

If a student moves into the residence hall, and then withdraws or is allowed to move off campus at any point during the academic year, a portion of the housing fee may be prorated back to the student's account based on the date that the student removes items from the residence hall (see regulations in the Student Affairs section of this publication).

In the Spring semester, if a student does not remove items from the previous semester and withdraws the student may be charged a prorated amount of the housing fee based on the date of removal of items.

The student must check with the Office of Residence Life if they are considering moving off campus or withdrawing prior to the end of the academic year after completing FCI.

Dining Fee

Any student living in University housing is also required to pay the applicable dining fees each semester. The fee covers the selected resident dining plan in the University dining hall and other dining locations on campus. This requirement allows students to focus on academics and extracurricular activities rather than on basic needs such as food and shelter. The required dining plan for students living in University housing promotes healthy living, social engagement, and the residential community experience.

If a student moves into the residence hall, and then withdraws or is allowed to move off campus during the academic year, a portion of the dining fee may be prorated based on the date that the student removes items from the residence hall and/or the last date that their meal plan was used.
New Student Assessment Fees
All new resident students, both freshman and college transfer students, are required to take a computer assessment. If a student transfers a course that demonstrates competency in the required computer skills, the test requirement may be waived.

Students have the option to take assessments in English and Math. These assessments aid in placing students in the appropriate course levels in these disciplines. An assessment fee will be applied to the student’s account for each assessment taken.

Withdrawal Fee
A $50 fee will be charged for the processing of an official, unofficial, medical, or administrative withdrawal.

Graduation Application Fee
All graduating students must complete a graduation application through their ASIST account. A $100 graduation application fee is automatically assessed when the application is processed, not upon degree conferral. This non-refundable fee is not contingent on the student’s attendance at graduation events or activities.

Certificate Completion Application Fee
A certificate completion application fee is automatically assessed by Registrar near the time of the Certificate Completion Application, not certificate conferral. This is a non-refundable fee.

Fee Appeal Policy
Resident students may appeal a Late Financial Check-In Fee, returned payment fee, or activity fee by submitting a written appeal online to the Student Accounts Office within 30 business days of the billing/notification. The student may fill out the fee appeal form at www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=20659 and must attach all supporting documentation. The student will receive a response within 30 days of receipt of the appeal.

If a student would like to appeal any other charge, they may submit a written appeal to the department that assessed the charge.

Students repeating flight courses may have their flight fee waived. Contact Student Accounts for more information.

Refund Policy For Enrolled Students
Enrolled qualified students can receive a refund from their student account once all financial obligations have been met and a credit balance remains.

FCI provides students with two credit-management options through the Authorizations page of FCI.

• By Selecting ‘Hold my credit’ a student authorizes Liberty University to hold a Title IV credit balance for a future term.

• By Selecting ‘Refund my credit’ a student authorizes Liberty University to release a Title IV refund to the student (in all cases except Parent Plus loan refunds).

Credit from Title IV must be refunded via a student’s selected refund preference. At the end of each academic year, all Title IV (Federal Grants and Federal Loans) credit balances must be refunded or returned to the U.S. Department of Education in the case of federal student loans. Credit balances will ONLY be refunded to the student.

Refunds will be released by the University and then disbursed by BankMobile. After completing Financial Check-In for the first time, students will be directed to the BankMobile site where they are able to utilize the single sign on (SSO) option and then choose their refund preference. Students should log into myLU.liberty.edu and choose the “Refund Selection Portal” in the My Access Widget. They will be redirected to the BankMobile site to choose their refund preference. Once a refund has been received by BankMobile, the funds will be made available for the student to access through the following options:

• Deposit to another bank account

• Deposit to a BankMobile Vibe Account

• Paper check

Title IV Refunds
(Federal Direct Subsidized Loan, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan, Federal Direct Parent PLUS loans, Federal Pell Grant, FSEOG, etc.)

Within the FCI process, students authorize the handling of a credit balance on their student account. The funds may be held throughout the academic year and apply to any account balance, or students can authorize the credit balance to be refunded.

Liberty University encourages students to only borrow the minimum amount of loans to cover direct charges. Students who wish to reduce their loans to eliminate a credit balance to refund may do so by completing a Loan Change Form in ASIST.

Title IV aid, in addition to institutional and State aid, is disbursed 21 days after the student becomes eligible. Title IV refunds begin processing on day 25, but all are processed within 14 days from when aid is disbursed in accordance with federal regulations.

Credits from Parent PLUS loans will be refunded to the loan borrower in the form of a check, unless written authorization is submitted to the Financial Aid Office stating that the refund may be sent to the student.

For more information about disbursements, visit the Student Financial Services homepage under the Disbursement Process link for more information at http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/.

Refunds Unrelated to Title IV Aid
For credit balances not made up of federal aid, the student may submit a refund request to the Student Accounts Office. A refund from credit or debit card payments will be refunded back to the original payment card.

Written requests must be sent to:

• studentrefunds@liberty.edu

Official Withdrawal Policy For Resident Students
Liberty University is committed to the success of every student and will work with each student to determine the best way to handle any financial and/or academic challenges. Withdrawals from Liberty University fall under different categories: academic, administrative, medical or personal. To begin an official withdrawal from Liberty University the student must stop by, in person, to meet with the Resident Student Advocate Office.
Resident students who must withdraw due to military deployment are required to meet with the Student Advocate Office with a copy of their orders. They will then be referred to the Military Affairs Office.

- Resident Student:
  - Withdrawing from individual courses while maintaining enrollment in others does not constitute a total withdrawal.
  - Students requesting to withdraw from courses during the semester must submit a Withdrawal Form to the Registrar. Generally, the withdrawal date will be the date the student submitted the form to the Registrar.
  - No refund will be issued for resident students withdrawing from individual courses, and all billing hours will remain on the student’s account.

For more information, please visit www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=25048.

- Intensives and Summer School
  - A resident student who withdraws from an on-campus intensive or summer class will be assigned a grade of "W" for that class and will be responsible for all tuition and fees.
  - Additional information is available on the Registrar’s web page at https://www.liberty.edu/academics/registrar/index.cfm?PID=20052.

Unofficial Withdrawal

The University has established a procedure, in accordance with Title IV regulations, to determine if students enrolled in courses are progressing toward the completion of their courses. The Title IV regulations require universities to have a mechanism in place for determining whether or not a student who began a course, and received or could have received a disbursement of Title IV funds, unofficially withdrew.

Students who have begun, yet cease to submit any academic assignments (such as an examination, written paper or project, discussion board post, or other academic event) during the enrollment period, will be assigned grades of FN. Students receiving all FN’s in a semester will be processed as an unofficial withdrawal. The withdrawal date is the last date an academic assignment was submitted during the enrollment period. A Title IV withdrawal calculation will be performed and the student will be reported as withdrawn. Students will be notified by the Financial Aid Office regarding the results of the Title IV withdrawal calculation. The student will be responsible for any remaining account balance.

Medical Withdrawal Policy

This applies to resident students only and only for medical conditions documented by a licensed physician. Tuition, housing fee (if applicable), and some fees may be prorated according to the date of withdrawal. The student is responsible for 100% of non-refundable fees.

Withdrawal Refund Policy

Resident students are considered withdrawn from the University if they withdraw from all courses for the semester.

- Any resident student who withdraws from the University and completes the official withdrawal procedure will receive a refund of tuition and some fees as follows:
  a. 100% will be credited if a student withdraws during the first week of the semester
  b. 50% will be credited if a student withdraws during the second, third or fourth week of the semester
  c. 25% will be credited if a student withdraws during the fifth through eighth week of the semester
  d. No tuition or fees will be credited after the eighth week of the semester

- The dining plan charge may be prorated based on the date of the withdrawal. Any Dining Dollars or Flames Cash allocation of the dining plan will not be refunded.
- Commuter meal plans are non-refundable and will not be prorated.
- If a student moves into the residence hall, and then withdraws or is allowed to move off campus at any point during the academic year, a portion of the housing fee may be prorated back to the student's account based on the date that the student removes all items from the residence hall (see regulations in the Student Affairs section of this publication).
- In the Spring semester, if a student does not remove items from the previous semester and withdraws, the student will be charged a prorated amount of the housing fee based on the date of removal of all items.

Students must check with the Office of Residence Life if considering moving off campus or withdrawing prior to the end of the academic year after completing FCI.

Intensives

Intensives: The start of the course is defined as the first day that the course begins; it is not necessarily the first day of the in-class portion of the intensive. Some intensive courses require pre-work and/or post-work to be completed. These courses start as soon as the pre-work begins and continue until the last day to submit post-work. Any student who completes the official withdrawal procedure may receive a refund of tuition according to the schedule below. In the event of a total withdrawal, some fees may be prorated. For refund purposes, a week begins at 12:00 a.m. the morning the course starts and closes at 11:59 p.m. seven days later.

1. One-Week Intensive
- 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
- 50% - Start of course to close of the second day
- 25% - Start of course to close of the third day
- 0% - After the close of the third day, the student is liable for all tuition

2. Two-Week Intensive
- 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
- 50% - Start of course to close of the third day
- 25% - Start of course to close of the fifth day
• 0% - After the close of the fifth day, the student is liable for all tuition

3. Three-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the fourth day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the eighth day
   • 0% - After the close of the eighth day, the student is liable for all tuition

4. Four-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the fifth day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the tenth day
   • 0% - After the close of the tenth day, the student is liable for all tuition

5. Five-Week through Eighteen-Week Intensives
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first week, but before submission of the first assignment (first assignment includes Course Requirements Checklist)
   • 75% - Submission of the first assignment through the close of the first quarter (1/4 of the course length)
   • 50% - After the close of the first quarter (1/4), but before the close of the second quarter (1/2 of the course length)
   • 25% - After the close of the second quarter (1/2), but before the close of the third quarter (3/4 of the course length)
   • 0% - After the close of the third quarter (3/4), the student is liable for all tuition

Unpaid Accounts
Tuition, the housing fee (if applicable), and all other costs on a student’s account are payable prior to or at the time of FCI. Students who do not make payment on their account within a reasonable amount of time may be denied access to some University services until such arrangements are made. If a student is 10 or more days delinquent on his account, the student may be removed from classes. Failure to make financial arrangements could ultimately result in removal from university housing and an administrative withdrawal.

Students with unpaid accounts will not be eligible to register for subsequent terms. They will also be ineligible to receive an official transcript or diploma until the account is paid in full.

Additional Information
Additional information regarding the University’s academic and administrative policies and procedures can be found on the University website at www.Liberty.edu or www.Libertyu.com.
Payment Plan Fees:
- Payment Plan Participation Fee - $50 per semester

Student Identity Verification:
- Liberty University does not charge additional fees for student identity verification.

Experiential Learning:
- College Level Examination Program (CLEP)
  - $50 Registration Fee
  - $87 Administration Fee
- Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DSST)
  - $50 Registration Fee
  - $85 Administration Fee
- Institutional Challenge Exam (ICE)
  - $50 Registration Fee
  - $80 Administration Fee
- ICE Student Material Package (Optional) - $45 – Registration Fee
- Portfolio Assessment - $100 Administration Fee

Certificate Programs
The tuition charge for each Certificate Program is the same as its corresponding Undergraduate and Graduate Degree tuition charge.

All Liberty University students are required to abide by the policies outlined in the catalog.

Financial Check-in (FCI)
Financial Check-In (FCI) is Liberty University's online system that secures financial arrangements with the University for direct charges like tuition and fees, to include prior, current, and/or future balances. All online students are required to register and complete FCI each semester prior to attending a class or arriving on campus. Current deadlines, procedures, and payment options can be viewed on the Student Financial Services webpage: http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/.

Students who do not complete FCI by the published deadline will be subject to having courses dropped and may be assessed a late Financial Check-In fee of $125. FCI deadlines are given in Eastern Standard Time (EST).

Once a student completes FCI, all payments made prior to the beginning of the semester are held in deposit to secure the student's class schedule, institutional grants or scholarships, and housing, as applicable.

All online students: register for courses and then complete FCI.

Non-attending Or Non-returning Students
If an online student decides not to attend and drops their course(s), they may request a refund of the initial payments (excluding payments covering non-refundable fees) by emailing luostudentrefunds@liberty.edu.

Payments On Student Account
Payments on a student's account can be made by check, ACH, money order, cashier's check, credit/debit card, online via the student's ASIST account, or through Liberty's International payment portal (for international students only). Liberty University cannot process payments from non-U.S. bank accounts, money markets, trusts, home equity, or savings accounts. Cash payments are received at Cashiering & Treasury

Services located in the Student Service Center in Green Hall. Liberty accepts international payments through Liberty's International Payment Portal (https://www.flywire.com/pay/liberty) powered by Flywire.

By using Liberty’s International payment portal, the student can:
- Execute, track, and confirm international payments online
- Choose payment options from their home country
- Access a 24/7 multilingual Customer Support Team
- Save on bank fees and ensure the best exchange rates with Flywire’s Best Price Guarantee (https://www.flywire.com/priceguarantee)

A student’s account must be paid in full prior to registering for any future courses. When a student completes FCI for a future term and then becomes delinquent in the current term, financial aid is removed or reduced on the account, the resulting balance must be resolved prior to future registration. In this circumstance, the student should consult a Student Accounts Contact Center Agent to discuss payment options.

Monthly account statements are sent to current students who have an outstanding account balance via their Liberty email address.

Please visit the Student Financial Services webpage for current information on procedures, payment options, and schedules: http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/.

Payment Plans
The University may offer a student the option of paying remaining balances through a monthly payment plan as an alternative to paying in full. Payment plan options will vary depending upon when Financial Check-In is completed. Payment plans are interest-free and include a non-refundable $50 participation fee. The participation fee is factored into the student’s total balance and is charged for each semester that a student participates in a payment plan. Special payment plans with varying fees may be offered to students with delinquent balances.

Payment plans are scheduled with automatic monthly drafts. The initial payment is due immediately upon acceptance of the payment plan and the remaining installments are automatically processed on the scheduled draft date from the established checking account or debit/credit card.

It is the responsibility of the student to maintain current and valid bank or credit card information on their account. Under the payment plan agreement, the student must ensure that the account has sufficient funds at the time of the scheduled drafts. When using a debit/credit card, the student must check with the bank or credit card company that the daily spending limit can accommodate the draft amount. The bank or credit card account must be from an institution that participates in automatic draft programs.

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that all financial aid estimates are reflected correctly prior to the processing of the first draft. If charges or payments are added, removed, or adjusted after the payment plan is in place which result in an increase or decrease in the remaining balance, it is the responsibility of the student to review and make any adjustments to the payment plan. Any payment(s) made outside of the payment plan will not prevent the next scheduled draft from being processed. The student may confirm any changes by recompleting FCI. The system will calculate and display new draft amounts in FCI, and once completed, the FCI receipt page will display the updated draft amount(s). If the student fails to recomplete FCI to confirm the adjusted drafts, the previously confirmed draft amount(s) will be processed and the student is responsible to pay any remaining balance.

While it remains the responsibility of the student to manage adjustments to the payment plan, Liberty University reserves the right to adjust a payment plan down as necessary. The University also reserves the right to cancel/terminate a payment plan for any reason and/or remove a student from a financially checked-in status. The student may also be removed from classes, have services suspended, and/or have curriculum access blocked.

Failed Payment Processing Fee
A student will be charged a non-refundable failed payment processing fee for each returned or declined payment made via check, ACH, debit card automatic draft, and credit card automatic draft. If a student accumulates three or more returned or declined payments within a year, the student:

- May be ineligible to participate in a payment plan
- May not be able to make online payments via ACH

Check Cashing
As a courtesy to currently enrolled students, the Cashiering & Treasury Services Office will cash checks from parents, the student's personal checking account, or a Liberty University payroll check. The maximum amount that may be cashed is $50 per week, and a $1 fee will be assessed for each cashed check. If a check is returned or declined for any reason, the student's account will be charged the check amount as well as a returned payment fee. The student may lose the privilege of cashing checks with Liberty University after two offenses.

Flames Pass
The Flames Pass is the official Liberty University ID card. The card can be used for meal plans, Flames Cash, campus events and recreation, authorized building entry, student discounts, and other activities and services. Once Financial Check-In is completed, the student may obtain a Flames Pass by submitting a photo online or visiting the ID & Campus Services Office. In the event the card is lost, the student may purchase a replacement for $25.

Flames Cash
Flames Cash is a declining balance account accessed through the Flames Pass. Funds added via FCI are available approximately six weeks prior to the start of a term. Funds added online and in-person are available immediately. Flames Cash is accepted at participating on and off campus merchants. Flames Cash provides a convenient and secure way to carry money with no account fees, rolls over from year to year, and can be easily added and managed online.

BankMobile
BankMobile is the University’s refund management third-party servicer that disburses refunds, per diems, and stipends for the University. After completing Financial Check-In for the first time, students will be directed to the BankMobile site where they are able to utilize the single sign on (SSO) option and then choose their refund preference. Students should log into myLU.liberty.edu and choose the “Refund Selection Portal” in the My Access Widget. They will be redirected to the BankMobile site to choose their refund preference.

Additional Information
Additional information about the Flames Pass, Flames Cash, and BankMobile can be found online at www.Liberty.edu/CampusServices.

Books And Supplies
Tuition and fees may not cover the cost of all course materials. Costs will vary according to the student’s course of study. The student should purchase any materials that are not covered after registration but prior to the sub-term start date (course activation). Liberty does not guarantee that required course materials will be available after the sub-term start date. All online books and supplies are available online through MBS Direct: www.mbsdirect.net/liberty.

Online students using financial aid or payment plans can pay for course materials by requesting a book voucher advance for use at MBS Direct. To estimate the amount needed for the book voucher, students should contact MBS Direct. If a student has a credit on their Liberty University student account, books and supplies may be charged to the student's account by means of the online book voucher system. Students can add funds to a book voucher through FCI, which is transferred to MBS Direct for the student to use. Any amount added to the voucher that is not covered by the student's credit must be paid out of pocket. Book vouchers for online students can only be used at MBS Direct.

Effective 2018-19, the University will provide online undergraduate students with all of their required books for the online undergraduate course(s) that they are registered for. Online undergraduate students will no longer need or have access to request a Book Voucher.

Any online student taking a Resident or Intensive course may need to purchase their books and supplies through the Liberty University On-Campus Bookstore.

Course, Online Content, Material, And Inclusive Access Fees
The student is responsible for paying applicable course fees, online content fees (including e-Books), material fees, inclusive access fees, and fees charged for special elective-type courses by organizations other than the University. A list of these fees is published on the Student Financial Services’ webpage (http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=296). Most fees are non-refundable unless stated otherwise.

The inclusive access fee includes electronic access to required course content and direct access to Blackboard at any time and on any device. If applicable, the fee may cover the cost of printed course materials for Online courses. The fee is waived for Online undergraduate students taking undergraduate Online courses. Students in the BSN-MSN program at the undergraduate level will have the inclusive access fee waived for any Online undergraduate courses.

Withdrawal Fee
A $50 fee will be charged for the processing of an official, unofficial, or administrative withdrawal.

Graduation Application Fee
All graduating students must complete a graduation application through their ASIST account. A $100 graduation application fee is automatically assessed when the application is submitted, not upon degree conferral.
This non-refundable fee not contingent on the student’s attendance at graduation events or activities.

Certificate Completion Application Fee

A certificate completion application fee is automatically assessed by Registrar near the time of the Certificate Completion Application, not certificate conferral. This is a non-refundable fee.

Technology Fee

In order to continue to provide students with the best online platform, tutoring services, software, IT Helpdesk Support, and updates, the technology fee will be assessed every semester of enrollment.

The technology fee will apply to all students with the exception of military active duty, reserve and National Guard.

Fee Appeal Policy

An online student may appeal a Late Financial Check-In Fee or a returned payment fee by submitting a written appeal online to the Student Accounts Office within 30 business days of the billing/notification. The student may fill out the fee appeal form at www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=20659 and must attach all supporting documentation. The student will receive a response within 30 days of the receipt of the appeal.

If a student would like to appeal any other charge, they may submit a written appeal to the department that assessed the charge.

Students repeating flight courses may have their flight fee waived. Contact Student Accounts for more information.

Online Class Attendance

Regular attendance in online courses is expected throughout the length of any courses the student is taking. Online students who do not attend within the first week of a course by submitting an academic assignment (such as the Course Requirements Checklist, an examination, written paper or project, discussion board post, or other academic assignment) will be dropped from the course roster and will not be allowed to submit further course work. The student may appeal to their instructor to be allowed back in the course.

The student is solely responsible for any course work missed due to non-attendance. A student who presents the instructor with an adequate and documented reason for absence may be given an opportunity to make up the work missed.

Students who attend a course by submitting an academic assignment and then cease progressing toward the completion of the course will be assigned a grade of FN (Failure for Non-Attendance) during the semester.

Refund Policy For Enrolled Students

Enrolled qualified students can receive a refund from their student account once all obligations have been met and a credit balance remains.

FCI provides students with two credit-management options through the Authorizations page of FCI.

- By selecting ‘Hold my credit’ a student authorizes Liberty University to hold a Title IV credit balance for a future term.

- By selecting ‘Refund my credit’ a student authorizes Liberty University to release a Title IV refund to the student (in all cases except Parent PLUS loan refunds).

Credit from Title IV must be refunded via a student’s selected refund preference. At the end of each academic year, all Title IV (Federal Grants and Federal Loans) credit balances must be refunded or returned to the U.S. Department of Education in the case of federal student loans. Credit balances will ONLY be refunded to the student.

Refunds will be released by the University and disbursed by BankMobile.

The student must select a refund preference according to instructions provided with the BankMobile welcome packet. Once a refund has been received by BankMobile, the funds will be made available for the student to access through the following options:

- Deposit to another bank account
- Deposit to a BankMobile Vibe Account
- Paper check

Title IV Refunds

(Federal Direct Subsidized Loan, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan, Federal Direct Parent PLUS loan, Federal Pell Grant, FSEOG, etc.)

Within the FCI process, students authorize the handling of a credit balance on their student account. The funds may be held throughout the academic year and apply to any account balance, or students can authorize the credit balance to be refunded.

Liberty University encourages student to only borrow the minimum amount of loans to cover direct charges. Students who wish to reduce their loans to eliminate a credit balance to refund may do so by completing a Loan Change Form in ASIST.

Title IV aid, in addition to institutional and State aid, is disbursed 21 days after the student becomes eligible. Title IV refunds begin processing on day 25, but all are processed within 14 days from when aid is disbursed in accordance with federal regulations.

Credits from Parent PLUS will be refunded to the loan applicant in the form of a check, unless written authorization is submitted to the Financial Aid Office stating that the refund may be sent to the student.

For more information, visit the Student Financial Services homepage under the Disbursement Process link for more information at http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/.

Refunds Unrelated to Title IV Aid

For credit balances not made up of federal aid, the student may submit a refund request to the Student Accounts Office. A refund from credit or debit card payments will be refunded back to the original payment card. Written requests must be sent to: luorefunds@liberty.edu

Official Withdrawal Policy

Liberty University is committed to the success of every student and will work with each student to determine the best way to handle any financial and/or academic challenges. The online withdrawal categories are: administrative, military, official, and unofficial.

Administrative Withdrawal

An expulsion resulting from violation of the disciplinary system or any other valid reason initiated by the University which is approved by an authorized University administrator will result in an administrative withdrawal. Grades of “W” will be recorded in all courses for which the student is registered.

Military Withdrawal

Online students who must withdraw due to military duties are required to send a copy of their orders and other supporting documentation to the Military Affairs Office. Military Affairs will then review to determine if the student is eligible for an official military withdrawal. Additional information regarding military withdrawals can be found online at www.Liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=26971.

Official Withdrawal

Online students who desire to withdraw from one or more courses in a semester, or the University, must contact the Liberty University Online Academic Advising Department by phone or via their Liberty University webmail account to start the withdrawal process.

A total withdrawal is when a student ceases all active enrollment in a semester. A partial withdrawal is when a student withdraws from the individual course(s), but has active enrollment remaining in the semester of the withdrawal.

If a student withdraws from a sub-term and is registered for course(s) in the future sub-term(s) during the semester of the withdrawal, the student must submit a letter of intent in order to remain in the future courses. If a letter of intent is not submitted with the withdrawal, the student will be automatically dropped from the future sub-terms, resulting in a total withdrawal from the semester.

Unofficial Withdrawal

The University has established a procedure in accordance with Title IV regulations, to determine if students enrolled in courses are progressing toward the completion of their courses. The Title IV regulations require universities to have a mechanism in place for determining whether or not a student who begins a course, and received or could have received a disbursement of Title IV funds, unofficially withdrew.

Students who have begun, yet cease to submit academic assignments (such as an examination, written paper or project, discussion board post, or other academic assignments) during the enrollment period, will be assigned the grade of FN. If a student receives the grade of FN for all courses in a semester and ceases attendance, an unofficial withdrawal will be processed for that semester. The withdrawal date is the last date an academic assignment was submitted during the enrollment period. A Title IV withdrawal calculation will be performed based on the withdrawal date and the student will be reported as withdrawn. Students will be notified by the Financial Aid Office regarding the results of the Title IV withdrawal calculation. The student will be responsible for any remaining account balance.

Withdrawal Refund Policy

Once a withdrawal is processed, the student will need to contact Student Accounts to receive further details about their individual refund.

Students who unofficially withdraw as outlined in the Withdrawal Policy will be charged for full tuition and fees as it applies and will be responsible for any outstanding balance on his or her account.

Any student who completes the official withdrawal procedure may receive a refund of tuition according to the schedule below. In the event of a total withdrawal, some fees may be prorated.

Intensively: The start of the course is defined as the first day that the course begins; it is not necessarily the first day of the in-class portion of the intensive. Some intensive courses require pre-work and/or post-work to be completed. These courses start as soon as the pre-work begins and continue until the last day to submit post-work. Any student who completes the official withdrawal procedure may receive a refund of tuition according to the schedule below. In the event of a total withdrawal, some fees may be prorated. For refund purposes, a week begins at 12:00 a.m. the morning the course starts and closes at 11:59 p.m. seven days later.

Eight-Week Courses

1. 100% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws within the first week of the course, but before submission of the first assignment (first assignment includes the Course Requirements Checklist). The student’s request will be processed as a drop for the purpose of refunding charges only, not for Financial Aid attendance or recalculating of aid.
2. 75% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after submitting their first assignment and through the close of the second week of courses.
3. 50% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the second week of courses, but before the close of the fourth week of courses.
4. 25% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the fourth week of courses, but before the close of the sixth week of courses.
5. No tuition will be credited after the sixth week of courses.

Fifteen-Week and Sixteen-Week Courses

1. 100% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws within the first week of the course, but before submission of the first assignment (first assignment includes Course Requirements Checklist). The student’s request will be processed as a drop for the purpose of refunding charges only, not for Financial Aid attendance or recalculating of aid.
2. 75% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after submitting the first assignment and through the close of the fourth week of courses.
3. 50% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the fourth week of courses, but before the close of the eighth week of courses.
4. 25% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the eighth week of courses, but before the close of the twelfth week of courses.
5. No tuition will be credited after the twelfth week of courses.

Seventeen-Week Courses

1. 100% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws within the first week of the course, but before submission of the first assignment (first assignment includes Course Requirements Checklist). The student’s request will be processed as a drop for the purpose of refunding charges only, not for Financial Aid attendance or recalculating of aid.
2. 75% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after submitting the first assignment and through the close of the fifth week of courses.
3. 50% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the fifth week of courses, but before the close of the ninth week of courses.
4. 25% tuition will be credited if the student withdraws after the ninth week of courses, but before the close of the thirteenth week of courses.
5. No tuition will be credited after the thirteenth week of courses.

Intensives: The start of the course is defined as the first day that the course begins; it is not necessarily the first day of the in-class portion of the intensive. Some intensive courses require pre-work and/or post-work to be completed. These courses start as soon as the pre-work begins and continue until the last day to submit post-work. Any student who completes the official withdrawal procedure may receive a refund of tuition according to the schedule below. In the event of a total withdrawal, mandatory fees may be prorated. For refund purposes, a week begins at 12:00 a.m. the morning the course starts and closes at 11:59 p.m. seven days later.

1. One-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the second day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the third day
   • 0% - After the close of the second day, the student is liable for all tuition.

2. Two-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the third day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the fifth day
   • 0% - After the close of the fifth day, the student is liable for all tuition.

3. Three-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the fourth day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the eighth day
   • 0% - After the close of the eighth day, the student is liable for all tuition.

4. Four-Week Intensive
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first day
   • 50% - Start of course to close of the fifth day
   • 25% - Start of course to close of the tenth day
   • 0% - After the close of the tenth day, the student is liable for all tuition.

5. Five-Week through Eighteen-Week Intensives
   • 100% - Start of course to close of the first week, but before submission of the first assignment (first assignment includes Course Requirements Checklist). The student’s request will be processed as a drop for the purpose of refunding charges only, not for Financial Aid attendance or recalculating of aid.
   • 75% - Submission of the first assignment through the close of the first quarter (1/4 of the course length)
   • 50% - After the close of the first quarter (1/4), but before the close of the second quarter (1/2 of the course length)
   • 25% - After the close of the second quarter (1/2), but before the close of the third quarter (3/4 of the course length)
   • 0% - After the close of the third quarter (3/4), the student is liable for all tuition.

Unpaid Accounts
Tuition, and all other costs on a student’s account are payable prior to or at the time of FCI. If a student is 10 or more days delinquent on his account, the student may be removed from classes. Failure to make financial arrangements could ultimately result in an administrative withdrawal.

Students with unpaid accounts will not be eligible to register for subsequent terms. They will also be ineligible to receive an official transcript or diploma until the account is paid in full.

Additional information regarding the University’s academic and administrative policies and procedures can be found on the University website at www.Liberty.edu/online.

Financial Aid Information & Policies
Ashley Ann Reich, M.A., Ed.S.
Vice President of Student Financial Services

The Financial Aid Office coordinates and administers the financial aid programs for the University. The Financial Aid Office provides financial assistance to students who have a financial need and who would otherwise be unable to attend Liberty University. The student and the student’s family are primarily responsible for the cost of higher education. A student who needs financial assistance is expected to contribute by working or borrowing a reasonable portion of the funds needed for educational expenses. The student’s family, as applicable, is expected to make a maximum effort to assist in the payment of the expenses involved.

Financial aid is available to eligible students to help meet education-related expenses. The types of financial aid available include grants, scholarships, employment, loans and external aid sources. Grants and scholarships are “gift aid” and do not need to be repaid. Employment offered as a type of financial aid is paid at a pre-determined rate for work actually performed. Loans must be repaid to the lender based on the terms of the signed master promissory note and agreed repayment plan, typically after the student leaves school. The Financial Aid Office processes several different forms of external aid for both Online and Residential students. The Financial Aid Office does not approve or deny any form of external aid, but will process what has already been approved by a donor or funding entity.

All applicants for financial aid are required to:
1. Apply for admission to the University;
2. Be degree candidates. Student auditors, dually enrolled high school students and special non-degree students are not eligible for federal financial aid; and
3. Complete, electronically sign, and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) with the U.S. Department of Education (ED) by the Fall priority deadline of January 15th each year in which federal and institutional financial aid is desired. Students are urged to apply early for optimum financial aid benefits. Complete the FAFSA on the web at https://fafsa.ed.gov. The student must add Liberty University, onto the FAFSA under the “School Selection” tab for the Liberty to receive the student’s FAFSA record. Liberty’s school code is 010392. Applicants should use the I.R.S. Data Retrieval Tool to transfer the requested tax information onto the FAFSA to ensure information on the FAFSA is accurate and to save time when completing the FAFSA. If unavailable, the applicant's I.R.S. Tax Return or Tax Return Transcript can be used to manually input the requested income information. If needed, a copy of the Tax Return Transcript can be obtained by going to https://www.irs.gov and selecting “Get a Tax Transcript” under Tools. Lastly, select “Get Transcript Online”, as available.

For new students entering in the Spring semester, the preferred date to file the FAFSA is by October 1.

4. Complete verification or any other aid reviews when required.

Once the completed FAFSA is received by ED, information provided by the student on the FAFSA is used to generate a Student Aid Report (SAR). The SAR indicates the amount of money the student and/or the student’s family is expected to contribute towards the student’s education. This is called the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and is used to determine the student’s financial need.

The student’s financial need is the difference between the Cost of Attendance and the EFC. The Cost of Attendance, regardless of the student’s dependency status, includes the educational expenses of:

- Tuition;
- Room and board (for students living on and off campus);
- Required fees;
- Books and supplies;
- Transportation; and
- Miscellaneous expenses.

The amounts for these six educational expenses are the student’s estimated Cost of Attendance at Liberty University, and they become the student’s budget for financial aid purposes. Only the actual tuition, fees, and room and board (for resident students living in campus housing) are charged on the student’s University bill.

Financial aid recipients are selected on the basis of demonstrated financial need, academic success, and other merits. Most Liberty financial aid awards are based on full time enrollment, which is a minimum of 12 credit hours for an undergraduate student per semester. Federal student loans and federal grants usually require a minimum of half-time enrollment. Please note that normally 15 hours per semester is required to complete a 120 credit hour bachelor’s degree within four years. Each financial aid recipient is issued an Award Notification Letter, which is the University’s official estimate of financial aid. Award Notification Letters are emailed to the student’s Liberty email account. It is the student’s responsibility to review the award letter and notify the Financial Aid Office of any additional aid being received and of any desired reduction or cancellation of the aid offered. Students who want to reduce or decline federal loans that are awarded automatically to eligible students can complete a Loan Change Form in ASIST.

In order for a Liberty University student to continue to receive institutional or federal student aid, the student must maintain Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress. The link to Liberty University’s policy for determining satisfactory academic progress is listed below in the Appeal and Complaint Policies section.

For more information on financial aid, visit the Financial Aid Office located in the Student Service Center at Green Hall or on the Internet web site at http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/financialaid/index.cfm?PID=294.

Financial Aid Withdrawal Policy

When students cease attendance in all classes in a given semester, they will be subject to a proration of all federal, state, and institutional aid. This proration takes into account the total number of days that the student was enrolled. Dropping a course reduces the number of sub-terms for which a student is enrolled and will result in a recalculation of all components that make up the cost of attendance. Lastly, if a student registers full-time and subsequently withdraws from one or more courses which results in his or her remaining enrollment changing from full-time to part-time, the student will be charged the part-time tuition rate for the remaining courses in that semester. If the new tuition rate results in a balance, the student is responsible for paying this balance.

The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/12.1.0.0+2019-20+Financial+Aid+Withdrawal+Policy.

Financial Aid Repeat Policy

Federal regulations limit the amount of federal aid that can be used when repeating a course that has previously been passed with any grade higher than an “F”.

The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/3.2.3.0+2019-20+Financial+Aid+Repeat+Coursework+Policy.

Financial Aid Disbursement Policy

Disbursing aid is the process in which the school pays funds directly to the student’s school account from either internal or external aid sources, which is different from a refund. Financial aid is disbursed 21 days after the student becomes eligible.

The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/10.0.0.0+Financial+Aid+Disbursement+Policy.

Additional information regarding how disbursements work including examples can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=15247.

Federal Title IV Student Aid Programs
Eligibility For Federal Aid
To receive federal aid, a student must:

• Be a United States Citizen or eligible non-citizen;
• Demonstrate financial need (except for certain loans);
• Have a high school diploma, a General Education Development (GED) certificate, or have completed a federal aid eligible homeschool program;
• Be enrolled or accepted for enrollment as a regular student working toward a degree or certificate in an eligible program;
• Certify that you are not in default on a federal student loan and do not owe money on a federal student grant;
• Have a valid Social Security Number;
• Register with the Selective Service if required. You can use the paper or electronic FAFSAASM to register; you can register at https://www.sss.gov, or you can call 1-847-688-6888. (TTY users can call 1-847-688-2567);
• Maintain satisfactory academic progress once in school;
• Certify that you will use federal student aid only for educational purposes.

Federal Pell Grant
Federal Pell Grant awards range from $650 to $6,195 for 2019-2020 and vary from year-to-year. Award amounts are based on cost of attendance, enrollment status (full-time or part-time), and need analysis information provided on the Student Aid Report (SAR). Up to an additional 50% of Pell Grant aid may be available to students in the summer who use their entire Pell Grant in Fall and Spring, known as ‘Year-Round Pell’. To receive Year-Round Pell, students must enroll at least half-time in the summer term and meet all other eligibility requirements. Summer Pell Grants, which are different from Year-Round Pell, may be available to students who did not use their entire Pell Grant in the Fall and Spring terms. Additional information may be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=299.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
The Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) is available for undergraduate students with an Expected Family Contribution of zero. In 2019-20, the maximum award amount is $1,000 and can vary year to year. Students are required to be enrolled at least half-time, which is six credit hours for an undergraduate student, to maintain eligibility for this award. Additional information may be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=299.

Federal Teach Grant Summary
The Federal TEACH grant program is the first federal grant program that requires a service agreement and has the potential of converting to an unsubsidized loan with compounded interest from the original disbursement date. The full policy and statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/3.3.4.0+Federal+TEACH+Grant+Policy.

Federal Direct Student Loans
Federal Direct Student Loans are low interest loans available to students who are enrolled at least half-time. Students demonstrating sufficient need, based on the FAFSA, may be eligible for subsidized loan funds, in which the government pays interest accrued while they are in school and during the grace period. Students who do not have sufficient demonstrated need may be eligible for unsubsidized loan funds, in which the student pays the interest. Students have the option of capitalizing the interest (adding it to the principal) while attending school or making payments on the interest while in school. Repayment begins six (6) months after students graduate, withdraw, break enrollment, or drop below half-time status. We encourage all borrowers to only borrow what is needed to cover educational expenses. Additional information regarding the Federal Direct Student loans can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=20361 and https://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=23344#studentloans.

Federal Direct Parent Loans For Undergraduate Students (PLUS)
Federal Direct Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) are loans available to parents of dependent undergraduate students who are enrolled at least half-time. The Federal Direct Parent PLUS loan is a credit-based loan and, if eligible, parents may borrow up to the full cost of attendance minus all other aid. We encourage all borrowers to only borrow what is needed to cover educational expenses.

Additional information regarding the Federal Direct PLUS loans can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=20361 and https://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=23344#studentloans.

Federal Work Study (FWS)
The Federal Work Study program provides part-time employment opportunities for students who have a demonstrated financial need based on the FAFSA. Students are paid on an hourly basis; pay will be at least the current federal minimum wage. The total amount of aid a student receives from both federal and non-federal sources cannot exceed financial need. The $4,000 Federal Work Study funds cannot be applied toward the student’s account balance during initial Financial Check-In. Federal Work Study is awarded to eligible students with remaining federally defined unmet need. Awards are made until projected program funds are depleted. Students who earn Federal Work Study wages will not have this income count against them in their EFC on the following year's FAFSA.

The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/3.3.3.0+Federal+Work+Study+Program+Policy.

Virginia Student Aid Programs

Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant Program (VTAG)

Established in 1972, the Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant Program (VTAG) is designed to assist Virginia residents who attend accredited private, non-profit colleges and universities in Virginia excluding religious training or theological education. The VTAG is authorized in Chapter 4.1 Section 23-38.11 through 18 of the Code of Virginia as the Tuition Assistance Grant Act.

Applications must be submitted to the Financial Aid Office before the published annual deadline of July 31 in order to be considered for the maximum award amount. For the 2019-2020 academic year, the maximum VTAG award amount is $3,400 for eligible undergraduate students and $1,700 for eligible graduate students. Additional information about VTAG can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=22326.

Virginia Two-year College Transfer Grant (CTG) and CTG Plus Programs

Up to $1,000 can be awarded to students who received an Associate’s degree at a Virginia two-year public institution with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 on a 4.00 scale who are enrolled at a participating four-year institution. Virginia Two Year College Transfer Grant award projections will always be estimated awards until a final State budget is passed and a final roster of students is collected. Please keep in mind that this grant is subject to change based on State budgetary needs. Additional information regarding CTG can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=298.

Rehabilitative Services

State and federal education benefits may be available to assist eligible students with varying degrees of physical disability (paralysis, sight, hearing, etc.). Eligibility requirements differ from agency to agency. For more information, contact the appropriate agency or the Financial Aid Office.

Liberty University Scholarships

General Scholarship Regulations

All recipients of Liberty University institutional scholarships, institutional aid, or any type of federal aid must complete and file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) with the U.S. Department of Education and complete verification, if selected. Virginia residents should also apply for the Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant (VTAG) Program through the Financial Aid Office. Annual application is not required for VTAG unless a student is starting a program at a new level or the student does not use their VTAG eligibility in an academic year. In addition, each Liberty University scholarship recipient must accept all federal and state grants for which they are eligible as a condition of awarding the Liberty University scholarships. All scholarships are awarded for a period of one year, unless otherwise noted. Most resident scholarships are for prospective, full-time undergraduate students unless stated. For details regarding institutional scholarships and eligibility guidelines, please go to https://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=298.

The General Scholarship Rule (GSR)

The full policy statement and procedures are published in the Policy Directory online at https://wiki.os.liberty.edu/display/IE/3.5.4.0+2019-20+Financial+Aid+General+Scholarship+Rule+Policy.

Outside Scholarships

Outside scholarships are scholarships that students will use as additional funding. Scholarships may be awarded from foundations, churches, retail businesses, etc. Additional information about outside scholarships can be found at http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/financialaid/index.cfm?PID=18417.

Standard Corporate Tuition Assistance

Standard Corporate Tuition Assistance is when an employer pays Liberty University directly for classes during the semester. The student must contact his Human Resources department for information concerning continuing education benefits. Details about eligibility requirements and processing Standard Corporate Tuition Assistance can be found at https://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=18417.

Reimbursements

Students who receive tuition benefits after they have completed their courses should request a receipt from the Student Accounts Office at the end of the semester.

Appeal and Complaint Policies

Policies and processes for residential and online students who wish to file a complaint or appeal their financial aid awards are published online at http://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/financialaid/index.cfm?PID=19260.

Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP)

This policy describes the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements and is in addition to and operates separately from the Academic Satisfactory Progress requirements for each academic program.

Office of Military Affairs
Ashley Ann Reich, M.A., Ed.S.
Vice President of Student Financial Services

Emily Foutz, B.S., M.A.
Director of Military Affairs

The Office of Military Affairs is a knowledgeable resource for servicemembers and veterans, to help those who serve achieve their academic goals. The services provided include military and veteran benefit counseling to help each student through the process of requesting Tuition Assistance and veterans benefits, processing and follow-through with the government agencies, and assistance when military deployment, temporary duty, and permanent change of station orders presents a challenge to academic progress.

Military Affairs collaborates with military and veteran organizations to offer a wide variety of military and veteran supportive programs, including GoArmyEd, College of the American Soldier, and the Air University – Associate to Baccalaureate Cooperative (AU-ABC) Program. Liberty University also participates in the Department of Veterans Affairs Yellow Ribbon Program.

For more information, please visit the Military Student web page at http://www.liberty.edu/militaryaffairs.

Policies

Tuition Assistance
Tuition Assistance (TA) is a government benefit offered to current service members of all branches of the Armed Forces to assist with the cost of tuition. Students may find information on the general process to request TA and policies for utilizing Military Tuition Assistance at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/administration/militaryaffairs/index.cfm?PID=10076

Veteran’s Benefits
Liberty University is authorized by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to certify students who qualify for the Montgomery GI Bill (Active Duty/Selected Reserves), Survivors’ and Dependents’ Educational Assistance Program, Reserve Education Assistance Program, as well as those who qualify for the Post-9/11 GI Bill and Vocational Rehabilitation. For students utilizing the Post-9/11 GI Bill or Vocational Rehabilitation benefits, once documentation is received, a projected credit is placed on the student’s account for Financial Check-in. Students must complete Financial Check-In to secure their courses. For students utilizing the Post-9/11 benefit, the required documentation will typically be a copy of their Certificate of Eligibility. If a student does not have a document from the VA with eligibility information, they may submit their application for VA education benefits along with the Eligibility Statement. For Vocational Rehabilitation students, a 28-1905 is required to receive this projected credit. When veterans who are using the Post-9/11 benefit are close to exhausting entitlement, the third party credit cannot be applied. For these students, they will be given a special payment plan that will not require any payment until 90 days into the term. This will give time for all remaining entitlement payments to be received. The military payment plan is available through Financial Check-In for online students using Montgomery, Reserve Education, and Survivors’ and Dependents’ GI Bill benefits. Please note this option will not be made available until after a VA document verifying the chapter of benefit being used is received by the Office of Military Affairs or until after the Office of Military Affairs has verified your eligibility with the VA. The deferred payment plan is available through Financial Check-In for residential students using Montgomery, Reserve Education, and Survivors’ and Dependents’ GI Bill benefits. Please note this option will not be made available until after a VA document verifying the chapter of benefit being used is received by the Office of Military Affairs or until after the Office of Military Affairs has verified your eligibility with the VA.

Students may find information on the general process and policies for using these benefits at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/administration/militaryaffairs/index.cfm?PID=10075.
Grievance Procedure
The Virginia State Approving Agency (SAA) is the approving authority of education and training programs for Virginia. Our office investigates complaints of GI Bill® beneficiaries. While most complaints should initially follow the school grievance policy, if the situation cannot be resolved at the school, the beneficiary should contact our office via email at saa@dvs.virginia.gov.

Contact Information
The Office of Military Affairs is committed to our mission of supporting military service members, veterans, and their families. You may contact a Military Benefits Representative by phone, email, chat, or by visiting one of our locations on campus to meet with a Military Benefits Representative. All contact information can be found at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/administration/militaryaffairs/index.cfm?PID=32028.

GI Bill® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by VA is available at the official U.S. government Web site at https://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/.

Purpose

The mission of the College of Applied Studies and Academic Success (CASAS) is to serve those we encounter through purposeful action and faithful commitment to support academic, career, and life success. To accomplish this, the faculty and staff manage academic testing and advising, Integrative Studies requirements, Academic Success Center, Eagle Scholars Program, Center for Writing and Languages, International Student Center, Student Advocate Office, Parent and Family Connections, and Technical Studies majors as well as Continuing Education courses. For additional information visit www.liberty.edu/casas.

Honor Societies

Tau Sigma Honor Society

Advisors: Dr. Brian C. Yates and Hailey Manicone

Tau Sigma is an academic honor society designed specifically to ‘recognize and promote the academic excellence and involvement of transfer students.’
Tau Sigma was incorporated as a non-profit in 1999 with Auburn University being the home of the first chapter. At that time, Auburn University was becoming increasingly aware of the significant number of transfers on campus as well as the university's inability to adequately serve them. Tau Sigma was born out of Auburn University's desire to improve its service to and recruiting and retention of transfer students.

Today, over 175 other universities have established or are currently establishing Tau Sigma chapters in their efforts to improve the services that they provide to their transfer student population. Although Tau Sigma is a relatively young organization, many members in all parts of the country have become active at their universities, participating in such activities as on-campus recruiting events for prospective transfer students, transfer student orientation, community service projects, assisting the admissions office with the recruitment of prospective transfers at junior colleges, and participating in intramural sports and socials that allow them opportunities to fellowship with one another and make new friends.

The Liberty University Chapter was approved in fall 2008, with the first class inducted in the spring 2009. To be eligible, a student must be a transfer student having transferred at least 24 college credits and achieve at least a 3.50 GPA while taking a minimum of 12 credit hours during the first semester at Liberty University. For additional information, visit www.liberty.edu/tausigma.

Alpha Lambda Delta Honor Society

Advisor: Dr. Marilyn Gadomski

Alpha Lambda Delta (ALD) is a national interdisciplinary honor society founded in 1924 at the University of Illinois to recognize academic excellence among first-year students. The Liberty University Chapter provides Christian, intellectual and social enrichment, along with leadership experience for the officers, for students who will become eligible for the honor societies of their majors.

An invitation for membership is sent to students who meet the following requirements:

- GPA of 3.50 or higher at the end of the first two semesters of college (with no repeats).
- Full-time enrollment pursuing a bachelor's degree.
- Freshman transfer students must have the required GPA on the courses taken during their first semester of enrollment combined with the cumulative average of their transfer credits.

Omega Nu Lambda National Honor Society

Advisors: Dr. Brian C. Yates and Dr. Ester Warren

Omega Nu Lambda is offered exclusively to online undergraduate and graduate students as they start their educational journey to enhance their online experience by recognizing their academic success, providing scholarship opportunities, and fostering new connections with other online students.

The Liberty University Chapter was approved in December 2017 with the first class inducted in February 2018. To be eligible a student must have a 3.2 GPA or higher within their first 15 credit hours at Liberty University. For additional information, visit https://www.liberty.edu/casas/omega-nu-lambda-honor-society/.

Center for Professional & Continuing Education

Director: George Sherman

The Liberty University Center for Professional and Continuing Education (CPCE) provides residential and online professional development and community service activities through credit and noncredit offerings.

Credit offerings include certificate programs and Summer Programming. Certificate programs, generally delivered online, complement undergraduate or graduate degrees, and Summer Programming delivers in-residence academic classes through compressed schedules. Both programs award college credit which supports academic degrees.

Noncredit activities, including instructional services, consultation, technical assistance, and community education classes, conferences, workshops, etc., generally award Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

To effectively serve individuals and organizations, the CPCE offers its services through open enrollment and customized venues. For additional information, visit www.liberty.edu/ce.

Liberty University Online provides opportunities for individuals to enrich their online education in a variety of fields including undergraduate and graduate certificate programs.

Additional information is available online at http://www.liberty.edu/online/programs/certificate.

Center for Writing & Languages

Senior Director: Dr. Tess Stockslager

The Center for Writing and Languages (CWL), formerly known as the University Writing Program (UWP), was established in 2006 as part of Liberty’s efforts to improve graduate student writing. The heart of the CWL is one-on-one coaching. The CWL—the umbrella organization over the Graduate Writing Center (GWC), Undergraduate Writing Center (UWC), Online Writing Center (OWC), and Online Foreign Language Lab (OFLL)—employs advanced students with superior writing and teaching skills to offer individualized writing and language instruction to Liberty University students.

In addition to coaching, the CWL also offers a variety of tools to help students with their writing. The CWL webpage (http://www.liberty.edu/cwl) includes a large collection of resources on common topics such as “commas” or “APA Documentation.” In addition, the web page offers a variety of links to reliable online sources for writing instruction. Through the web page, students can e-mail quick questions to writing-center coaches or offer suggestions for further online writing aids that the CWL should consider developing. Foreign language resources are also available on the Online Foreign Language Lab web page.

The Directors of the CWL are available to faculty for classroom presentations or for help in developing teaching aids, rubrics, or assignments. CWL staff members routinely make presentations on topics such as documentation, common grammar errors, plagiarism, and many other writing and language skills in classrooms and in faculty workshops.

Currently, all CWL services are free of charge to Liberty University students, staff, and faculty. Faculty may download any CWL-produced online materials for use in their classes.

Academic Success Center

Executive Director: Dr. Orlando Lobaina

The Academic Success Center provides a range of programs to meet our students learning needs and support their academic success while at Liberty University. We supplement faculty instruction by providing peer-tutoring, academic coaching, critical skill workshops, and study skills courses:

Graduate Writing Center
The GWC offers writing-related services tailored to the University's residential graduate population by providing success courses:

- GRST 500 Introduction to Graduate Writing (0 c.h.)
- GRST 501 Graduate Success Strategies (0 c.h.)

Faculty members are supported as they seek to incorporate writing instruction in their classrooms. The GWC also offers help to any Liberty University affiliated scholars seeking to publish or present their work in professional venues. A trained coach will review drafts and offer feedback, suggestions for revision, and personalized instruction on all aspects of the writing process. Coaches can help with brainstorming, grammar, punctuation, content, organization, and documentation, and help is available to students from the earliest stages of a program through the thesis or dissertation.

Residential students or faculty may contact the center by calling (434) 592-7741 or by emailing writing@liberty.edu.

Undergraduate Writing Center
The Undergraduate Writing Center (UWC) was established as part of Liberty's efforts to improve student writing. Formed in 2008, the UWC builds on the programs and services already established in the Graduate Writing Center (GWC).

The heart of the UWC is one-on-one coaching. The UWC employs advanced students with superior writing and teaching skills to offer individualized writing instruction to any Liberty University undergraduate student. Residential students can schedule appointments with the UWC, and a coach will review their drafts and offer feedback, suggestions for revision, and personalized instruction on all aspects of the writing process. Coaches can help with brainstorming, grammar, punctuation, content, organization, and documentation, and they are available from the earliest stages of a program through the capstone project.

Residential students or faculty may contact the center by calling (434) 592-7741 or by emailing writing@liberty.edu.

Online Writing Center
Director: Dr. Shelah Simpson

The Online Writing Center (OWC) was established as part of Liberty's efforts to improve student writing and thus offers writing-related services to the University's online student population and by providing success courses:

- GRST 500 Introduction to Graduate Writing (0 c.h.)
- GRST 501 Graduate Success Strategies (0 c.h.)

Through the Online Writing Center web page (http://www.liberty.edu/ onlinewritingcenter), online students can submit drafts of upcoming assignments to receive coach feedback, schedule appointments to speak online with a coach, e-mail quick questions to coaches, or offer suggestions for further online writing aids that the OWC should consider developing. Students may contact the OWC by emailing onlinewriting@liberty.edu.

Online Foreign Language Lab
Director: Dr. Alisha Castañeda

In August 2012, the Center for Writing and Languages (CWL) opened the Online Foreign Language Lab (OFLL). The OFLL provides free one-on-one coaching sessions for students studying German, Mandarin, French, Spanish, and English as a second language (ESL) through the Liberty University Online conversational language courses.

The OFLL employs highly qualified individuals with native-speaking ability who not only meet the language standards but are also skilled in effectively coaching and teaching essential language skills. These coaches provide personalized instruction in all areas related to language acquisition, including grammar, vocabulary, appropriate writing style, and oral and auditory practice and development. Considering the long-distance nature of online learning, students will meet with coaches via Skype and Google Hangouts. To find out more information about this center and scheduling an appointment, students can contact the OFLL by any of the following methods:

Website: www.liberty.edu/online/casas/foreign-language-lab
Email: onlinefll@liberty.edu
Phone: (434) 592-6514

Eagle Scholars Program
Coordinator: Frank DiGregorio

The Eagle Scholars Program provides high achieving freshman and sophomore students the training necessary for personal and professional development to become leaders throughout college and beyond. This program fosters a sense of community, bolsters academic knowledge and provides leadership and professional experience. For more information, please visit the Eagle Scholars website at http://www.liberty.edu/eaglescholars.

Students in the Eagle Scholars Program take a series of four courses to complete the program.

International Student Center
The C. Daniel Kim International Student Center (ISC) opened its doors in the spring of 2004 to meet the needs of the growing body of international students at Liberty University. The ISC now sponsors more than 50 events per year celebrating international students and their cultures and giving international students an opportunity to enjoy their experience in the U.S.

The International Student Center is the primary location for information and activities for current international students. International Student Advisors, the International Student Retention Specialist, the International Student Operations Coordinator and Office Manager, the International Student Operations Assistant and Health Insurance representative, and an embedded Student Accounts representative are all housed in the International Student Center. More information regarding the ISC and additional information for international students is provided at www.liberty.edu/international.

Research Intensive Courses
All research intensive courses are listed online at https://www.liberty.edu/academics/qualityenhancement/index.cfm?PID=32835.

Purpose
The purpose of the College of Arts & Sciences is to develop Christ-centered lifelong learners who think critically, live morally, and act skillfully to make contributions in their workplaces, communities, and around the world. They will be equipped with the essential knowledge, values, and skills in disciplines focused on philosophical, cultural, and scientific achievements. Graduates from the College of Arts & Sciences will be able to apply, communicate, and expand the knowledge they have gained as they seek to glorify God in fulfilling the Great Commission.

Departments of the College include English, Family & Consumer Sciences, History, Mathematics, Modern Languages, and Philosophy. The College offers learning opportunities in American Sign Language, family and consumer sciences, fashion merchandising, child development, interior design, Chinese, English, French, Spanish, Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language, geography, history, humanities, linguistics, mathematics, military science, philosophy, physical science, physics, and social sciences.

Teacher Licensure
Liberty University offers teacher licensure programs which are approved by the State of Virginia Department of Education. Among the options available to students through the College of Arts & Sciences are courses of study leading to licensure in English, family and consumer sciences, history/social science, mathematics, Spanish, and Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language.

Those who enter the teacher licensure program must complete the academic major, be subject to the same general education requirements as all other students, and complete academic and practicum experiences related to professional teacher training.

Those wishing to pursue teacher-related programs should seek information from the Teacher Licensure Office in the School of Education. Licensure information is also available at www.liberty.edu/uguide.

Center for Creation Studies

Dr. Marcus Ross, B.S., M.S., Ph.D.
Director, Center for Creation Studies
Professor of Geology

The Center for Creation Studies is an interdisciplinary education and research institute committed to the study of the origin of the universe, the earth, life, and diversification of species. This study draws upon knowledge from religion, science, philosophy, and history.

The primary educational activity of the Center is the presentation of CRST 290 History of Life (3 c.h.), and CRST 390 Origins (3 c.h.). These courses provide introductory and in-depth investigations, respectively, into the current creation-evolution controversy by surveying evidences and arguments from a diversity of intellectual fields and from various viewpoints and perspectives.

Exhibits, currently located in the Center for Natural Sciences, teach concepts of the creation model, describe creationist research, and glorify the Creator of the heavens and the Earth.

Purpose
The purpose of the Center for Creation Studies is to promote the development of a consistent biblical view of origins in our students. The Center seeks to equip students to contend for their faith in the creation account in Genesis using science, reason, and the Scriptures. The minor in Creation Studies provides a flexible program with a broad training in various disciplines that relate to origins as well as the Bible. Students in both science or non-science majors will benefit from an in-depth study of creation and evolution.

Creation Studies Minor

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Analyze the data relating to the issues of creation and evolution.
2. Provide scientific and biblical arguments that support a literal interpretation of the biblical account of world history.

English & Writing Major (B.S.)

Purpose
Liberty University’s BS English and Writing program provides instruction in literary history, context, theory, as well as the writing processes which lead to the various mediums of written communication. It prepares students for a wide variety of careers related to language arts, technical, professional, or creative writing. Toward this end, the program seeks to 1) develop the necessary curricular offerings and practical opportunities for student achievement in the areas of literary criticism; syntactical, rhetorical, critical and creative features of writing; and a well-developed understanding of the Christian worldview; 2) develop strategies for providing students with both curricular and practical opportunities which make the most efficient and effective use of the department’s academic, physical, and budgetary resources; and 3) to provide graduates with the highest quality of professional preparation.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Write grammatically, clearly, and logically.
2. Analyze whether a written text follows the conventions of its given genre or style.
3. Produce a piece of writing that follows conventions of a given genre or style.
4. Produce research that uses methods and sources appropriate to a given genre or style.
5. Evaluate various forms of writing in the context of a Christian worldview.

Courses
ENGL 000 English Assessment 0 Credit Hours

ENGL 100 Basic Composition 3 Credit Hours
This course focuses on proficiency in grammar, paragraph development, writing basic essays, and the writing process in general. A minimum of three paragraphs and two essays will be required. ENGL 100 does not meet the general education requirements in English but does offer three elective credits.

ENGL 101 Composition and Rhetoric 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: ENGL 100 or ESOL 100 or Placement Score-English with a score of 070

Through the critical engagement of a variety of texts, including written, oral, and visual, this course prepares students to become careful readers, critical thinkers, and skilled writers. Drawing upon rhetorical theory, it emphasizes the practices of analytical reading, informed reasoning, effective writing, and sound argumentation. The course requires 4,000 words of writing in no fewer than five writing projects, three of which are argumentative essays incorporating external sources.

ENGL 102 Composition and Literature 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: ENGL 101

Composition and Literature continues the emphasis on writing. Two analytical papers - based upon studies of the short story, poetry, and drama - and a research paper, sequentially developed, are required.

ENGL 103 Technical Communication for the Professions 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: ENGL 101

Technical communication refers to all communication done on the job, and this course has been designed for those individuals who seek an associate’s degree and wish to communicate effectively in their chosen professional field. The instructor will focus on on-the-job communication, including written documents such as resumes and cover letters to get job interviews.

ENGL 111 Introduction to Documentation 1 Credit Hour

A documentation course on the necessary knowledge and skills to successfully format a research paper and document primary and secondary sources as required in a discipline.

Offered: Online

ENGL 201 American Literature I 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: ENGL 101 and (ENGL 102 or MUSC 200)

A survey from the early Colonial period through the American Renaissance. Two critical papers are required.

English Major (B.A.)

Purpose
Liberty University’s English program provides instruction in the theory and practice of writing and in the analysis and criticism of literature in order to prepare students for careers and for graduate study in language arts and language arts education, and for a life of growing appreciation for the language arts. Toward this end, the program seeks:

1. to develop the necessary curricular offerings and practical opportunities for student achievement in the areas of literary criticism; syntactical, rhetorical, critical and creative features of writing; and a well-developed understanding of the Christian worldview;
2. to develop strategies for providing students with both curricular and practical opportunities which make the most efficient and effective use of the department’s academic, physical, and budgetary resources; and
3. to provide graduates with the highest quality of professional preparation and, for teacher candidates, to meet licensure requirements.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Interpret and evaluate literary and critical texts in the context of a Christian worldview.
2. Formulate and express original ideas based on critical analysis of texts.
3. Analyze relationships between texts and literary and cultural history.
4. Write according to the complex demands of grammar and mechanics, purpose, audience, and discursive style.
5. Research and write in the style appropriate to the field of English.

Department of Family & Consumer Sciences

Dr. Debbie Benoit, B.S., M.A., M.A.T.S., D.Min.
Chair, Department of Family & Consumer Sciences
Associate Professor of Family & Consumer Sciences

Purpose

The purpose of the Family & Consumer Sciences Department is to prepare the student to acquire the values, knowledge, and skills necessary to be proactive to strengthen the function of the contemporary family from a biblical perspective, specifically in the areas of human development/family studies, interior design/housing, food/nutrition, consumer economics/management, and clothing/textiles. The Department actively strives to help the student integrate the knowledge base to synergistically focus on the welfare of the family.

Internships

Advisor: Matalie Howard, B.S., M.S.

Internships (FACS 499 Family/Consumer Internship (1-6 c.h.)) are required for all FACS majors. Students must be of Senior status, FACS major and must have completed 21 hours of major course work.
Fashion Design And Merchandising Association

Advisor: Natalie Howard, B.S., M.S.

The purpose of the Fashion Design and Merchandising Association (FDMA) is to enhance the education and careers of Family and Consumer Science students by providing an introduction to the discipline of Fashion Design and Fashion Merchandising as well as opportunities to cultivate professional attitudes and competencies. Furthermore, the Liberty University Fashion Design and Merchandising Association provides opportunities for service.

Family And Child Development Association

Advisor: Mrs. Janet Brown

The Family & Child Development Association is a club sponsored by the Department of Family & Consumer Sciences that is designed for students enrolled in courses in Family & Child Development program. The purpose of the association is to enhance the education and careers of Family and Child Development students by providing opportunities to cultivate professional attitudes and competencies through guest speakers, activities, networking, and service opportunities.

Interior Design Association

Advisor: Lisa Campbell, B.S., M.S., M.F.A.

The purpose of the Interior Design Association (IDA) is to offer interior design students professional opportunities and exposure within the interior design industry. The Interior Design Association also considers its responsibility to be a promoter and a resource of other interior design organizations such as National Kitchen and Bath, Interior Design Society, WithIT (Woman in the Furniture Industry) and many other professional organizations. Also, the student led organization promotes involvement in the profession throughout the University and community. The IDA offers students opportunities for leadership, friendship, professional experience, and exposure to the interior design industry which includes field trips to places such as the High Point Market in High Point, NC.

Omicron Gamma Phi Honor Society

FACS Honor Society: The Family and Consumer Sciences Department sponsors a FACS honor society that seeks to recognize excellence and Christian commitment among Family and Consumer Science students.

The purpose of the society is symbolized in its name, OMICRON GAMMA PHI. Omicron represents the first letter in the Greek word for family. Gamma is the first letter in the word for science. Phi is the first letter in the word for light. Omicron Gamma signifies that Family and Consumer Sciences is an applied science. The Phi signifies the Christian aspect of the Honor Society.

The purpose of the society is threefold. First, Omicron Gamma Phi encourages and recognizes excellence in scholastic achievement. Second, it seeks to maintain a Christian worldview through the integration of biblical principles with academic content. Third, the society encourages service by the membership.

Criteria for membership:

A student must have:
1. 3.25 cumulative GPA;
2. 45 hours completed; and
3. A major in the FACS department.

Event And Wedding Planning Society

Advisor: Ruth Gomes, B.S., M.S.

The purpose of the Event and Wedding Planning Society is to enhance the education and careers of students interested in the Event and Wedding Planning field by providing an introduction of careers and opportunities to cultivate professional attitudes and competencies. Furthermore, the Liberty University Event and Wedding Planning Society will provide opportunities for service.

STEM Mathematics Major (A.S.)

Purpose

The purpose of the Associate of Science in STEM Mathematics is to present the basic concepts and methods in modern mathematics, to develop the student’s ability to think critically, and to apply these concepts to various disciplines. The degree provides the mathematical background for students preparing for a wide variety of vocations with various STEM fields.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:
1. Solve Problems Using Appropriate Mathematical, Technological, or Scientific Expertise.
2. Use Technology to Solve Mathematical Problems.

Graduation Requirements (A.S.)

1. 60 total hours
2. 2.0 grade point average

Department of History

Samuel C. Smith, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.
Chair, Department of History
Professor of History

Purpose
The History Department is committed to teaching and training students toward a Christian worldview of history. Offering general education courses, major programs and graduate courses, the Department provides comprehensive instruction in history and historical methodology, encourages students to develop an integrated Christian worldview and an appreciation for America's cultural distinctives, equips them for service, and prepares them for further education and careers.

Phi Alpha Theta Honor Society
Advisor: Dr. David Snead

Phi Alpha Theta is dedicated to recognizing and encouraging excellence in the study of history. Chapter activities provide members with opportunities for sharing and advancing their professional interests. Lectures and field trips are designed to awaken historical interest, and to promote interaction between students and faculty. An annual regional meeting builds rapport with chapters at neighboring institutions.

Criteria for membership: An undergraduate student must have completed at least twelve semester hours in history with a grade in all history courses averaging at least a 3.10 and must have a general average of at least a 3.00 in all classes.

Department of Interdisciplinary Studies

Purpose

The Department of Interdisciplinary Studies equips students to join a globalized workforce, gain the abilities to speak across multiple disciplines, effectively communicate new ideas, and manage today’s changing work environments.

Programs

• Interdisciplinary Studies Major (A.A.) (p. 178)
• Interdisciplinary Studies Major (B.A. or B.S.) (p. 181)

Courses

INDS 200 Career Planning and Professional Development 1 Credit Hour

Designed to promote and strengthen early awareness of the career development process. While topics are personalized, competencies include assessing, identifying, and evaluating personal values and personality strengths for career application; conducting specific job research; and solidifying career plans using critical thinking and logic. Students will also develop a proficiency in networking and job search techniques, resume building, and effective interviewing skills for a relevant field of interest. This course also serves as a capstone requirement for the Interdisciplinary Studies AA degree program.

INDS 299 Experiential Learning and Intern/Externship 0 Credit Hours

INDS 299 provides students with hands-on practice as they complete an internship or other experience related to their coursework. Students complete all requirements for the internship or experience. Enrolling in this course documents a student’s experience so they may be identified if they break enrollment or do not participate in a 499 requirement for their program of study. Course results in 0 credit hours.

Offered: Resident and Online

INDS 400 Knowledge Synthesis for Professional and Personal Development 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80

Designed to assess student mastery of content knowledge for the Interdisciplinary Studies degree programs, this capstone course requires students to produce a carefully organized summation and synthesis of accomplishments, learning, and goals related to their undergraduate degree program at Liberty University. Throughout this process, students will discover a greater understanding of transferable skills and qualifications and how these relate to career opportunities and/or graduate school respectively.

Registration Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing in INDS program.

Offered: Resident and Online

INDS 499 Integration of Faith, Learning, and Disciplines 3-6 Credit Hours

INDS 499 provides students with hands-on practice in faith and learning integration as they complete an internship. Course is repeatable with a maximum of six credits.

Registration Restrictions: Department Chair Approval.

Offered: Resident and Online

Interdisciplinary Studies Major (A.A.)

Purpose

The Associate of Arts degree in Interdisciplinary Studies is designed as an intermediate, close-range goal for the adult learner and may act as a bridge to a Bachelor of Science degree. It enables the student to use both inter-college and interdepartmental combinations of courses that will provide a broad pattern of educational experience.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to evidence the synthesis of academic knowledge and Christian values.

Graduation Requirements (A.A.)

1 General Electives: any course not already required in the degree may be applied to requirement; recommended that courses be limited to 2 prefixes

All applicable prerequisites must be met

Graduation Requirements

- 60 Total hours
- 2.0 Overall grade point average
- Grade of 'C' Minimum required for all upper-level courses in the major
- 15 Hours must be completed through Liberty University
- Grad App Submission of Degree Completion Application must be completed within the last semester of a student’s anticipated graduation date
- CSER All Requirements must be satisfied before a degree will be awarded
Interdisciplinary Studies Major (B.A. or B.S.)

Purpose
The Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies majors are designed to offer a degree that enables the student to use both inter-college and interdepartmental combinations of courses that will provide a broad pattern of educational experience.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Synthesize academic knowledge and Christian values.
2. Demonstrate acquisition of core competencies and knowledge in two-three areas of study.
3. Synthesize areas of study with professional development and research knowledge.

Program Application Procedures/Requirements (B.A. or B.S.)

1. Complete Area of Study survey or Change of Major form to select Areas of Study.
2. Approved Areas of Study are located at www.liberty.edu/online/areas-of-study.
3. Review of the requested Areas of Study is made by the Director of INDS, the INDS Degree Coordinator in the Office of Transfer Evaluations and Degree Planning, and the Registrar's Office.
4. Areas of Study may be adjusted by completing the Area of Study survey.
5. Students who break enrollment must resubmit the Area of Study survey.

Area of Study Policies

1. Students will be permitted to select 2-3 Areas of Study from a list of General Areas of Study and Specialized Areas of Study.
2. Students must use at least two different disciplines to create their degree.
   a. Students desiring 2 Areas of Study will not be permitted to use the same discipline for both Areas of Study. Students will not be permitted to use a General Area of Study and a Specialized Area of Study from the same discipline. Students must select two different disciplines from the Areas of Study list.
   b. Students desiring 3 Areas of Study may use one General Area of Study and one Specialized Area of Study in the same discipline, as long as the 3rd Area of Study is from a different discipline.
3. Student must take at least 12 hours of upper-level courses in the major. This requirement includes INDS 400 Knowledge Synthesis for Professional and Personal Development (3 c.h.).
4. Students will be permitted to use the Specialized Area of Study. Teaching English as a Second Language with the Global Studies and Specialized Area of Study: Linguistics with Global Studies.

Graduation Requirements (B.A. or B.S.)

1. Degree must be declared prior to graduating semester.
2. 50% of the major (24 hours) must be completed through Liberty University.
3. 120 total hours; 30 hours of upper-level courses.
4. 30 hours must be completed through LU (Online or Residential)
5. 2.0 grade point average.
6. Grades of "C" or higher in upper-level courses in major.

Additional Information
Liberty University Online offers areas of study in Accounting, Business, Business Management Information Systems, Christian Counseling, Crisis Counseling, Criminal Justice, Education, Life Coaching, Paralegal Studies, Psychology, Religion, Social Sciences, and Special Education. An area of study represents a broad discipline of study at Liberty University.

The Interdisciplinary Studies degree program is individualized to provide flexibility and to give students options to select courses that will help them meet their academic goals. Students may take any course that fits within the discipline of study as indicated by approved prefixes on the following chart, as long as the prerequisite requirements have been met.

This program is not available for students pursuing teacher licensure. This program does not comprise a double major.

Liberty's Interdisciplinary Studies program requires 48 credit hours for the major which includes 45 credits in two or three areas of study. A minimum of 15 credit hours in each area of study is required.

Students must also take INDS 400 Knowledge Synthesis for Professional and Personal Development (3 c.h.), a 3-hour course designed to assess student mastery of content knowledge of the Interdisciplinary Studies program.

Programs of Study
Delivery Format: Residential and Online

- Interdisciplinary Studies (B.S.) - Online (p. 183)
- Interdisciplinary Studies (B.S.) - Resident (p. 184)

Delivery Format: Residential Only

- Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.) - Resident (p. 182)

Career Opportunities

- Prepare for military leadership by combining Military History, Project Management, and Government.
- Work as a logistician by combining Computational Sciences and Business.
- Work as a telemedical technician by combining Business and Computational Sciences.
- Teach English as a second language by combining Education and Social Services.
- Work in parks and recreation by combining Natural Science, Government, and Communications.
- Work as a business translator by combining Business and Language.
- Work as a medical illustrator by combining Natural Science and Fine Arts.
Courses

INDS 200 Career Planning and Professional Development 1 Credit Hour

Designed to promote and strengthen early awareness of the career development process. While topics are personalized, competencies include assessing, identifying, and evaluating personal values and personality strengths for career application; conducting specific job research; and solidifying career plans using critical thinking and logic. Students will also develop a proficiency in networking and job search techniques, resume building, and effective interviewing skills for a relevant field of interest. This course also serves as a capstone requirement for the Interdisciplinary Studies AA degree program.

INDS 299 Experiential Learning and Intern/Externship 0 Credit Hours

INDS 299 provides students with hands-on practice as they complete an internship or other experience related to their coursework. Students complete all requirements for the internship or experience. Enrolling in this course documents a student’s experience so they may be identified if they break enrollment or do not participate in a 499 requirement for their program of study. Course results in 0 credit hours.

Offered: Resident and Online

INDS 400 Knowledge Synthesis for Professional and Personal Development 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80

Designed to assess student mastery of content knowledge for the Interdisciplinary Studies degree programs, this capstone course requires students to produce a carefully organized summation and synthesis of accomplishments, learning, and goals related to their undergraduate degree program at Liberty University. Throughout this process, students will discover a greater understanding of transferable skills and qualifications and how these relate to career opportunities and/or graduate school respectively.

Registration Restrictions: Junior or Senior standing in INDS program.

Offered: Resident and Online

INDS 499 Integration of Faith, Learning, and Disciplines 3-6 Credit Hours

INDS 499 provides students with hands-on practice in faith and learning integration as they complete an internship. Course is repeatable with a maximum of six credits.

Registration Restrictions: Department Chair Approval.

Offered: Resident and Online

Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.) - Resident

Important: This degree plan is effective for those starting this degree program in fall 2019 through summer 2020. This degree plan will remain in effect for students who do not break enrollment or who do not change degree programs, concentrations, or cognates.

Department of Mathematics

Scott N. Long, B.S., M.S., Ph.D.
Chair, Department of Mathematics
Associate Professor of Mathematics

Timothy Van Voorhis, B.S., M.S., Ph.D.
Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics
Associate Professor of Mathematics

Purpose

The Department of Mathematics plans, develops and maintains quality bachelor degree programs that comply with regional accreditation standards. The Department of Mathematics also seeks to maintain efficient, cost effective strategies in the administration and delivery of its degree programs.

The Department of Mathematics offers a major and minor in mathematics. In addition, courses for general education credit are offered in physical science and physics, as well as mathematics. The purpose of the department is to provide:
1. General education courses and support courses for all students, resident and non-resident;
2. Education in both the theory and applications of the mathematical sciences for its majors;
3. An appreciation of the importance of the role the mathematical sciences play in society; and
4. Experience in the use of a Computer Algebra System (CAS) in a laboratory setting.

Kappa Mu Epsilon Honor Society
Advisor: Dr. Ethan Smith

Kappa Mu Epsilon (KME) is a specialized honor society in Mathematics. Each chapter is encouraged to be a working organization throughout the academic year, functioning as an integral part of the mathematics department in the promotion of a number of worthwhile extra-curricular activities. The objective of KME since its inception has been the fulfillment of its motto which is to “develop an appreciation for the beauty of mathematics.” The purposes of KME are to further the interests of mathematics in those schools which place their primary emphasis on the undergraduate program and to recognize and honor outstanding scholastic achievement among undergraduate students in mathematics.

The criteria for membership are as follows:

1. Must be or have been a faculty member or a regularly enrolled student at an institution where a Kappa Mu Epsilon chapter is installed;
2. Must have completed at least three semesters (or five quarters) of the college course and rank in the upper 35% of his/her class;
3. Must have completed at least three college courses in mathematics including at least one semester (or two quarters) of calculus and attained an average of “B” or better in all mathematics courses; and
4. Must have completed at least one semester (one quarter) at the institution, or must have transferred from another institution, and have completed at least one mathematics course with a “B” or better at the institution prior to his/her induction into membership.

Election to membership shall be irrespective of membership in any other organization, and no person shall be excluded on the grounds of sex, race, creed, or color.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Solve problems using the appropriate mathematical expertise.
2. Use abstract reasoning to rigorously evaluate mathematical hypothesis, and formulate and communicate mathematical analysis and arguments.
3. Critically analyze and investigate complex phenomena of the physical and/or socio-economic worlds by representing these problems mathematically.
4. Articulate how a biblical/Christian worldview informs one's vocation and professional practices.
5. Use appropriate technology to solve practical problems, access mathematical information, and develop mathematical insight.

Teacher Licensure
Teacher preparation and endorsements in mathematics are available through the Department of Mathematics in cooperation with the Teacher Education Department in the School of Education. Those wishing to pursue teacher-related programs should seek information from the Teacher Licensure Office in the School of Education. The School of Education is NCATE accredited for teacher education. Licensure information is also available at http://www.liberty.edu/uguide.

Courses
MATH 000 Math Assessment 0 Credit Hours
MATH 100 Fundamentals of Mathematics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 40 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 01)

A review of basic arithmetic and elementary algebra. A grade of C or better is required in order to go on to a higher-numbered mathematics course. This course may not be used in meeting General Education requirements in mathematics. (Developmental Math is a component of the Bruckner Learning Center.)

MATH 100L Fundamentals of Mathematics Companion Lab 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: MATH 100 (may be taken concurrently)

Optional Companion Lab for MATH 100. This course is intended to provide extra assistance to students currently enrolled in MATH 100 through synchronous lecture and question/answer sessions.

Offered: Online

MATH 108 Elementary and Intermediate Algebra 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 09 or SAT Section Math with a score of 470 or ACT Math with a score of 17 or (pre2016 post1995)SAT Math with a score of 470

This course is a self-paced computer-based review of rational numbers, exponents, polynomials, factoring, roots and radicals, graphing, rational expressions, equations and inequalities, systems of linear equations, and problem solving. It meets the prerequisite requirements for MATH 115, 117, 121, 125, 201, 217. Credit may not be earned for both MATH 108 and 110. This course may not be used to meet the General Education Requirements. (Developmental Math is a component of the Bruckner Learning Center.)

Offered: Resident

MATH 109 Beginning/Intermediate Algebra 3 Credit Hours

MATH 110 Intermediate Algebra 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 100 or Placement Score-Math with a score of 070 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23)

Review of exponents, polynomials, factoring, roots and radicals, graphing, rational expressions, equations and inequalities, systems of linear equations and problem solving. This course may not be used to meet the General Education requirement. (Developmental Math is a component of the Bruckner Learning Center.)

MATH 110L Intermediate Algebra Companion Lab 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: MATH 110 (may be taken concurrently)

Optional Companion Lab for MATH 110. The course is intended to provide extra assistance to students currently enrolled in MATH 110 through synchronous lecture and question/answer sessions.

Offered: Online

MATH 112 Technical Mathematics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (pre2016 post1995)SAT Math with a score of 490 or SAT Section Math with a score of 490 or ACT Math with a score of 18 or MATH 100

Technical Mathematics presents a review of arithmetic, elements of algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and vectors. Direct applications are made to technical study areas. Only fulfills General Education requirements for AAS degrees.

MATH 114 Quantitative Reasoning 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 100 or Placement Score-Math with a score of 070 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23)

Applying mathematical tools and analysis to practical context, particularly focusing on using proportions and ratios. Basic statistical tools are developed and employed, including graphs, descriptive statistics, the normal curve, the basics of inferential reasoning and investigating correlation. Financial applications are particularly emphasized, as is the use of spreadsheets.

Offered: Resident and Online

MATH 115 Mathematics for Liberal Arts 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 075 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23 and Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15) or MATH 108 or MATH 110 or MATH 2XX

A survey course for liberal arts majors including a review of algebra and an introduction to logic, probability and statistics, mathematical structures, problem solving, geometry and consumer applications.

MATH 116 Logic and Social Reasoning 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 075 or Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or BUSI 230 or MATH 2XX

A survey course for liberal arts majors including an introduction to logic and various financial math applications. Also covers applications of mathematics to elections, measuring political power, effective ways of sharing goods and services, and apportionment of votes.

MATH 117 Elements of Mathematics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 075 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23) or MATH 108 or MATH 110 or MATH 121 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 131 or MATH 2XX

A development of basic concepts of elementary mathematics, including problem solving, logic, sets and binary operations, the natural numbers and their properties, deductive reasoning and the nature of proof, the integers, rational numbers, real numbers and their properties, relations, functions, and graphs.

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 075 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23 and Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15) or MATH 108 or MATH 110 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 121 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 131 or MATH 1XX or MATH 2XX

Introduction to descriptive statistics and probability, probability distributions, estimation, tests of hypotheses, chi-square tests, regression analysis, and correlation with applications in business and science. (Crosslisted with BUSI 230)

MATH 202 Professional Statistics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23 and Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15)

MATH 211 Introduction to Statistical Analysis 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 131

An introduction to statistical analysis for students with a background in calculus. Includes probability theory, probability distributions, expectation, statistical inference, regression and correlation. MATH 201 may not be substituted for MATH 211 degree completion program requirement.

Note: Only one of MATH 201 or 211 may be taken for credit.

Offered: Resident and Online

MATH 217 Elementary Geometry 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or (CLST 103 and Assessment - Mathematics with a score of 23 and Assessment - Mathematics II with a score of 15)

A development of basic concepts of elementary geometry including area, volume, compass and straight-edge constructions, polyhedra, tessellations, motions in the physical world, transformations, congruence and similarity.

MATH 221 Applied Linear Algebra 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 132 and ENGR 133

Offered: Resident

MATH 231 Calculus and Analytical Geometry III 4 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 132

Continuation of MATH 132. Geometry of vectors, paths, curvature, functions of several variables, graphs and parametric surfaces, partial derivatives, optimization, multiple integrals, curl, divergence, gradient, line and surface integrals, Theorems of Green, and Stokes, and Gauss.

Offered: Resident

MATH 250 Introduction to Discrete Mathematics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 121 or MATH 128 or MATH 131 or ENGR 131

Logic and proofs, set theory, Boolean algebra, functions, sequences, matrices, algorithms, modular arithmetic, mathematical induction and combinatorics.

Offered: Resident and Online

MATH 299 Internship 0 Credit Hours

MATH 301 Methods of Operations Research 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 311 or ENGR 210

Optimization (linear programming, Lagrange multipliers, etc.), transportation problems, applied probability (queueing theory, Markov chains, elementary theory of simulations), theory of games, decisions under uncertainty.

Offered: Resident

MATH 302 Introduction to Experimental Design in Statistics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 311 or ENGR 210

Analysis of variance and block designs; simple linear regression, correlation and multiple regression; nonparametric statistics, chi-square tests.

Offered: Resident

MATH 305 Modern Geometry 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 200

A treatment of the foundations of modern Euclidean geometry and an introduction to non-Euclidean geometry with emphasis on hyperbolic geometry. Especially recommended for prospective high school mathematics teachers. Required for Virginia Licensure.

Offered: Resident

MATH 307 Introductory Number Theory 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 200

Divisibility, Division Algorithm, Euclidean algorithm, primes, greatest common divisor, Diophantine equations, congruencies, Chinese Remainder Theorem, number-theoretic functions, cryptology and other applications.

Offered: Resident

MATH 420 Teaching Mathematics in Secondary Schools Practicum
1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: MATH 419 (may be taken concurrently) and Education Teacher Licensure with a score of 5 and (Background Check Clearance with a score of 5 or Background Clear International with a score of 5 or Background Clear Out of State with a score of 5 or Background Clear Virginia with a score of 5)

As the students are developing proficiency in planning for mathematics instruction, evaluating and learning, they will also gain practical experiences by delivering instruction in a peer setting and/or regular school setting with videotaping. Each presentation is to be critiqued by the ‘teacher,’ the course instructor and the student peers.

Offered: Resident

MATH 421 Elementary Abstract Algebra I
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 321

Elementary number theory, the theory of groups, sets and mappings, isomorphisms and homomorphisms of groups, the first isomorphism theorem, and a brief introduction to rings.

Offered: Resident

MATH 422 Elementary Abstract Algebra II
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 421

A continuation of MATH 421. The theory of rings and fields, integral domains, and the theory of polynomials.

Offered: Resident

MATH 431 Real Analysis
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 231 and MATH 321

The real number system, sets and cardinality, topology of the real numbers, sequences and series, limits, continuity, uniform continuity and convergence, differentiation, and Riemann integration.

Offered: Resident

MATH 450 Mathematics Capstone Seminar
1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: (MATH 421 and (MATH 431 and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80))

Integrate previous mathematical coursework and prepare and present mathematical research, both orally and in written form. Consider the relevance of the Christian worldview and a Biblical ethical approach to the fields of science, mathematics and technology. Introduction to professional and graduate opportunities available to mathematics graduates.

Offered: Resident

MATH 495 Directed Research
1-3 Credit Hours

Exploration of a topic beyond that covered in any core course as preparation for graduate level mathematics or a professional career. It may be taken for credit more than once.

Registration Restrictions: Approval by department chairman.

Offered: Resident

MATH 497 Special Topics in Mathematics
1-3 Credit Hours

MATH 497 - Special Topics in Mathematics (1 to 3 hours)

Offered: Resident

Mathematics (B.S.) - Actuarial - Resident

Important: This degree plan is effective for those starting this degree program in fall 2019 through summer 2020. This degree plan will remain in effect for students who do not break enrollment or who do not change degree programs, concentrations, or cognates.

Math Elective

1. Choose course from the following: MATH 307 Introductory Number Theory (3 c.h.), MATH 331 Complex Variables (3 c.h.), or MATH 422 Elementary Abstract Algebra II (3 c.h.)
2. Choose course from the following: MATH 305 Modern Geometry (3 c.h.), MATH 411 Probability and Statistics II (3 c.h.), or MATH 422 Elementary Abstract Algebra II (3 c.h.) must be part of the degree program.

Graduation Requirements

- 128 Total hours
- 2.0 Overall grade point average
- 32 Hours must be upper-level courses (300-400 level)
- Grade of 'C' Minimum required for all upper-level courses in the major
- 50% Of major taken through Liberty University
- 32 Hours must be completed through Liberty University
- Grad App Submission of Degree Completion Application must be completed within the last semester of a student's anticipated graduation date
- CSER All requirements must be satisfied before a degree will be awarded.

Department of Modern Languages

Stephanie L. Blankenship, B.A., M.A., Ed.D.
Chair, Department of Modern Languages
Assistant Professor of Spanish

Purpose

With a vision for global engagement, the Department of Modern Languages provides Christian worldview instruction in the study of written, spoken, expressed language, translation and interpretive skills, endemic literature, and cultural studies related to modern languages. The Department emphasizes the theory and practice of the applied discipline of second language acquisition, as well as linguistic analysis, in order to prepare students for future careers, ministry opportunities, and graduate study in languages, language education, and the language arts.

Honor Societies

Sigma Delta Pi Spanish Honor Society

Purpose

1. To recognize those who attain excellence in the study of the Spanish language and in the study of the literature and culture of the Spanish-speaking peoples.

2. To honor those who have contributed to the furthering excellence in the study of the Spanish language and culture through honorary membership.

3. To foster interest in Spanish language and culture among students of Liberty University and in the Lynchburg community.

4. To encourage the involvement of both native and non-native Spanish speakers in community service and leadership.

5. To promote student scholarship and encourage continued language study after graduation.

Requirements

1. 3.00 overall GPA

2. 3.25 GPA in Spanish coursework

3. At least one class in upper division Spanish coursework (300+)

American Sign Language National Honor Society

Purpose

1. To recognize those who pursue excellence in the study of the American Sign Language and in the study of Deaf history and culture.

2. To honor those who have contributed to the furthering excellence in the study of the American Sign Language and Deaf culture through honorary membership.

3. To foster interest in American Sign Language and Deaf culture among students of Liberty University and in the Lynchburg community.

4. To encourage the involvement of both native and non-native ASL users in community service and leadership.

5. To promote student scholarship and encourage continued language study after graduation.

Requirements

1. Second Year or more of ASL Studies

2. ASLI GPA ≥ 3.5

3. Overall GPA ≥ 3.0

4. Fill out Formal Invitation Letter by Due Date

According to the ASLHS Induction Ceremony instructions, only those who are juniors/ seniors are invited to participate in the Honor Society Induction Ceremony.

Courses

MLAN 301 Instructional Design in Teaching Modern Languages
3 Credit Hours

This is a foundational course in the profession of TESL emphasizing proficiency in planning, instruction, and curriculum and design, and exposure to educational challenges particular to TESL.

Offered: Resident and Online

MLAN 419 Methodology and Curriculum in Teaching Modern Languages
2 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MLAN 403

The application and assessment of basic methodologies, curriculum, and activities for teaching second languages. Practicum: At least 20 hours of reflective classroom observation of pre K-12 and the teaching of two to three consecutive lessons. This is a capstone course. Offered fall semester.

Note: Must be taken before student teaching.

Registration Restrictions: Admission to Teacher Licensure Program, Junior/senior status May not be counted toward the Modern Language Major.

Offered: Resident

MLAN 420 Methods Teaching Practicum
1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: MLAN 403

At least 20 hours of reflective classroom observation of pre K-12 and the teaching of two to three consecutive lessons.

Offered: Resident

MLAN 453 World Languages
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MLAN 213 and MLAN 305

This course is a study of the phonology, morphology, and syntax of a selection of world languages which illustrate both the similarities and the differences among languages. Syntactic and morphological features will be observed in terms of their typological implications and the question of language universals. Note: (Offered spring semester)

Offered: Resident

MLAN 495 Directed Research
1-3 Credit Hours

Students who qualify will pursue studies of a particular interest as approved and supervised by the instructor. Must apply semester prior to completing internship.

Note: (Offered on demand) Registration Restrictions: Junior or senior status.

MLAN 497 Special topics in TES/FL
3 Credit Hours

Offered: Resident

MLAN 499 TES/FL Internship
1-6 Credit Hours

Professorial-supervised experience in first-hand internship opportunities in Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language. Application procedures processed through the Career Center. Must apply semester prior to completing internship.

Note: (Offered on demand) Registration Restrictions: Junior or Senior status.

Offered: Resident

American Sign Language & Interpreting Major (B.A.)

Purpose

The purpose of the program is to equip students with the knowledge base and skill set to prepare them for effective Sign Language interpreting and meaningful interaction with the Deaf community.

Spanish Major (B.A.)

Purpose

Liberty University’s Spanish program exists to equip candidates to communicate in Spanish at a high level of proficiency in a wide variety of contexts with native Spanish speakers or to pursue advanced study in the field. Toward this end, the program seeks:

1. to develop the necessary curricular offerings and practical opportunities for student achievement in the areas listening, speaking, reading, writing, and culture;
2. to develop strategies for providing students with both curricular and practical opportunities which make the most efficient and effective use of the department's academic, physical, and budgetary resources; and
3. to provide graduates with the highest quality of both professional preparation and professional accreditation and licensure.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Critique, analyze, and interpret authentic Spanish language texts.
2. Analyze Hispanic culture and its various expressions in terms of a biblical worldview.
3. Communicate orally in Spanish, demonstrating listening comprehension skills, speaking proficiency, correct grammar, and appropriate vocabulary.
4. Demonstrate written communication skills, including the ability to produce clear, logical, and grammatically and syntactically appropriate Spanish-language compositions.
5. Evaluate Hispanic cultural practices and perspectives within a broad political, social, and historical framework.

Teaching English as a Second Language Major (B.S.)

Purpose

Liberty University’s BS in TESL exists to equip candidates to teach English in a wide variety of contexts to speakers of other languages or to pursue advanced study in the field. Toward this end, the program seeks: 1) to develop the necessary curricular offerings and practical opportunities for student achievement in the areas of general linguistics, the linguistic features of the English language, cross-cultural dynamics, and curriculum and methodology in TESFL; 2) to develop strategies for providing students with both curricular and practical opportunities and 3) to provide graduates with the highest quality of professional preparation as they enter the global workplace.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Analyze and communicate the syntactic, morphological, phonological, and discourse features of English.
2. Conduct linguistic analysis of various world languages.
3. Adapt the principles of second language acquisition and learning for multiple teaching contexts.
4. Compare and contrast different cross-cultural and cross-linguistic settings within the context of TESFL.

1 Six total hours of foreign language coursework needed. Must be the same language.
2 Students may take ICE, CLEP, or other national recognized, standardized achievement tests as a waiver for the foreign language requirements; Students may also provide Oral Proficiency Interview scores in the intermediate range or above.
3 Foreign language courses taken at other institutions at the graduate level may qualify for a waiver of the 6 hour language requirement.

Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language Major (B.A.)

Purpose

Liberty University's TESL program exists to equip candidates to teach English in a wide variety of contexts to speakers of other languages or to pursue advanced study in the field. Toward this end, the program seeks:

1. To develop the necessary curricular offerings and practical opportunities for student achievement in the areas of general linguistics, the linguistic features of the English language, cross-cultural dynamics, and curriculum and methodology in TESFL;
2. To develop strategies for providing students with both curricular and practical opportunities while making the most efficient and effective use of the department's academic, physical, and budgetary resources; and
3. To provide graduates with the highest quality of both professional preparation and professional accreditation and licensure.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Adapt the principles of language learning to multiple contexts.
2. Analyze and communicate the syntactic, morphological, phonological and discourse features of English.
3. Analyze and apply the ways in which the Christian worldview affects the TESL practitioner’s work.
4. Conduct linguistic analysis of various world languages and present findings both orally and in writing.
5. Evaluate differences and problems that occur in human behavior and values in cross-cultural and cross-linguistic settings.

churches, and our world with men and women. Our message must be clear: we seek to provide our communities, our God is 'the true God, and eternal life' (I John 5:20), and no other reason, to answer bad philosophy. Our philosophy is Christ-centered, our God is 'the true God, and eternal life' (I John 5:20), and our message must be clear: we seek to provide our communities, our churches, and our world with men and women on fire for the Truth of the Word of God, the only hope in a hopeless world. We seek to train philosophically-able Champions for Christ who, 'with gentleness and respect’ (I Pet 3:16), can ‘demolish arguments and every pretention that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and...take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ.’ (II Cor 10:5) The Christian worldview is the most powerfully compelling and best explanation for all the phenomena of which humans are aware. But, so often, as G. K. Chesterton quipped, it is not that Christianity has been tried and found wanting; rather, it has been found difficult and so often left untried. We want our students to know not only what they believe, but why they believe it. So, we are devoted to producing men and women who acknowledge not only that Jesus is Lord, but that, as Dallas Willard remarks, Jesus is brilliant. For in Him 'are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.' (Col. 2:3) The program focuses on the classical philosophical areas of study, including metaphysics, epistemology, logic, aesthetics, ethics, and philosophy of religion, and provides a strong, impactful foundation for living as an agent of Christ-honoring, Christ-centered cultural and spiritual transformation in our world. For those interested to seek further studies in many diverse fields at the graduate level, the Philosophy major provides an excellent basis for further studies in seminary, law, the humanities and the sciences. Majoring in Philosophy is not only exemplary preparation for ministry, but also serves as a great grounding for graduate studies in English, theology, leadership or management, business, counseling, History, politics, law, philosophy, and a full range of other related fields (such as philology, ancient or modern languages, mathematics, linguistics, art history, journalism, government, etc.).

Phi Sigma Tau – International Honor Society In Philosophy

Advisor: Dr. Michael S. Jones

Phi Sigma Tau has as its essential purpose to promote ties among philosophy departments in accredited institutions and students in philosophy nationally. The Society exists with the following objectives:

1. to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship and personal interest in philosophy;
2. to promote student interest in research and advance study in this field;
3. to provide opportunities for the publication of student research papers of merit;
4. to encourage a professional spirit and friendship among those who have displayed marked ability in this field; and
5. to popularize interest in philosophy among the general collegiate public.

The Society sponsors several colloquia and conferences, on both a local and national level, throughout the academic year.

Criteria for Membership

Undergraduate students are eligible for active membership if they have completed three semesters of college course work, are ranked in the upper 35% of their class, and have completed (or are registered in) at least two semester courses (six credit hours) in philosophy with a mean overall grade which is greater than a 3.00.

An introduction to the philosophical discussion of being; the nature of reality, the existence and attributes of God, and the nature of human persons, including the mind-body problem and the issue of freedom and determinism.

Offered: Resident

PHIL 440 Philosophy of Religion 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: PHIL 201 or PHIL 210 or PHIL 240 or PHIL 301 or PHIL 302 or PHIL 303 or PHIL 310 or PHIL 346 or PHIL 350 or PHIL 360 or PHIL 380 or PHIL 429 or PHIL 465 or PHIL 468

A study of the major issues in religion: the existence of God, the problem of evil, freedom and determinism, and religious language.

Offered: Resident

PHIL 465 The Thought of C.S. Lewis 3 Credit Hours

A study of the contributions to philosophy and Christian thought of C.S. Lewis. Special attention is given to his biography, early life and conversion, academic development, methods of critical thought, defense of the faith, arguments in favor of theism, poetry, mythopoetic literature, science fiction, as well as many contributions not usually associated with Lewis's popularity and recognition. Contemporary and recent literature on Lewis will be critically examined.

Offered: Resident

PHIL 468 The Thought of J.R.R. Tolkien 3 Credit Hours

This is a study of the contributions to philosophy and Christian thought in the writing of J.R.R. Tolkien. The course will examine the implicit power of story in the major and minor works of J.R.R. Tolkien. In addition to exploring themes of identity, heroism, good and evil, and other moral virtues in Tolkien's mythical and short story writings, we will consider the influences of Tolkien's mythology and historical fiction in popular culture. While there will be some literary analysis throughout the course, most of the seminar will discuss the influence of mythology (i.e., the concept of eucatastrophe and sub-creation in fairy stories [i.e., fantasy], and the implicit power of language, virtue and free-will behind the worldview of Middle-earth).

Philosophy Major (B.A.)

Purpose

The major in Philosophy is designed to provide a thorough, biblically based, cognitive and spiritual foundation for effective ministry and advanced studies in Philosophy, Law, Apologetics, Theology, and a wide diversity of related areas of study. For over two millennia, Philosophy has been recognized as one of the leading ‘liberal arts’ available to teach and train the soul to become wise and prepared for service to God and neighbor, since the study of Philosophy has as its goal the development of the person in all those areas that constitute human flourishing and maturity. The Apostle Paul speaks of these areas together, constituting for the Christian believer what we normally call ‘spiritual growth’, as seen, e.g., in the five or six recognizable areas of requirements for elders in the church (cf. I Tim 3, Titus 1), namely, intellectual, moral, social, psychological, physical and emotional development of the cardinal virtues (wisdom, justice, courage, temperance) and Christian virtues (faith, hope and love).

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Conduct research using primary and secondary sources in an informed and critical way.
2. Evaluate the central concepts and arguments in the history of Western Philosophy.
4. Defend a philosophically informed worldview.

An introduction to the philosophical discussion of being; the nature of reality, the existence and attributes of God, and the nature of human persons, including the mind-body problem and the issue of freedom and determinism.
Offered: Resident

PHIL 440 Philosophy of Religion 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: PHIL 201 or PHIL 210 or PHIL 240 or PHIL 301 or PHIL 302 or PHIL 303 or PHIL 310 or PHIL 346 or PHIL 350 or PHIL 360 or PHIL 380 or PHIL 429 or PHIL 465 or PHIL 468
A study of the major issues in religion: the existence of God, the problem of evil, freedom and determinism, and religious language.
Offered: Resident

PHIL 465 The Thought of C.S. Lewis 3 Credit Hours
A study of the contributions to philosophy and Christian thought of C.S. Lewis. Special attention is given to his biography, early life and conversion, academic development, methods of critical thought, defense of the faith, arguments in favor of theism, poetry, mythopoeic literature, science fiction, as well as many contributions not usually associated with Lewis’s popularity and recognition. Contemporary and recent literature on Lewis will be critically examined.
Offered: Resident

PHIL 468 The Thought of J.R.R. Tolkien 3 Credit Hours
This is a study of the contributions to philosophy and Christian thought in the writing of J.R.R. Tolkien. The course will examine the implicit power of story in the major and minor works of J.R.R. Tolkien. In addition to exploring themes of identity, heroism, good and evil, and other moral virtues in Tolkien’s mythical and short story writings, we will consider the influences of Tolkien’s mythology and historical fiction in popular culture. While there will be some literary analysis throughout the course, most of the seminar will discuss the influence of mythology (i.e., the concept of eucatastrophe and sub-creation in fairy stories [i.e., fantasy], and the implicit power of language, virtue and free-will behind the worldview of Middle-earth).
Offered: Resident

PHIL 495 Directed Research 1-3 Credit Hours

ROTC

• Army - ROTC (p. 218)
• ROTC Minors (p. 219)

Air Force - ROTC
Purpose
The Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) offered to Liberty University students through the University of Virginia affords students the opportunity to receive United States Air Force officer training while completing undergraduate studies. AFROTC is the largest of three programs available through the Air Force to earn a commission and serve as an officer in the United States Air Force.

AFROTC offers commissioning opportunities for undergraduate students. The 4-year program is designed for students who join during their first year of college. Students take all four years of Air Science classes and attend a 4-week summer field training encampment at an Air Force Base between their second and third years in the Air Force ROTC program.

Students may also enroll in AFROTC during their second year of college. Those seeking to complete the program in three years must email AFROTC at afrotc@virginia.edu to apply. Students will then attend a 4-week summer field training encampment between their first and second years in the Air Force ROTC program.

Unless the student earns an AFROTC scholarship, there is no service obligation in the first two years of the 4-year program. However, all students who enter into the Professional Officer Course (the last two years) enter into a contractual obligation with the Air Force to serve on active duty upon commissioning.

After graduation and commissioning as second lieutenants in the Air Force, graduates serve in any number of career fields for a 4-year active duty service commitment. Interested and qualified students may compete to become Air Force pilots or combat systems officers. Successful pilot and combat systems officer candidates serve ten and six year active duty service commitments, respectively. Active duty may be delayed after graduation for those who wish to immediately pursue a graduate degree.

Scholarship Program
Merit-based financial scholarships may be offered to highly academically competitive and qualified students already enrolled in the program. Qualified students may be offered an AFROTC scholarship for full or partial college tuition, incidental fees, textbook allowances, and a monthly subsistence allowance of at least $300. Scholarship students incur a military obligation.

Courses
AIRS 001 Leadership Laboratory 0 Credit Hours
Offered: Resident

AIRS 110 The Foundations of the United States Air Force I 1 Credit Hour
A two-semester survey course which provides an introduction to the United States Air Force and Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Topics include: mission and organization of the Air Force; officership and professionalism; military customs and courtesies; Air Force officer opportunities; and an introduction to communication skills. The Leadership Laboratory (AIRS A) is mandatory each semester for AFROTC cadets and complements this course by providing followership experiences.
Offered: Resident

AIRS 120 The Foundations of the United States Air Force II 1 Credit Hour
A continuation of AIRS 110.
Offered: Resident
AIRS 210 The Evolution of Air and Space Power I 1 Credit Hour

Examines general aspects of air and space power through a historical perspective. Covers a time period from the first balloons and dirigibles to the use of Unmanned Aerial Vehicles in today’s technologically advanced Air Force. Historical examples serve to extrapolate the development of Air Force capabilities (competencies) and missions (functions) to demonstrate the evolution of what has become today’s USAF air and space power. Also examines several fundamental truths associated with war in the third dimension; e.g., Principles of War and Tenets of Air and Space Power. Provides a knowledge-level understanding for the general element and employment of air and space power from an institutional, doctrinal, and historical perspective. Continues a discussion of the importance of the Air Force Core Values through use of operational examples and historical Air Force leaders and develops cadets’ communication skills. The Leadership Laboratory (AIRS A) is mandatory each semester for AFROTC cadets and complements this course by providing followship experiences.

Offered: Resident

AIRS 220 The Evolution of Air and Space Power II 1 Credit Hour

A continuation of AIRS 210.

Offered: Resident

AIRS 310 Concepts of Air Force Leadership and Management I 3 Credit Hours

Focuses on the study of leadership, management fundamentals, professional knowledge, Air Force personnel and evaluation systems, leadership ethics, and communication skills required of an Air Force junior officer. Case studies are used to examine Air Force leadership and management situations as a means of demonstrating and exercising practical application of the concepts being studied. The Leadership Laboratory (AIRS A) is mandatory each semester for AFROTC cadets and complements this course by providing advanced leadership experiences in officer-type activities, giving students the opportunity to apply the leadership and management principles presented in this course.

Offered: Resident

AIRS 320 Concepts of Air Force Leadership and Management II 3 Credit Hours

A continuation of AIRS 310.

Offered: Resident

AIRS 410 National Security Affairs I 3 Credit Hours

Examines the national security process, regional studies, advanced leadership ethics, and Air Force doctrine. Topics include the military as a profession, officership, military justice, civilian control of the military, preparation for active duty, and current issues affecting military professionalism. Emphasizes refining communication skills. AIRS A (Leadership Laboratory) is mandatory for AFROTC cadets and complements this course by giving students an opportunity to apply the leadership and management principles presented in this course.

Offered: Resident

AIRS 420 National Security Affairs II 3 Credit Hours

A continuation of AIRS 410.

Offered: Resident

Air Force - ROTC

Purpose

The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) offers a general military science curriculum that prepares eligible men and women to compete for a commission as an officer in the United States Army.

Scholarship Program

Merit based financial incentives are offered to qualified students through two, three, and four-year scholarships (full tuition fees), a book allowance of $1,200 annually, and a monthly stipend of up to $500 per month. Scholarship students incur a military obligation.

Internship

Internships are available during the summer of the sophomore year for qualified students that did not participate in ROTC during their freshmen and sophomore years. Participants are provided transportation, food, lodging, uniforms, and are paid during the 28-day camp. Students that successfully complete the internship are eligible to compete for a two-year scholarship.

Purpose

The College of General Studies (CGS) was founded in 2011 to organize and deliver general education coursework to the University's first- and second-year students. In 2018, CGS was strategically restructured with the goal of increasing value, efficiency, and effectiveness by decentralizing the structure while maintaining a centralized core leadership to provide administrative oversight of the general education curriculum. CGS oversees the general education curriculum in areas such as communication; math, science, and technology; information literacy; and critical thinking. Each college and school has dedicated general education faculty who focus on delivering innovative and effective education for first and second year students.

The College of General Studies’ mission:

To develop Christ-centered first- and second-year students with the foundational skills, knowledge, and values necessary for success in their majors, professions, and in life.

The College of General Studies’ goals include:
1. Equipping freshman and sophomore students for spiritual, vocational, and intellectual success in life, learning, and education;
2. Enriching the freshman and sophomore experience in the classroom through a rigorous and coherent sequence of courses; Increasing student success via faculty mentoring, freshman learning communities, best practices of college instruction, and technological innovations; and
3. Preparing students for their chosen major by which they will be equipped toward their future career goals.

In addition, the College of General Studies spearheads University instruction and assessment efforts in relation to core competencies such as communication; math, science, and technology; information literacy; and critical thinking.

General Education Guidelines

The general education component is tailored to the individual degree program by drawing from the University’s approved general education course options. The institution requires in each undergraduate degree program the successful completion of a general education component at the collegiate level that:

1. is a substantial component of each undergraduate degree;
2. ensures breadth of knowledge; and
3. is based on a coherent rationale.

For degree completion in associate programs, the component constitutes a minimum of 15 semester hours or the equivalent. For baccalaureate programs, the component constitutes a minimum of 30 semester hours or the equivalent. These credit hours must include at least one course from each of the following areas:

1. humanities/fine arts (HFA);
2. social/behavioral sciences (SBS); and
3. natural science/mathematics (NSM).

A complete listing of approved courses is displayed in the “Approved Residential General Education and Integrative Courses” and the “Approved General Education Courses for Online Programs” sections. The courses do not narrowly focus on those skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession. The institution provides a written justification and rationale for course equivalency.

Rules/Principles for Approval of General Education Courses

1. Required General Education courses must be general;
   a. General education courses must be open to students of all majors, without heavy loads of prerequisite requirements
   b. Courses must not be reducible to a narrow or focused skill (e.g. guitar lessons cannot substitute for Music Appreciation)
   c. Courses must contribute to preparing students for a breadth of degree programs/careers
2. General Education courses contribute to the University’s plan to ensure that students satisfy certain Core Competencies.
3. In the event that a 300- or 400-level course is required to fulfill a requirement as a general education course, it must not be considered part of any major/program requirements (directed electives are acceptable, however).

General Education Requirements for Residential Programs

The College of General Studies oversees the majority of courses included in the University’s General Education Requirements, which were adopted in 1990 by the faculty of Liberty University for all baccalaureate degree students. While the list of courses that compose the general education core remains largely unchanged, the arrangement of courses now reflects the University’s commitment to develop core competencies in undergraduate students. The goal is to ensure that all undergraduate students demonstrate college-level knowledge and skills that prepare them both to fulfill the specific requirements of their individual college/school and major fields of study and to translate their learning into a variety of career contexts. An undergraduate curriculum of required basic General Education courses serves as a foundation for later specialization.

General Education Foundational Skills, Definitions, and Outcomes

Courses in the General Education Curriculum will meet all but one learning outcome for their designated Foundational Skill.

Communication and Information Literacy: the ability to discover, analyze, evaluate, and communicate information through a variety of media and communicative acts using methods attuned to the way information and communication produce meaning on which to base decisions, actions, and beliefs.

CIL 1: Discover and evaluate information to accomplish a specific purpose.
CIL 2: Communicate information effectively in the English language, orally and/or through writing, for a variety of purposes, using technology when appropriate.
CIL 3: Analyze and assess various forms of information and expression to determine their meaning, employing technology when relevant.
CIL 4: Demonstrate a basic understanding of the role of research and scholarship in order to apply it in various contexts.
CIL 5: Relate communication and information literacy to participation in God’s redemptive work.

Technological Solutions and Quantitative Reasoning: the ability to apply technology and mathematics to analyze information, establish plans, and predict outcomes in various contexts.
TSQR 1: Analyze data and inform action through a structured method.
TSQR 2: Predict the output based on an input in practical scenarios using technological solutions and/or quantitative reasoning.
TSQR 3: Apply the skills needed for successful financial stewardship in various contexts.
TSQR 4: Relate technology and quantitative reasoning to participation in God’s redemptive work.

Critical Thinking: the ability to use analytical, evaluative, logical, and reasonable patterns of thought to establish coherent beliefs, ethics, and strategic decisions.
CT 1: Determine the validity and logical consistency of claims and/or positions, using reading comprehension strategies when relevant.
CT 2: Structure an argument or position using credible evidence and valid reasoning.
CT 3: Compare and contrast the biblical worldview with a non-biblical worldview, evaluating the influence of assumptions and contexts on ethics and values.
CT 4: Plan evidence-based courses of action to resolve problems.
CT 5: Relate critical thinking and ethics to participation in God’s redemptive work.

Civic and Global Engagement: the ability to engage local, national, and global structures as an informed follower of Christ.

CGE 1: Identify the main features of a worldview, assessing the cultural, political, economic, and industrial implications.
CGE 2: Relate government and/or culture to various aspects of life.
CGE 3: Apply the Christian principles and general practices for effectively engaging people from different social and/or cultural backgrounds.
CGE 4: Describe the impact of a person’s global perspective on evangelism and crosscultural engagement.
CGE 5: Relate the human experience within various civic and global structures to participation in the redemptive work of God.

Social and Scientific Inquiry: the ability to employ established methods of exploring the social and natural sciences in order to understand the human experience of various social structures and the natural world.

SSI 1: Demonstrate an understanding of the impact of social and/or natural sciences on the world in which we live.
SSI 2: Demonstrate a biblical understanding of human behavior within various social structures.
SSI 3: Apply solutions for a social and/or scientific dilemma experienced in society.
SSI 4: Describe how social and/or scientific inquiry equips human beings to be participants in God’s redemptive work.

Christianity and Contexts: the ability to employ sound methods of interpreting and applying Scripture in order to foster a Christian worldview and relate to God’s past, present, and future redemptive work.

CC 1: Relate the problem of sin in creation and the redemptive work of Christ, as described in the overarching narrative of Scripture, to various aspects of life and professional disciplines.
CC 2: Analyze and interpret the biblical text using exegetical methods, employing technology when relevant.
CC 3: Apply the biblical text and its principles to life in a manner that bridges various contexts and considers the implications for personal growth.
CC 4: Articulate how faith in Christ and the theological worldview of Scripture shape one’s purpose for pursuing education, employment, relationships, and socio-cultural engagement, relating these pursuits to the redemptive work of God.

Core Competency Requirements

Degree Completion Plans for residential and online students are organized according to core competencies, basic knowledge and skills that all students need for successful completion of their program of study. The General Education Requirements are located on the left side of the Degree Completion Plan (DCP). Each program, throughout this catalog, has DCP link(s) listed with the program information. The General Education Requirements for some majors may vary.

Residential Degrees Offered:
- Bachelor of Science
- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Fine Arts
- Bachelor of Music

Online Degrees Offered:
- Associate of Applied Science
- Associate of Arts

Research Intensive Courses
All research intensive courses are listed online at https://www.liberty.edu/academics/qualityenhancement/index.cfm?PID=32835.

Purpose
The Helms School of Government offers Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Associate of Arts degrees, with majors in Government, International Relations, Law and Policy, Political Science, Fire Administration, Public Administration and Criminal Justice; minors in Government, International Relations, Criminal Justice, Strategic and Intelligence Studies; and concentrations in Politics and Policy, International Politics and Policy, Strategic and Intelligence Studies.

The curriculum encourages students to approach their chosen professions as opportunities for Christian Service and equips students with a strong foundation of knowledge and skills in conducting the business of government, politics, policy-making, public administration, public safety and military service. The goal of the curriculum is to produce action-oriented students who are able to understand and articulate the biblical roots of our religious, economic, and political liberties, and, thus, to equip them to become highly qualified leaders in their chosen career fields.

Internships
Knowledge becomes wisdom when a student takes the theory of the classroom and applies it in the context of the real world. To that end, our students are encouraged to apply for an internship in their field of study. The Helms School of Government is actively placing our students in positions at the White House, offices of elected officials, military and government intelligence agencies, and conservative political organizations. Internships are also available at the state and local government level as well as federal and state criminal justice agencies.

Applicants must satisfy the 2.50+ GPA requirement and successfully complete the rigorous screening process prior to placement. The program is designed to keep the student on track for graduation and qualify for financial aid programs.

Partnerships
In addition, in order to provide motivated students with unique educational opportunities, the Helms School of Government also partners with the Central Virginia Criminal Justice Academy, the School of Engineering, and the School of Communication. These partnerships are in place to set students apart and better prepare them for employment.

Dress Code
The Helms School of Government requires its faculty and students to maintain a neat, well-groomed, and professional appearance. The standards in this code apply to all 300 and 400 level classes and exams, as well as school-wide functions held within the Helms School of Government. More information can be found online at http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=19738.

GOVT 323 Critical and Historical Development of Public Ethics 3 Credit Hours
This course is an introduction to ethical theory to compliment public policy studies. It approaches the subject by way of historical exploration of moral philosophy, integrating areas of Western philosophy of religion, social and political philosophy as necessary. It surveys Western ethical thought by reading selected figures representative of Western ethical traditions. The selected traditions will highlight theoretical developments critical to the ethical dimension of public policy, including virtue theory, utilitarianism, deontological theory, natural law, as well as contemporary theories. Students will interact with the primary writings from representative ethical thinkers. They will explore the differing conceptions of morality with respect to their scope, purpose, and content. In addition, the course will trace the interactions of Western ethical thought with Christian theistic ethics. (Formerly ETHC 323)

Offered: Online
GOVT 324 Applied Ethics in Public Policy
Prerequisites: GOVT 323

The goal of the course is to prepare the Christian public policy specialist to maneuver intellectually in the public square. This course examines the ethical dimensions of policy problems in a manner that addresses the tension between secular society and the traditional Christian faith. It explains the moral foundations of institutions and how conceptions of liberal society seek to define them. The course will equip the student to analyze major secular moral theories employed in policy arguments and to cogently represent the Christian conscience on important policy issues. It will discuss the proper uses of the Bible in formulating policy arguments and the role of science in policy deliberation. In addition, it will illuminate the way in which Christian beliefs may become involved in policy deliberation. (Formerly ETHC 324)

Offered: Online

GOVT 325 Legal Ethics
Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course explores the ethical standards governing the conduct of persons engaged in the practice of law and persons more generally in the legal sector. This course will cover both professional conduct and the application of Christian principles in the legal profession.

GOVT 327 State and Local Government

GOVT 323 Critical and Historical Development of Public Ethics 3 Credit Hours

This course is an introduction to ethical theory to compliment public policy studies. It approaches the subject by way of historical exploration of moral philosophy, integrating areas of Western philosophy of religion, social and political philosophy as necessary. It surveys Western ethical thought by reading selected figures representative of Western ethical traditions. The selected traditions will highlight theoretical developments critical to the ethical dimension of public policy, including virtue theory, utilitarianism, deontological theory, natural law, as well as contemporary theories. Students will interact with the primary writings from representative ethical thinkers. They will explore the differing conceptions of morality with respect to their scope, purpose, and content. In addition, the course will trace the interactions of Western ethical thought with Christian theistic ethics. (Formerly ETHC 323)

Offered: Online

GOVT 324 Applied Ethics in Public Policy 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 323

The goal of the course is to prepare the Christian public policy specialist to maneuver intellectually in the public square. This course examines the ethical dimensions of policy problems in a manner that addresses the tension between secular society and the traditional Christian faith. It explains the moral foundations of institutions and how conceptions of liberal society seek to define them. The course will equip the student to analyze major secular moral theories employed in policy arguments and to cogently represent the Christian conscience on important policy issues. It will discuss the proper uses of the Bible in formulating policy arguments and the role of science in policy deliberation. In addition, it will illuminate the way in which Christian beliefs may become involved in policy deliberation. (Formerly ETHC 324)

Offered: Online

GOVT 325 Legal Ethics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course explores the ethical standards governing the conduct of persons engaged in the practice of law and persons more generally in the legal sector. This course will cover both professional conduct and the application of Christian principles in the legal profession.

International Relations Major (B.A.)

Purpose

The International Relations major takes a broad approach to the disciplines of economics, law, philosophy, and geography with the purpose of mastering the study of relationships among countries, peoples, and comparative governments. There will be a bifurcation in which the student branches into further studies in either international politics and policy, or strategic and intelligence studies. It is necessary to study a foreign language. Developing skills in research, critical thinking, and communications, the student will study global issues from a Christian perspective and gain the ability to impact a world crying out for salt and light.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Evaluate the nature and role of government from a Biblical worldview.
2. Integrate ethical and values-driven decision making in government scenarios.
3. Communicate effectively in both written and oral formats.
4. Demonstrate competence in the basic principles of international relations.
5. Evaluate dilemmas in geopolitical or international relations.
6. Recognize and apply major fundamental concepts of international relations dilemmas/practices.

International Politics and Policy Concentration

The student will be able to:

1. Evaluate comparative political and economic theories as they relate to the field of international relations.
2. Demonstrate the ways in which domestic and international political and policy-making processes interact.

Strategic Intelligence Studies Concentration

The student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the broader intelligence community and the intelligence cycle.
2. Integrate strategic and intelligence considerations in multiple contexts.
3. Evaluate research and form analyses on critical intelligence issues.

Programs of Study

GOVT 322 American Legislative System 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

The U.S. Congress and state legislatures, their powers and organization, and how liberal and conservative forces exert influence through lobbying and elections. Note: (Offered spring semester)

GOVT 323 Critical and Historical Development of Public Ethics 3 Credit Hours

This course is an introduction to ethical theory to compliment public policy studies. It approaches the subject by way of historical exploration of moral philosophy, integrating areas of Western philosophy of religion, social and political philosophy as necessary. It surveys Western ethical thought by reading selected figures representative of Western ethical traditions. The selected traditions will highlight theoretical developments critical to the ethical dimension of public policy, including virtue theory, utilitarianism, deontological theory, natural law, as well as contemporary theories. Students will interact with the primary writings from representative ethical thinkers. They will explore the differing conceptions of morality with respect to their scope, purpose, and content. In addition, the course will trace the interactions of Western ethical thought with Christian theistic ethics. (Formerly ETHC 323)

Offered: Online

GOVT 324 Applied Ethics in Public Policy 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 323

The goal of the course is to prepare the Christian public policy specialist to maneuver intellectually in the public square. This course examines the ethical dimensions of policy problems in a manner that addresses the tension between secular society and the traditional Christian faith. It explains the moral foundations of institutions and how conceptions of liberal society seek to define them. The course will equip the student to analyze major secular moral theories employed in policy arguments and to cogently represent the Christian conscience on important policy issues. It will discuss the proper uses of the Bible in formulating policy arguments and the role of science in policy deliberation. In addition, it will illuminate the way in which Christian beliefs may become involved in policy deliberation. (Formerly ETHC 324)

Offered: Online

GOVT 325 Legal Ethics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course explores the ethical standards governing the conduct of persons engaged in the practice of law and persons more generally in the legal sector. This course will cover both professional conduct and the application of Christian principles in the legal profession.

GOVT 327 State and Local Government 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

Issues, interest and institutions of American state and local government in the framework of federalism. Note: (Offered fall semester)

GOVT 328 American Political Processes 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

A study of the electoral process in America and the organizations such as political parties and interest groups that influence it. Topics included are political campaigns, electoral laws, voting behavior, and the development of political parties and interest groups. In election years, students are encouraged to participate in the campaign of the party of their choice.

GOVT 329 American Exceptionalism 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course introduces the student to the idea of 'American Exceptionalism'-the notion that the United States of America has played and continues to play a key role in advancing justice and freedom throughout the world. The course examines the unique biblical foundation of American government and politics which in turn has made America a bastion of liberty and freedom. In turn, America's impact on world politics and history is discussed. Students will also be challenged to thoughtfully examine ways in which America has not lived up to its highest ideals and to formulate strategies for ensuring that America stays on course to uniquely support liberty and freedom throughout the world.

Offered: Resident and Online

Political Science Major (B.S.)

Purpose
The BS in Political Science seeks to equip students with a solid understanding of the philosophical and Biblical influences impacting politics and government. Students are challenged to see how domestic and international government structures and political processes influence one another, and how historical and contemporary ideas impact both. In all of this, students are challenged to operate as Christian statesmen and women to impact their generation and generations to come, for the glory of God.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:

1. Discuss Biblical and philosophical influences on the formation of American government.
2. Compare various approaches to government and politics.
3. Identify factors impacting the global political arena.
4. Articulate a Biblical worldview as it relates to political science.

Public Administration Major (B.S.)

Purpose

The BS in Public Administration seeks to equip graduates with a solid understanding of the Biblical and philosophical influences impacting the administration and management of public organizations or private or non-profit organizations responsible for the delivery of public services, policy compliance, or the implementation of public policy. The combination of Biblical integration and the collective knowledge of public administration creates a foundation of Christian statesmanship on which students can develop their careers.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Summarize the theories of public administration.
2. Analyze the operations and procedures of public management and nonprofits.
3. Employ the theories and practices of accounting and budgeting in government and nonprofits.
4. Articulate a Biblical worldview as it pertains to public administration.

Courses

PADM 360 Introduction to Public Administration 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

An introduction to the history and theory of public administration. These ideas will be applied within a variety of public institutional contexts. (Formerly GOVT 360)

Offered: Resident and Online

PADM 462 Public Financing & Budgeting 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

Fiscal and military policy, taxation and the budget process in government (Formerly GOVT 462).

Offered: Resident and Online

PADM 475 Advanced Public Administration 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course is a synthesis course for government majors. The course will apply and integrate broad concepts including the application of economic theory, management theory, administrative law, and political theory in the resolution of public sector management cases (formerly GOVT 475).

Offered: Resident and Online

PADM 480 Legal & Political Issues in Public Administration 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This course covers the key legal and political challenges associated with the public administration arena. Students will examine the principles of administrative law and federal constitutional law that provide the foundation for the operations and decision-making processes of public administrators. To that end, the interface of legal requirements with political ramifications will be explored. Students will be challenged to link core public administration functions, particularly at the leadership level, with an understanding of political accountability and legal consequences.

Offered: Online

PADM 485 Public Administration Leadership & Community Engagement 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

Leadership is a key factor in any institution, especially in the public sector. As such, this course examines and develops public leadership skills for the 21st century by embracing community interaction and engagement. Students will be exposed to theoretical leadership concepts in real world situations, as well as, Biblical principles of leadership while being able to examine their own personal style of leadership.

Offered: Online

Prerequisites: GOVT 200

This capstone course focuses on the context (political, legal, and social) in which public administration takes place, the meaning of public service in a democratic society, and the importance of personal and professional ethics using cases to relate principles and theories of public administration to concrete, real-world problems. Students will integrate coursework and theory as well as real-world experience into the analysis of a public policy or public management problem and produce a final seminar paper.

Offered: Online

History
The School of Divinity is an outgrowth of the vision of Dr. Jerry Falwell, the founding pastor of the Thomas Road Baptist Church. Dr. Falwell believed in Christian education. He believed that one of the most effective means of winning millions to Christ is by training young men and women to serve the Lord in aggressive, evangelical, soul-winning Baptist churches as pastors, staff, and members. Liberty University (then Lynchburg Baptist College) was founded in 1971 to help achieve that goal. At the heart of the college’s curriculum for all students were classes in Bible. As the college grew and reached University status, the Bible Department grew into the School of Religion, providing Bible classes for students in every major and offering majors designed to prepare men and women for vocational Christian service.

Another need, however, still existed. Professional, graduate level training was needed for graduates of Liberty University and other colleges desiring graduate theological education as preparation for ministries in churches similar to Thomas Road Baptist Church. In 1973, Lynchburg Baptist Theological Seminary was created to address that need. It began with an enrollment of 41 students with Dr. Jerry Falwell serving as President and Chancellor.

In 2015, approval was granted by Liberty University’s Board of Trustees to combine the School of Religion with the Seminary into the School of Divinity. The School of Divinity provides quality, well-rounded education, based on academic excellence, emanating from the belief that Christian education should be superior, not inferior, to that provided by other schools. The School of Divinity is committed to the principle that a person’s most effective ministry will be in conjunction with a local church, and the vision of the School of Divinity is to equip Christians to reach the entire world through aggressive New Testament church evangelism.

Distinctives
The School of Divinity is characterized by commitment to the core doctrines of the faith and providing significant experiences to develop practical ministry skills.

The faculty of the School of Divinity are committed to model both scholarship and practice for students. Graduates are grounded in the knowledge of God’s Word, a desire to impact the world for God’s kingdom, and the skills to engage the culture with the gospel.

Evangelism is a core value throughout the curriculum. Every faculty member and student is expected to manifest a compassion for the lost and a desire to see their salvation.

The School of Divinity is committed to the local church, and prepares graduates to enter into leadership positions in the local church and parachurch organizations; therefore, experiential learning is an essential component of the School of Divinity’s programs of study.

The Mission of the Rawlings School of Divinity
The School of Divinity exists to come alongside the local church to help it fulfill the Great Commission. In accordance with the mission of Liberty University and within the historic Baptist tradition, the School of Divinity provides undergraduate, graduate, and post-graduate programs that train students for traditional, Christian ministry positions. The School of Divinity offers programs designed to equip people for lay ministry, global leadership, church leadership, and advanced scholarly research.

As a Christian community, the School of Divinity seeks to cultivate spiritual growth and faithful service to Christ and His church. As an academic community, the School of Divinity seeks to impart knowledge and necessary skills to men and women for service and leadership in Christian ministry. As a service community, the School of Divinity seeks to respond to the needs of local churches and Christian ministries as they participate in worship, global evangelism, discipleship, and scholarship.

Program Goals and Objectives
In keeping with its stated mission, the School of Divinity strives to achieve the following institutional goals:

Personal Goals
• Commitment
We seek to provide an environment in which students are encouraged to strengthen their commitment to Christ, certify their call to service, and develop an abiding love for God and His Word.
• Lifestyle
We seek to develop a lifestyle of actively communicating the Christian faith through personal integrity, evangelistic witness, and responsible scholarship.
• Social Responsibility
We seek to foster an awareness of the Christian’s responsibility to be a productive member of society and to be responsive to the needs and concerns of diverse cultures.
Academic Goals

• Knowledge
  We seek to develop cognitive skills for ministry and scholarship through rigorous interaction with the biblical text and disciplines related to professional vocation.

• Understanding
  We seek to provide theological, historical, and intellectual understandings necessary for a self-conscious, critical, and Christian response to the world.

Vocational Goals

• Relationships
  We seek to develop communicative, administrative, and relational skills necessary for professional competence.

• Ethics
  We seek to provide opportunities for students to explore the moral dimensions and ethical implications of their chosen vocation.

• Evangelism
  We seek to cultivate sensitivity to others and a concern for world evangelization through local church ministries and vigorous defense of the gospel.

• Church Growth
  We seek to develop biblical and scientific expertise in establishing, developing, and sustaining growing churches and ministries.

Center for Apologetics & Cultural Engagement

Mark Allen, B.A., Th.M., D.Min., Ph.D.
Director, Center for Apologetics and Cultural Engagement
Associate Professor of Biblical Studies

The culture is changing and Christians need to be prepared to defend their faith both from internal and external challenges to Christianity. To this end, the Center for Apologetics and Cultural Engagement partners with departments across Liberty University and with other organizations to equip students, faculty, and the wider Christian community. The Center resources Liberty University and Christians worldwide by hosting various events and featuring a website with articles and video clips from our Fellows, Liberty lecturers, and scholars from around the world.

The Center’s Distinguished Senior Fellows are Liberty faculty members from various University departments who are known as outstanding scholars in their field and have years of experience engaging the culture. These Senior Fellows take part in faculty/student engagement events, are featured in videos on our website, take part in our theological fellowships, and serve as advisors to the Center.

The Center also includes an interdisciplinary Student Fellowship Program. Student Fellows are Liberty students of various majors who have excelled academically and have the goal of leading in cultural engagement. Student Fellows have the opportunity to learn from our Senior Fellows, serve as ambassadors for the Center, and research and write in the area of apologetics and cultural engagement.

Purpose

The Center for Apologetics and Cultural Engagement is designed to inform and equip individuals to engage culture by addressing the biblical, theological, philosophical, and cultural questions of today’s world from a distinctively Christian worldview.

Center for Chaplaincy

Steven E. Keith, B.A., M.Div., D.Min.
Director, Center for Chaplaincy
Chaplain, Colonel, USAF, Retired
Professor of Chaplaincy

The culture in which chaplains serve is progressively becoming more secular and pluralistic. Chaplains are faced with ministry challenges not previously experienced. The Center for Chaplaincy prepares students to minister effectively in the changing environment by providing exceptional education, research, publications, outreach opportunities, and strategic partnerships. Educationally, the Center develops cutting edge curriculum to best prepare students to be biblically sound spiritual leaders and soul care providers. Further, the Center designs and conducts research to advance understanding for chaplain-care and leadership. Additionally, the Center produces and encourages scholarly chaplain publications to advance effective evangelical chaplain ministry. Furthermore, the Center organizes and promotes chaplain outreach locally and globally. Finally, the Center forms strategic partnerships across Liberty University and with other likeminded Universities and organizations to synergize education and ministry efforts.
Purpose
The Center for Chaplaincy’s purpose is to educate and equip chaplain students to be Champions for Christ in secular and pluralistic ministry environments.

Center for Pastoral Ministries

Executive Director, Center for Pastoral Ministries
Professor of Church Ministries

Purpose
The Center for Pastoral Ministries exists through the School of Divinity to recruit, train, place, and network those called to pastoral leadership both in the local and international church pastoral leadership; to carry out the Great Commission to students and their families; to provide ministry opportunities, mentoring, and edifying fellowship for those called to the pastorate; including, but not limited to: senior pastors, executive pastors, associate pastors, and young adult pastors.

Center for Youth Ministries

Derik Idol, B.S., M.A.R.
Executive Director, Center for Youth Ministries
Assistant Professor of Youth Ministries

Purpose
The world’s youth population ages 10-24 has grown to 1.8 billion and is at a historic high. There is some estimation that 40% of the world’s population comprises all those under the age of 24. The growing trend of religious non-affiliation among young people continues to be a concern to pastors, youth pastors, parents, and churches. This demographic is one of the greatest mission fields in the world, not to mention that many countries’ definition of “youth” is expanding upward to the age of 39.

The Center for Youth Ministries partners with departments across the university to assist local churches, pastors, youth pastors, and parents with resources to help understand the culture of youth in the world in which they live. The Center also seeks to help equip students who are training for youth ministry, as well as those who currently serve youth in ministry, by providing training in a co-curricular effort alongside the Department of Christian Leadership and Church Ministries.

This course builds upon the concepts for scholarly research and writing to prepare students for completing scholarly research and writing specifically within the religious disciplines. The course covers various methods and aims for research within religious disciplines, tools for performing scholarly research, and the tools for writing clearly and effectively in an academic setting. As such, this course lays the foundation for future academic writing in the religious disciplines.

Offered: Online

RLGN 325 Elements of Bible Study 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: (BIBL 105 and BIBL 110) or BIBL 104
This course provides the student with the knowledge and abilities necessary for the lifelong habit of studying the Word of God. In this course the student will be introduced to the various methods and tools necessary for a comprehensive study of Scripture. Emphasis is placed on developing a structured approach to examining, understanding, and applying the Scriptures.

Offered: Online

RLGN 335 Theological Issues in the Life of the Church 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202
This course allows students to study theological issues facing the modern church and presents opportunities to strengthen their biblical fidelity in belief and ministry practice. These issues are addressed from both a doctrinal and missional perspective focused on the primacy of the Great Commission. The goal is to bolster the church’s ministry effectiveness in answering critical questions from contemporary culture with cogent, well-informed responses.

Offered: Online

RLGN 340 Global Religious Movements 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 220
This course examines modern religious movements, with focus upon the major world religions. Particular attention is given to the historical development, beliefs, and practices of the major world religions as well as a comparative analysis of various religious beliefs.

Offered: Online

RLGN 350 World Religions 3 Credit Hours
The basic principles and practices of the most significant world religions are discussed and evaluated. The course goes beyond descriptions and identifies points of contact and cultural opportunities for effective communication, understanding and engagement. (Formerly ICST 350 and GLST 350)

Religious Studies Major (B.S.)

The B.S. in Religious Studies major will provide an undergraduate degree program for students who have a particular interest in pursuing further academic studies in the various religious studies disciplines.
Concentrations are offered in Biblical Languages, Global Studies, Jewish Studies, New Testament, Old Testament, and Theology and Apologetics.

Purpose

The B.S. in Religious Studies seeks to provide students with a general knowledge of the Bible, church history, apologetics, and hermeneutical methodology, while allowing these students to focus on one of six concentrations: Biblical Languages; Jewish Studies; Old Testament; New Testament; Theology and Apologetics; and Global Studies. This purpose is accomplished with a view to preparing students for their chosen vocations and equipping them to engage the culture relevantly with the truth of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Biblically justify essential truths of evangelical Christianity.
2. Apply the principles of biblical interpretation.
3. Examine religious perspectives, informed by various academic disciplines, from a conservative evangelical viewpoint.
4. Understand how the Christian worldview compares and contrasts to other worldviews.

Biblical Languages Concentration

The student will be able to analyze the syntax of biblical Greek and Hebrew.

Programs of Study

Delivery Format: Residential Only

- Religious Studies (B.S.) - Biblical Languages - Resident (p. 344)
- Religious Studies (B.S.) - Global Studies - Resident (p. 345)
- Religious Studies (B.S.) - New Testament - Resident (p. 346)
- Religious Studies (B.S.) - Old Testament - Resident (p. 347)
- Religious Studies (B.S.) - Theology & Apologetics - Resident (p. 348)

Career Opportunities

- Archaeologist
- Author
- Biblical translator
- Christian educator
- Church administrator
- Evangelist
- Missions
- Parachurch ministries
- Pastor
- Theologian

Courses

RLST 489 Religious Studies Capstone

Prerequisites: BIBL 350 and THEO 350 and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80)

This capstone course for all Religious Studies majors seeks to integrate the major program learning outcomes for the Concentrations in the B.S. in Religious Studies. Students will grapple with some of the most difficult questions in the Bible and theology, but they will also demonstrate how their religious education applies to real life ministry situations in national and international contexts. This course is designed for final semester seniors/graduates of the B.S. in Religious Studies program.

Registration Restrictions: Senior Status.

Offered: Resident

RLST 499 Biblical and Theological Studies Internship

Prerequisites: (BIBL 350 or BIBL 360) and (THEO 350 or THEO 360)

This internship will focus on both the programming and leadership aspects of ministry. It will be a supervised field experience at an approved site. Application procedures processed through the online application.

Registration Restrictions: Junior/Senior status; 3.00 GPA; 21 hours in the major.

Offered: Resident

Department of Christian Leadership & Church Ministries

Purpose
The Liberty University Department of Christian Leadership and Church Ministries exists to recruit strategically, equip practically, and challenge biblically those called to Christian ministry - both in the context of the local church and other Christian organizations. Our goal is to lead the local church by holistically training students in calling, competency, and character. Our academic program includes action-oriented curriculum with the understanding that pastors train pastors and leaders equip leaders in a ministry context. With over two hundred and fifty years of combined pastoral/ministerial experience, our faculty desires to provide opportunities for students to have first-hand training and equip them for a life-long calling to the Gospel ministry.

Prerequisites: CLCM 210 or COAL 210 or CLCM 220 or COAL 220

This course will provide students with the Biblical foundation and critical information that they need to properly evaluate the feasibility of developing raw land into a viable Christian camp or outdoor adventure ministry site. Understanding the environmental studies required, how to read and understand topographical maps, working with architects and engineers on site plan development, understanding the principles of development, drainage, natural resource conservation, utility installation, mineral rights, real estate contracts, pipeline and electrical easements, road construction, parking considerations, size and number of buildings needed for lodging, meeting space, dining services, and activity site planning are all included.

Offered: Resident
CLCM 370 Managing the Christian Ministry Organization  3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (CLCM 210 or COAL 210 or COAL 220 or CLCM 220) and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80)

This course will take a comprehensive examination of critical areas for the individual who gives or is considering leadership in a Christian camp or outdoor ministry organization. An exposition of Biblical passages supporting the establishment and function of Christian camps and outdoor ministry organizations and their supportive relationship to the local church will be presented. After which, pragmatic applications to effectively direct/manage a Christian camp and outdoor ministry organization will be examined. (Cross-listed with YOUT 370)

Offered: Resident

• Manager
• Non-profit Organizer
Courses

CLED 300 Biblical and Theological Foundations of Christian Leadership 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CHMN 201 and (THEO 201 or THEO 104)

This course will explore the biblical and theological foundations for Christian leadership. Old and New Testament examples of leadership will be analyzed and the foundations of current leadership principles will be discussed.

Offered: Resident and Online

CLED 310 Foundations of Christian Leadership 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CHMN 201

This course will explore the foundations of leadership. Consideration will be given to leadership as evidenced throughout the Bible and to the evaluation of social science theory and the student’s personal aptitude for leadership. Students will apply their understanding of the foundations of leadership to their own leadership setting.

Offered: Resident

CLED 325 Critical Issues in Ministry Leadership 3 Credit Hours

This course serves as an introduction to various issues that impact both local church and parachurch ministry leaders. The student will develop an understanding of the role of the Christian leader’s growth, priority of family in ministry, and contemporary issues related to ministry infrastructure.

Offered: Online

CLED 365 The Personal Development of the Leader 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CLED 300 or CLED 310

This course is designed to help the student examine the life of the leader. In addition to examining the development of an individual’s leadership skills, several other issues will be explored such as the ordering of one’s private world, the personal character of the leader, and becoming a leader that lasts.

CLED 410 Team Dynamics in Christian Leadership 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CLED 310

This course is designed to focus on the role of Christian leadership in establishing effective teams for ministry in the church and the marketplace. It will guide the student through a biblical and theological basis for team ministry as well as consider foundational material from the social sciences. An analysis of various roles and ministry team dynamics in a multiple-staff ministry will be covered. Principles for leading organizational change and diffusing conflict will also be examined.

Offered: Resident

CLED 425 Ethical Issues in Christian Leadership 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CLED 310

Christian Leadership embraces generally accepted leadership principles and practices with the additional inclusion of biblically based spiritual dynamics. It is the emphasis on biblically based spiritual dynamics that raises the expectations of leadership practices. As a result, ethical issues have emerged that require thoughtful consideration when it comes to participation, procedure, and practice.

Offered: Resident

CLED 450 Organization and Leadership in Ministry 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to address areas of organization and leadership that may be unique to ministry organizations. Emphasis is placed on the diagnosis of the personal spiritual needs of the leader, common mistakes leaders make in ministry, and various truths that leaders need to learn in order to effectively manage people.

Offered: Resident

CLED 489 Capstone Seminar 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CLED 300 and CLED 365

CLED 489 - Capstone Seminar (3 hours)

CLED 499 Christian Leadership Internship 3-6 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: CHMN 447 and CLED 410

The course is designed to involve the Christian Leadership student in all aspects of ministry leadership, both cognitive and experiential; thus providing the prospective ministry leader the opportunities to develop the skills and tools necessary to effectively minister to in a church or Christian organization. Students will complete this course under the supervision of an experienced ministry Professional/Site Supervisor and the Christian Leadership Faculty Internship Advisor.

Registration Restrictions: Junior status, 21 hours in the major.

Offered: Resident

Pastoral Leadership Major (B.S.)

The B.S. in Pastoral Leadership provides thorough preparation in the exposition of biblical scriptures and processing of leadership dynamics. The B.S. in Pastoral Leadership prepares the student to excel in ministry aptitude that lays a strong foundation for further academic training and/ or local church ministry. The Pastoral Leadership program is designed to prepare students for local church pastoral ministry. Taught from a complementarian perspective, the B.S. in Pastoral Leadership major, minor, concentration and cognate prepares students who desire to serve in the role of pastor/shepherd/elder (1 Timothy 3, Titus 1).

Purpose

The B.S. in Pastoral Leadership is designed to provide a thorough, biblically-based approach to practical ministry leadership. This program emphasizes sound doctrine and the ability to exposit biblical Scriptures from an accurate, conservative, evangelical hermeneutic principle. Building upon the said foundation, the program also focuses on an effective homiletic presentation.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Evaluate and demonstrate the skills necessary for Pastoral ministry.
2. Plan, organize, and develop Christian ministries.
4. Apply the principles of biblical interpretation.

Religion Major (A.A.)

Purpose
The Associate of Arts Degree in Religion is designed to offer students foundational training in a broad range of areas. It allows students to gain a thorough knowledge of the Bible, theology, and practical ministry. It is ideal for students who serve as church laymen in various roles as well as those who desire to enhance their training gained from a previous undergraduate degree. Graduates of this degree may transfer their courses into a bachelor's degree program at Liberty if they desire to continue their undergraduate education.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:
1. Articulate and biblically justify essential truths of evangelical Christianity.
2. Demonstrate competence in the use of sound principles of biblical interpretation.

Youth Ministries Major (B.S.)

The BS in Youth Ministries degree equips students who desire training in Youth Ministries for the local church and in the broader context of para-church and nonprofit organizations. This degree will help the student gain the knowledge, values and skills needed for providing Youth Ministries in a church and para-church vocation. Additionally, partnership with other schools within Liberty University provides cognates for marketability, based on students’ future vocational goals (See cognates).

Purpose

The purpose of the BS in Youth Ministries degree is to equip students to demonstrate competence in engaging and educating adolescents within their culture from a biblical worldview. This program also equips students to demonstrate professional skills in planning, organizing, and developing Christian youth ministries.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Articulate/justify essential truths of Christianity.
2. Demonstrate competence in the use of sound principles in biblical interpretation.
3. Demonstrate professional skill in planning, organizing, and developing Christian youth ministries.
4. Evaluate models of leadership and programs, as well as various philosophies of Christian youth ministries.
5. Demonstrate competence in engaging and educating adolescents within their culture from a biblical worldview.

Courses

GLST 200 Introduction to Global Studies 3 Credit Hours

This course is an introduction to understanding the history, principles and foundations of global engagement. Additionally, this course lays the groundwork for an intercultural career and provides principles for engaging the current global environment.

Offered: Resident and Online

GLST 220 Intercultural Communication and Engagement 3 Credit Hours

This course will take a close look at behaviors and core values of the North American culture, identify areas where these values are barriers to effective intercultural communication and explore principles for effective engagement in another culture.

Offered: Resident and Online

GLST 290 Cultural Anthropology 3 Credit Hours

This course will study systems of human behavior and thought for the purpose of improving understanding of people and their relationships. Several case studies will be used to illustrate these systems. (Formerly ICST 300)

GLST 301 Global Exposure 1-3 Credit Hours

This experiential learning course provides exposure to the needs, realities, opportunities and cultures found in major cities and global contexts. Students will engage in cross-cultural training, travel exposure, social interaction, and guided reflection of their experiences.

Registration Restrictions: A student must be approved by LU Send OR have received written approval from the Global Studies Department Chair to register for this course.

GLST 380 Global Studies Practicum 1,3 Credit Hours

An elective seminar that exposes the student to the needs, duties, conflicts and cultural barriers of working as a career professional in a selected area of the world. The seminar requires on-site involvement and engagement in a country outside the United States and is accompanied with reading, lectures and interaction with expatriate workers and nationals of the host country. It is the student's responsibility to make up any prerequisite deficiencies, as stated in the Liberty University Catalog, which would prevent the successful completion of this course.

Registration Restrictions: A student must have been accepted through LU Send and the Department of Global Studies for the Global Experience class OR have received written approval from the professor of GLST 380 for an alternative international experience.

Offered: Resident and Online

GLST 385 Career Preparation for Global Workers 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (ICST 200 or GLST 200) and GLST 220 and (GLST 290 or ICST 300)

This course will help guide potential global workers through the process of pursuing an intercultural career. (Formerly GLST 441)

Offered: Resident and Online

GLST 387 Living Abroad 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (ICST 200 or GLST 200) and GLST 220 and (GLST 290 or ICST 300) and (GLST 441 or ICST 441 or GLST 385)

This course, taken concurrently with the field internship, will teach individuals how to thrive, and not simply survive, in another culture. (Formerly GLST 480)

Offered: Resident

GLST 388 Ethnographic Research 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (ICST 200 or GLST 200) and GLST 220 and (GLST 290 or ICST 300) and (ICST 441 or GLST 441 or GLST 385) and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80)

This course is a research project that is taken concurrently with the field internship experience. Primarily building on the principles learned in GLST 290, but integrating everything learned to this point, individuals will do extensive ethnographic mapping of the culture in which they are completing the field internship. (Formerly GLST 488)

Offered: Resident

GLST 389 Barefoot Language Learning 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (ICST 200 or GLST 200) and GLST 220 and (GLST 290 or ICST 300) and (ICST 441 or GLST 441 or GLST 385)

This course is an on-site language study that is taken concurrently with the field internship experience. Specific emphasis is given to learning the heart language of the host culture by seeking conversational aptitude. (Formerly GLST 489)

Offered: Resident
GLST 390 Engaging Oral Communicators 3 Credit Hours
This course is an in-depth study of oral learners, those who prefer the spoken word as a primary form of communicating thoughts, observations and experiences. Skills will be developed in communicating, guiding the growth of oral communicators and fostering community development through the telling of stories.

Prerequisites: (GLST 200 or ICST 200) and GLST 220 and (GLST 290 or ICST 300) and (GLST 441 or ICST 441)
This course is a field experience under the supervision of a qualified individual currently working in an intercultural career. It is a required experience for Global Studies majors and is available to Global Studies minors and students in other courses of study. Students should apply through the Department of Global Studies at least two semesters prior to the internship.

Global Studies Major (B.S.)

Students majoring in Global Studies will be well-equipped for international engagement. They will learn the skills necessary to thrive, build relationships, and establish healthy careers in other cultures while developing an understanding of the particular dynamics that are associated with living and working abroad. To help accomplish this goal, the B.S. in Global Studies program requires students to either double-major or minor in another area.

Purpose
The B.S. in Global Studies seeks to provide students with a thorough foundation for effective engagement in intercultural careers and service. The program combines a comprehensive theory of global engagement with practical experience, culminating in a semester-long cultural immersion internship.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:
1. Analyze essential principles of effective global engagement.
2. Demonstrate competency in cultural adaptation, research, and communication.
3. Employ critical thinking skills in addressing current issues in global engagement.

Department of Theological Studies

Purpose
The Department of Biblical and Theological Studies aims to provide a thorough, biblically-based, cognitive, and spiritual foundation for students who desire to pursue further academic training at the graduate level or who want to be better prepared for Christian life and service. In the current academic climate, there is a need for individuals who are educated and equipped to speak to foundational doctrinal issues for both academic professionals and lay people from an orthodox, biblically-informed evangelical position. These programs will lay the foundation for students who have an interest in further pursuing development in this area.

Programs
- Apologetics Major (A.A.) (p. 395)

APOL 201 Apologetics and Cultural Engagement 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (BWVW 101 and BWVW 102) or BWVW102 Exempt with a score of 5 or RLGN 105

Building upon the BWVW 101 and 102, this course equips students to use apologetics to engage with the culture using the various current issues of the day as entry points to the Gospel. Students will be trained to think critically from a biblical worldview and engage winsomely on such issues as evil in the world, critical claims about Jesus in the popular culture, new atheism, race issues, and sexuality.

Offered: Resident

APOL 220 Introduction to Apologetics 3 Credit Hours

This course equips students with a foundational understanding of, and skills within, the field of apologetics. Students will explore the major apologetic issues that arise today and will learn both the critical thinking skills and theological principles in order to respond persuasively.

Offered: Online

APOL 310 Apologetics in a Secular Age 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: APOL 220

This course develops an apologetic approach which takes into account the values and plausibility structures of the late modern, secular age. Particular emphasis will be given to understanding current cultural movements and values and constructing a person-centered approach to the apologetic task.

Offered: Online

APOL 311 Foundational Issues in Apologetics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: APOL 201

Surveys the various approaches to Christian apologetics with the aim at understanding the theology that drives each approach. The course will critically engage with the works of leading proponents of the approaches in order for students to develop their own approach and method in apologetics. Furthermore, core areas of Christian doctrine, such as Theology Proper, Christology, and Bibliology, will be explored and defended.

Offered: Resident

APOL 320 Apologetics and the Gospel 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: APOL 220

This course examines key questions related to the identity and ministry of Jesus, particularly as it relates to the historicity of the New Testament's portrayal of Jesus. Primary attention is given to examining historical evidence related to Jesus' existence, his ministry, miracles, deity, death, and resurrection as well as understanding Jesus as a part of the larger biblical story.

Offered: Online

APOL 325 Christianity and the Cults 3 Credit Hours

This course examines the history and beliefs of those systems that claim to be Christian yet deny fundamental Christian doctrines such as the sole sufficiency of the Bible, the Trinity, the deity of Christ, salvation by faith in Christ alone without works, the eternal punishment of the wicked, and other pertinent doctrines. Groups discussed include Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormonism, Seventh-day Adventism, Christian Science and others.

Offered: Resident

APOL 330 C.S. Lewis and the Apologetic Imagination 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: APOL 220

This course examines the apologetic writings of C. S. Lewis. Particular focus is given to understanding Lewis within his context as well as drawing from various aspects of his apologetic approach for the current cultural moment.

Offered: Online

APOL 431 Introduction to Islam 3 Credit Hours

This course explores the historic rise and expansion of Islam as well as basic Muslim beliefs and practices. Attention is also given to the diversity within the world of Islam. (Crosslisted with GLST 431)

Offered: Resident

APOL 480 Biblical Studies and Apologetics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: APOL 201

Exposes students to the best biblical scholarship being used in apologetics. Students will engage with such areas as Textual Criticism, Old Testament studies, New Testament studies, and Archaeology.

Offered: Resident

APOL 497 Special Topics in Apologetics 1,3 Credit Hours

Offered: Resident

Theology Courses

THEO 104 Introduction to Theology Survey 4 Credit Hours

This course is an introduction to the basic tenets of Christianity.

THEO 107 Theological Survey I 3 Credit Hours

This is the first of three courses in a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to introduce the student to the major areas of systematic theology. This course presents the following areas of doctrine: Prolegomena, doctrine of the Trinity, doctrine of the Father, doctrine of the Bible (bibliology), and the doctrine of Prophecy (eschatology). The theology survey is continued in THEO 108.

Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.
THEO 108 Theological Survey II
This is the second of three courses in a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline the following major areas of systematic theology: doctrine of the Holy Spirit (Pneumatology), doctrine of Man (Anthropology), doctrine of Sin (Hamartiology), doctrine of Angels (Angelology), and doctrine of Satan (Satanology).

Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

THEO 109 Theological Survey III
This course is a continuation of the doctrinal studies begun in Theological Survey 107 and 108. The student will examine the remaining Biblical doctrines of Salvation (Soteriology), the Church (Ecclesiology), and Christ (Christology).

Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

THEO 201 Theology Survey I
This is a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline each of ten major areas of systematic theology, including prolegomena, bibliology, theology proper, Christology, angelology, and pneumatology.

THEO 202 Theology Survey II
This is a continuation of general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline each of the ten major areas of systematic theology. Survey II includes anthropology, hamartiology, soteriology, ecclesiology and eschatology.

THEO 311 Revelation, Authority and Reason
This course is designed to acquaint the student with fundamental issues in theological prolegomena, i.e., introductory questions concerning the Word as revealed in apologetics, hermeneutics and dogmatics, and the sources of authority (the Bible, the Church, the World, etc.).

Offered: Resident

THEO 313 The Person and Work of Christ
A study of the Person and work of Christ as revealed through Messianic prophecy, the Incarnation and His ministry as Prophet, Priest, and King. Special attention is given to the contributions of John and Paul to a full understanding of this doctrine.

Offered: Online

THEO 324 A Theology of Suffering and Disability
Prerequisites: (BIBL 105 or BIBL 205) and (BIBL 110 or BIBL 210) and THEO 201 and THEO 202 and ENGL 101 and ENGL 102
This course explores the theological understanding of the image of God, the problem of evil, as well as suffering as it relates to a biblical understanding of physical and mental disability. Students will incorporate this understanding into a theology of inclusion for the Church and Christian Ministry. Thus, the student will be equipped to evaluate various methods and strategies for disability ministry.

Offered: Resident

THEO 330 Theology of the Family
Prerequisites: (THEO 201 and THEO 202) or THEO 104
This course is designed to equip students with an understanding of God's original design for the home, the primary purposes of family life, and a biblical method for facilitating transformation. Students will establish the ground work for fostering healthy family relationships and strong generational legacy. This study begins with a 'big picture' view of the home, clarifies doctrinal misunderstandings of the family role, outlines a history of the modern family, and offers a scriptural vision for long-term family blessing.

Offered: Online

THEO 340 Theology and Politics
This course is designed to relate Christian thought to societal ethics and responsibility through the auspices of important theological mentors and movements. The relation between the church and state will also be studied in scripture, as well as in church history. Specific ethical issues of ecclesiastical and societal concerns (abortion, capital punishment, nuclear war, etc.) will be addressed.

Offered: Resident

THEO 345 Theology of Race and Culture
This course provides a theological and biblical framework for understanding critical issues related to race, ethnicity, and culture in an increasingly multi-ethnic and multi-cultural world. Consideration is given to such issues as contemporary race tension, individualism verses collectivism, socio-economic and class struggles, and ethnocentrism, in light of the responsibility of the church and the gospel.

Offered: Resident

THEO 350 Fundamental Theological Issues
Prerequisites: (THEO 201 and THEO 202) or THEO 104
A study of the major theological questions which arise in the defense of biblical inerrancy, scriptural separation, creationism and dispensationalism. It also deals with such contemporary issues as the charismatic movement, feminism, situation ethics and other vital concerns to the fundamentalist in today's world. (Formerly THEO 250).

THEO 355 Theological Interpretation of Scripture
Prerequisites: (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 105 and BIBL 110) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 205 and BIBL 210) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 110 and BIBL 205) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 105 and BIBL 210) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 104)
This course is a survey of biblical theology with specific attention given to the primary theological themes of the Old and New Testament. It explores how each testament informs the redemptive storyline of the Bible. Various soteriological themes and theological systems such as dispensationalism and covenant theology are addressed. This is to lay a foundation for understanding the relationship between biblical theology and current theological issues.

Offered: Online
THEO 362 Historical Theology
Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202
A study of doctrinal development within the history of the Christian church. An emphasis is placed on the identification, analysis, and evaluation of significant theological methodologies and systems, which have affected the doctrinal perspectives of evangelicals. The theological methods and systems to be evaluated and compared include but are not limited to the following: biblical theology, natural theology, covenant theology, dispensationalism, and philosophical theology.
Offered: Resident

THEO 412 The Church: Its Mission and Hope
Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202
An examination of the New Testament Church with particular concern given to its origin, its distinctive nature, its mission, its function, its government, its offices, its ordinances and its destiny.
Offered: Resident

THEO 415 Examining and Applying Biblical and Theological Concepts
Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202
This course is designed to allow the student to better understand and put into practice key theological ideas. A wide range of biblical and theological concepts are presented, and the student is challenged to apply these concepts in real world situations and to understand wide-ranging viewpoints. This course builds upon basic theological coursework, encouraging students to deepen their understanding, while at the same time, gaining experience by living out biblical truths in ministry settings.
Offered: Online

THEO 430 Modern and Contemporary Theology
This course will analyze and interpret the theology of major thinkers in the 19th and 20th centuries. In light of past enlightenment trends in Western religious thought, study will be done of the background of such theological trends both for understanding and critical assessment. Representatives of classical liberalism, neo-orthodoxy, existentialism and post-existential schools will be stressed.
Offered: Resident

THEO 450 Middle East Conflict in Biblical Perspective
Prerequisites: (BIBL 105 or BIBL 205) and (BIBL 110 or BIBL 210)
This course traces the causes, development, consequences and outcome of the Middle East conflict from a biblical and Christian Zionist perspective. The relevant historical and biblical texts will be examined with respect to Israel's conflict with nations past, present and future and the contemporary interpretation of the conflict within Christianity. (Crosslisted with GOVT 450)
Offered: Resident

THEO 495 Directed Research
Offered: Resident

THEO 497 Special Topics in Theology
Offered: Resident

Theology & Apologetics Major (B.A.)

The B.A. in Theology and Apologetics seeks to equip students to use Scripture, logic and philosophy in order to defend the rationality of Christian belief and articulate core Evangelical Christian doctrines. Students will learn how to integrate theology and apologetics in various settings thus being able to engage the culture with both tactfulness and theological precision.

Purpose

The new BA in Theology and Apologetics helps to reach the goal of “Training Champions for Christ” by equipping students to effectively engage the world around them. The goal of the new BA in Theology and Apologetics is to equip Liberty University students to be able to:

1. Articulate core Evangelical Christian doctrines.
2. Engage the culture with both tactfulness and theological precision.
3. Equip to use Scripture, logic and philosophy to defend the rationality of Christian belief.
4. Integrate theology and apologetics in various ministry settings.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Biblically justify essential truths of evangelical Christianity.
2. Apply the principles of biblical interpretation.
3. Evaluate various aspects of culture for the purpose of defending and explaining Christian theology.
4. Propose a response to the major worldviews from a Christian perspective.

Apologetics Courses

APOL 120 Apologetics 3 Credit Hours

A survey of the evidences for the central truths of Christianity: the existence of God, the deity and resurrection of Christ, and the authority and truth of the Bible.

Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

APOL 201 Apologetics and Cultural Engagement 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (BWVW 101 and BWVW 102) or BWVW 102 Exempt with a score of 5 or RLGN 105

Building upon the BWVW 101 and 102, this course equips students to use apologetics to engage with the culture using the various current issues of the day as entry points to the Gospel. Students will be trained to think critically from a biblical worldview and engage winsomely on such issues as evil in the world, critical claims about Jesus in the popular culture, new atheism, race issues, and sexuality.

Offered: Resident

APOL 220 Introduction to Apologetics 3 Credit Hours

This course equips students with a foundational understanding of, and skills within, the field of apologetics. Students will explore the major apologetic issues that arise today and will learn both the critical thinking skills and theological principles in order to respond persuasively.

Offered: Online
APOL 310 Apologetics in a Secular Age 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 220
This course develops an apologetic approach which takes into account the values and plausibility structures of the late modern, secular age. Particular emphasis will be given to understanding current cultural movements and values and constructing a person-centered approach to the apologetic task.
Offered: Online

APOL 311 Foundational Issues in Apologetics 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 201
Surveys the various approaches to Christian apologetics with the aim at understanding the theology that drives each approach. The course will critically engage with the works of leading proponents of the approaches in order for students to develop their own approach and method in apologetics. Furthermore, core areas of Christian doctrine, such as Theology Proper, Christology, and Bibliology, will be explored and defended.
Offered: Resident

APOL 320 Apologetics and the Gospel 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 220
This course examines key questions related to the identity and ministry of Jesus, particularly as it relates to the historicity of the New Testament’s portrayal of Jesus. Primary attention is given to examining historical evidence related to Jesus’ existence, his ministry, miracles, deity, death, and resurrection as well as understanding Jesus as a part of the larger biblical story.
Offered: Online

APOL 325 Christianity and the Cults 3 Credit Hours
This course examines the history and beliefs of those systems that claim to be Christian yet deny fundamental Christian doctrines such as the sole sufficiency of the Bible, the Trinity, the deity of Christ, salvation by faith in Christ alone without works, the eternal punishment of the wicked, and other pertinent doctrines. Groups discussed include Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormonism, Seventh-day Adventism, Christian Science and others.
Offered: Resident

APOL 330 C.S. Lewis and the Apologetic Imagination 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 220
This course examines the apologetic writings of C. S. Lewis. Particular focus is given to understanding Lewis within his context as well as drawing from various aspects of his apologetic approach for the current cultural moment.
Offered: Online

APOL 331 Introduction to Islam 3 Credit Hours
This course explores the historic rise and expansion of Islam as well as basic Muslim beliefs and practices. Attention is also given to the diversity within the world of Islam. (Crosslisted with GLST 431)
Offered: Resident

APOL 480 Biblical Studies and Apologetics 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: APOL 201
Exposes students to the best biblical scholarship being used in apologetics. Students will engage with such areas as Textual Criticism, Old Testament studies, New Testament studies, and Archaeology.
Offered: Resident

APOL 497 Special Topics in Apologetics 1,3 Credit Hours
Offered: Resident

Theology Courses
THEO 104 Introduction to Theology Survey 4 Credit Hours
This course is an introduction to the basic tenets of Christianity.

THEO 107 Theological Survey I 3 Credit Hours
This is the first of three courses in a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to introduce the student to the major areas of systematic theology. This course presents the following areas of doctrine: Prolegomena, doctrine of the Trinity, doctrine of the Father, doctrine of the Bible (bibliology), and the doctrine of Prophecy (eschatology). The theology survey is continued in THEO 108.
Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

THEO 108 Theological Survey II 3 Credit Hours
This is the second of three courses in a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline the following major areas of systematic theology: doctrine of the Holy Spirit (Pneumatology), doctrine of Man (Anthropology), doctrine of Sin (Hamartiology), doctrine of Angels (Angelology), and doctrine of Satan (Satanology).
Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

THEO 109 Theological Survey III 3 Credit Hours
This course is a continuation of the doctrinal studies begun in Theological Survey 107 and 108. The student will examine the remaining Biblical doctrines of Salvation (Soteriology), the Church (Ecclesiology), and Christ (Christology).
Note: Willmington School of the Bible course.

THEO 201 Theology Survey I 2 Credit Hours
This is a general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline each of ten major areas of systematic theology, including prolegomena, bibliology, theology proper, Christology, angelology, and pneumatology.
THEO 202 Theology Survey II 2 Credit Hours

This is a continuation of general survey of Bible doctrine designed to synthesize and outline each of the ten major areas of systematic theology. Survey II includes anthropology, hamartiology, soteriology, ecclesiology and eschatology.

THEO 311 Revelation, Authority and Reason 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to acquaint the student with fundamental issues in theological prolegomena, i.e., introductory questions concerning the Word as revealed in apologetics, hermeneutics and dogmatics, and the sources of authority (the Bible, the Church, the World, etc.).

Offered: Resident

THEO 313 The Person and Work of Christ 3 Credit Hours

A study of the Person and work of Christ as revealed through Messianic prophecy, the Incarnation and His ministry as Prophet, Priest, and King. Special attention is given to the contributions of John and Paul to a full understanding of this doctrine.

Offered: Online

THEO 324 A Theology of Suffering and Disability 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (BIBL 105 or BIBL 205) and (BIBL 110 or BIBL 210) and THEO 201 and THEO 202 and ENGL 101 and ENGL 102

This course explores the theological understanding of the image of God, the problem of evil, as well as suffering as it relates to a biblical understanding of physical and mental disability. Students will incorporate this understanding into a theology of inclusion for the Church and Christian Ministry. Thus, the student will be equipped to evaluate various methods and strategies for disability ministry.

Offered: Resident

THEO 330 Theology of the Family 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (THEO 201 and THEO 202) or THEO 104

This course is designed to equip students with an understanding of God's original design for the home, the primary purposes of family life, and a biblical method for facilitating transformation. Students will establish the ground work for fostering healthy family relationships and strong generational legacy. This study begins with a 'big picture' view of the home, clarifies doctrinal misunderstandings of the family role, outlines a history of the modern family, and offers a scriptural vision for long-term family blessing.

Offered: Online

THEO 340 Theology and Politics 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to relate Christian thought to societal ethics and responsibility through the auspices of important theological mentors and movements. The relation between the church and state will also be studied in scripture, as well as in church history. Specific ethical issues of ecclesiastical and societal concerns (abortion, capital punishment, nuclear war, etc.) will be addressed.

Offered: Resident

THEO 345 Theology of Race and Culture 3 Credit Hours

This course provides a theological and biblical framework for understanding critical issues related to race, ethnicity, and culture in an increasingly multi-ethnic and multi-cultural world. Consideration is given to such issues as contemporary race tension, individualism versus collectivism, socio-economic and class struggles, and ethnocentrism, in light of the responsibility of the church and the gospel.

Offered: Resident

THEO 350 Fundamental Theological Issues 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (THEO 201 and THEO 202) or THEO 104

A study of the major theological questions which arise in the defense of biblical inerrancy, scriptural separation, creationism and dispensationalism. It also deals with such contemporary issues as the charismatic movement, feminism, situation ethics and other vital concerns to the fundamentalist in today's world. (Formerly THEO 250).

THEO 360 Theological Interpretation of Scripture 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 105 and BIBL 110) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 205 and BIBL 210) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 110 and BIBL 205) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 105 and BIBL 210) or (RLGN 301 and BIBL 360 and BIBL 104)

This course is a survey of biblical theology with specific attention given to the primary theological themes of the Old and New Testament. It explores how each testament informs the redemptive storyline of the Bible. Various soteriological themes and theological systems such as dispensationalism and covenant theology are addressed. This is to lay a foundation for understanding the relationship between biblical theology and current theological issues.

Offered: Online

THEO 362 Historical Theology 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202

A study of doctrinal development within the history of the Christian church. An emphasis is placed on the identification, analysis, and evaluation of significant theological methodologies and systems, which have affected the doctrinal perspectives of evangelicals. The theological methods and systems to be evaluated and compared include but are not limited to the following: biblical theology, natural theology, covenant theology, dispensationalism, and philosophical theology.

Offered: Resident

THEO 412 The Church: Its Mission and Hope 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202

An examination of the New Testament Church with particular concern given to its origin, its distinctive nature, its mission, its function, its government, its offices, its ordinances and its destiny.

Offered: Resident
THEO 415 Examining and Applying Biblical and Theological Concepts
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: THEO 201 and THEO 202

This course is designed to allow the student to better understand and put into practice key theological ideas. A wide range of biblical and theological concepts are presented, and the student is challenged to apply these concepts in real world situations and to understand wide-ranging viewpoints. This course builds upon basic theological coursework, encouraging students to deepen their understanding, while at the same time, gaining experience by living out biblical truths in ministry settings.

Offered: Online

THEO 430 Modern and Contemporary Theology
3 Credit Hours

This course will analyze and interpret the theology of major thinkers in the 19th and 20th centuries. In light of past enlightenment trends in Western religious thought, study will be done of the background of such theological trends both for understanding and critical assessment. Representatives of classical liberalism, neo-orthodoxy, existentialism and post-existential schools will be stressed.

Offered: Resident

THEO 450 Middle East Conflict in Biblical Perspective
3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (BIBL 105 or BIBL 205) and (BIBL 110 or BIBL 210)

This course traces the causes, development, consequences and outcome of the Middle East conflict from a biblical and Christian Zionist perspective. The relevant historical and biblical texts will be examined with respect to Israel's conflict with nations past, present and future and the contemporary interpretation of the conflict within Christianity. (Crosslisted with GOVT 450)

Offered: Resident

THEO 495 Directed Research
1-3 Credit Hours

THEO 495 - Directed Research (1 to 3 hours)

Offered: Resident

THEO 497 Special Topics in Theology

Liberty Biblical Museum

Dr. Randal Price, B.A., Th.M., Ph.D.
Curator
Distinguished Research Professor of Biblical Studies

The Liberty Biblical Museum is a university museum providing faculty, students, and visitors a window into the world of the Bible. Through an exhibition of ancient artifacts from the Holy Land, rare Bibles and manuscripts, the ancient culture of the Bible is traced from 4,000 B.C. to the 6th century A.D. Special exhibits include the Dead Sea Scrolls, Temples & Priests, the Authentic Last Supper, Weapons & Warfare, Glass Collection, Coins and Daily Life in the Times of the Bible. The educational goal of the museum is to support the historicity and reliability of the Bible through a first-hand experience with these ancient testimonies to modern truth.

Additional Information

Additional information about Liberty Biblical Museum is provided online at http://www.liberty.edu/BiblicalMuseum.

Undergraduate Certificates

The School of Divinity offers undergraduate certificates in several areas of study through Liberty University Online.

Certificate Completion Requirements

1. Complete 18 total hours with a 2.00 GPA
2. All courses must be completed through Liberty University
3. No grade of “D” may be applied to the certificate
4. Submission of Certificate Completion Application at beginning of final semester

Research Intensive Courses

All research intensive courses are listed online at https://www.liberty.edu/academics/qualityenhancement/index.cfm?PID=32835.

Purpose

The School of Aeronautics equips, mentors, and sends champions for Christ into the aerospace community to serve as professional pilots, mechanics, unmanned aerial systems operators, flight attendants, aviation safety managers, administrators, and leaders in the aviation field. The School of Aeronautics grows leaders one at a time who know their identity, thrive in their faith, and love others in Christ to become difference makers.

The School of Aeronautics (SOA) offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Aeronautics with Corporate/Commercial Concentration, Global Studies Concentration, Military Cognate, and Unmanned Aerial Systems Cognate. Additional offerings include: Bachelor of Science in Aviation Administration degrees with Flight and Aviation Safety Management cognates, and Bachelor of Science in Aviation Maintenance with Management and Unmanned Aerial Systems cognates. Additionally, Associate of Arts degrees in Aviation Maintenance Technician and Flight Attendant are available. SOA offers a certificate in Aviation Maintenance Technician. Various minors are also offered.

Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Certification

The School of Aeronautics is a fully certified FAA 14 CFR Part 141 school authorized to teach Private, Instrument, Commercial, and Multi-Engine courses. Certified Flight Instructor, Certified Flight Instructor, Instrument, and Multi-Engine Instructor courses are taught under 14 CFR Part 61. The FAA has also certified the School as an FAA 14 CFR Part 147 Aviation Maintenance Technician School authorized to teach Airframe and Powerplant.

Course Fees

Some aviation courses, including all flight courses have additional fees, which vary depending on course requirements. In addition, course fees may vary between residential and online courses.

All University course fee information can be found at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/financeadmin/studentfinances/index.cfm?PID=38407.

Department of Veterans Affairs Benefits

For those qualified for and using Veterans Benefits, please review: https://www.liberty.edu/administration/militaryaffairs/index.cfm?PID=10075.

Admission Requirement for Online Degrees

In order to be admitted into the Liberty Online BS Aviation degree, the student must certify that he or she understands that degree completion requires acceptance, enrollment and completion of all flight training requirements at an LU-approved, independent Flight Training Affiliate and requires the student to meet all Federal Transportation Security Administration requirements for flight training, or the student must have a Commercial Pilot Certificate issued by the Federal Aviation Administration prior to admission. Further information about admission into this program can be found at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/online/aeronautics/bachelors/aviation/.

An FAA Medical Certificate is required prior to starting flight training at most training locations, and prior to solo flight at all training locations. Although the minimum certificate required for flight training is a Class 3 Medical Certificate, students should obtain a Class 1 Medical Certificate to ensure eligibility for airline operations as Class 1 is the minimum required for employment as an airline pilot.

In order to be admitted into the Liberty Online BS Aviation Maintenance Management, students who do not hold a valid FAA Airframe and Powerplant certificate must certify that he or she understands that based on FAA requirements, the AVMT courses (45 hours) listed on this degree cannot be offered online and must be taken residentially at Liberty University. FAA mechanic training and certification, with Airframe and Powerplant ratings, may be done outside of Liberty University and Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) credit may be awarded for licensure to meet the requirements of the AVMT courses (45 hrs.) if a student already has a valid FAA Airframe and Powerplant certificate. Further information about admission into this program can be found at this link: https://www.liberty.edu/online/aeronautics/bachelors/aviation/aviation-maintenance-management/.

Language Proficiency Requirements

Minimum English proficiency test score requirements for admission to a School of Aeronautics major, minor, or certificate program of study leading to FAA certification or enrollment in a course leading to FAA certification are:

- TOEFL (Internet Based Test or iBT): 79
- International English Language Testing System (IELTS): 6.5
- Pearson Test of English (PTE): 55
- International Test of English Proficiency Academic Plus (iTEP): 3.9
- Successful completion of Level 7 at Language Consultants International (LCI)
- Successful completion of Level 112 at ELS Educational Services (ELS)

Students enrolled in these programs or courses, who do not reside in an English-speaking country, are not eligible to have the English proficiency test requirement waived.

Aeronautics Major (B.S.)

Purpose
The purpose of the Aeronautics degree program is to prepare men and women to become exceptional aviators who possess outstanding knowledge, excellent technical skills, sound judgment, professionalism, leadership, and strong Christian character.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:
1. Apply biblical principles within the professional aviation environment.
2. Apply written and oral communication skills as they pertain to the aviation industry.
3. Promote a healthy organizational safety culture in aviation.
4. Mentor others in leadership skills and qualities as it relates to aviation.
5. Assimilate the healthy lifestyle required to meet the unique physical and cognitive demands of an aviation career.
6. Apply science, technology, and mathematics to aeronautical disciplines

Commercial/Corporate Concentration
The student will be able to apply policies, regulations, and procedures to commercial/corporate flight operations.

Global Studies Concentration
The student will be able to apply policies, regulations, and procedures to humanitarian flight operations.

AVIA 101 Exploring Aviation
This course explores the field of aviation, career opportunities, and future trends. While learning about their future in aviation, students will study blimps, rocketry, gliders, and the principles of flight.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 102 Aviation Foundations
This is a survey course that introduces key ideas which will help anyone interested in aviation succeed. Class time is spent introducing topics like aviation rules of thumb, character development, learning theory, and aviation technical knowledge areas, and applying these topics to various aviation career fields.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 103 Flight Attendant Orientation
This course will introduce students to the exciting lifestyle and career of professional airline flight attendants. Students will learn about the fundamentals of flight, aviation terminology, emergency procedures, regulations, aeromedical factors, customer services expectations, how to deliver public address announcements, and other elements relevant to the role of an airline crewmember. In addition, students will participate in various class activities that include water survival drills that require swimming while fully clothed, self-defense training, touring relevant airport operations areas, professional dress and appearance, classroom discussions, and publicly presenting aircraft safety announcements. It will also include one or more aircraft flights in a small flight training aircraft and, depending upon availability, it may include an observational flight onboard a regional airline aircraft.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 105 Aviation Survey
Prerequisites: AVIA 210
This course is required for all aviation majors and designed for all students interested in an aviation career. Includes a general introduction of current aviation and historical events. This course includes an overview of basic aviation terminology, and potential careers in aviation. Further, it will expose students to the vast array of careers within the aviation sector. This course will introduce a student to Part 141 flight training, Aviation Medicals and Restricted ATP program.
Offered: Online
AVIA 210 Private Ground I 3 Credit Hours
This course is the first of two courses that develop the student's aeronautical knowledge required for certification as a Private Pilot with an Airplane Single Engine Land rating. The course covers basic aviation terms and concepts, basic aerodynamics, aircraft systems, and FAA publications.

AVIA 211 Advanced Aviation Theory 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 225
This course will introduce students to the idea of aviation risk management. Course content includes discussions on aircraft systems, cross-country flying, elements of risk management, and automation.

Offered: Online

AVIA 215 Private Ground II 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 210 (may be taken concurrently)
This course is the second of two courses that develop the student's aeronautical knowledge required for certification as a Private Pilot with an Airplane Single Engine Land Rating. The course covers basic aviation terms and concepts, to include flight planning, meteorology, airport operations, and navigation.

AVIA 220 Private Flight I 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217) and AVIA 010 (may be taken concurrently)
This course is the first of two sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Private Pilot practical test. Students who are required to complete ENGL 100, MATH 100, or MATH 100 are not eligible for AVIA 220 enrollment.

Registration Restrictions: To be eligible to take this course, students must score at least a 'C' on the Liberty University English and Math Assessment Tests and be eligible to take English 101 and Math 115 or higher.

AVIA 225 Private Flight II 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 220 and AVIA 015 (may be taken concurrently)
This course is the second of two sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Private Pilot practical test.

AVIA 230 Unmanned Aerial Systems 3 Credit Hours
This is an introductory course in unmanned aerial systems (UAS). The course includes the history of unmanned aircraft; the elements of command and control; the National Airspace System and how it relates to UAS; current and planned Federal Aviation Administration regulation; and the very latest operations and challenges currently facing this industry.

AVIA 235 Small Unmanned Aerial System Ground 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 230
This course builds upon the foundation developed in AVIA 230. This course consists of academics and simulated flights of multi-rotor and fixed wing UAS platforms. Students will learn mission planning, autonomous mission execution, and customer product creation.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 236 Small UAS Flight 1 Credit Hour
Prerequisites: AVIA 230 and (AVIA 235
This course will provide the student a study in the command and control of small unmanned aerial systems. Command and control theories will be discussed in relation to a specific UAS. Specific command and control systems will be taught and will include ground lessons, simulator training, and flight training. By completion of the class, the student will be able to safely conduct small UAS flights for commercial purposes.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 240 GPS Navigation 1 Credit Hour
This course teaches the practical use of global positioning through the Garmin G1000 Flight Management System. We will cover the Global Positioning System (GPS) theory, operations, hardware and software usage, and refer to similar equipment models. This course references the National Airspace System and critical Air Traffic Control elements including navigational aids, operations in controlled and uncontrolled airspace, as well as towered and non-towered airport environments. Elements of communication, radio operations, as well as normal and abnormal operations are discussed.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 241 GPS Instrument Navigation 1 Credit Hour
Prerequisites: AVIA 240
This course builds upon the basic GPS knowledge acquired in the AVIA 240 GPS Navigation course and builds on an understanding of the Garmin G1000 as it relates to instrument flight. The content encompasses all phases of instrument flying including instrument approaches, holding and course reversals, departures, enroute and arrivals as well as vertical navigation (VNAV) descents, troubleshooting and malfunctions, WAAS and autopilot use in an instrument flight rules (IFR) environment.

Offered: Resident
AVIA 242 Advanced GPS Navigation 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

The quality and effectiveness of this course is dependent upon the focus of real-life lessons rather than simple textbook learning. This course teaches the practical use of global positioning through the Garmin G1000 Flight Management System. We will cover GPS theory, operations, hardware and software usage, and refer to similar equipment models. This course references the National Airspace System and critical Air Traffic Control elements including navigational aids, operations in controlled and uncontrolled airspace, as well as towered and non-towered airport environments. Elements of communication, radio operations, as well as normal and abnormal operations are discussed. The content encompasses all phases of instrument flying including instrument approaches, holding and course reversals, departures, en route and arrivals as well as vertical navigation (VNAV) descents, troubleshooting and malfunctions, WAAS and autopilot use in an instrument flight rule (IFR) environment.

Offered: Online

AVIA 245 Aviation Leadership 3 Credit Hours

The focus of this course is how an aviator can promote effective and safe aviation operations by developing and employing sound human factors leadership principles. Crew resource management, threat and error management, and safety management system concepts and programs will be evaluated against actual situations and aircraft accident case studies to help students develop their analytic and evaluative skills. Students will also learn their own personal strengths and how those strengths relate to human factors elements that contribute to effective aviation teams and an organizational culture that promotes safe mission accomplishment. (Formerly AVIA 445)

AVIA 250 Introduction to Space Flight 3 Credit Hours

This course is a survey of the major aspects of space flight and exploration. Topics covered include the history of space flight, space vehicle launch and orbits, international space station operations, human physiology in space, and present and future commercial, industrial and military applications in space. The course examines differing views presented by scientists in the field including those with a biblical worldview.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 299 Internship 0 Credit Hours

Offered: Resident

AVIA 300 Aviation Safety 3 Credit Hours

This course provides the student with a detailed introduction into aspects of aviation safety, risk management, and the associated components of pilot psychology, human factors and accident trends, factors and analysis. Students will explore and develop their identity as an aviation leader as it relates to safety.

AVIA 302 Airplane Aerodynamics 3 Credit Hours

AVIA 305 Airplane Aerodynamics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: MATH 130 and PHYS 101

This course will provide the student a study of the physical principles of airplane aerodynamics, thereby fostering an appreciation of the factors affecting aircraft performance, stability and control, and special flight conditions often experienced by commercial pilots of the fixed-wing aircraft.

AVIA 310 Instrument Ground 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

The student will learn the FAA regulations, radio communications, air traffic control procedures, and meteorology as it relates to the instrument flight environment. The student will learn the proper use of radio navigational instruments and will be given study tools to prepare for the FAA Instrument written exam.

AVIA 311 Instrumental Lab Theory 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

This course is designed to provide the student with ability to convert instrument flight theory to practical flight simulator operations. Student will fly simulator lights in the basic instrument phase to build a strong instrument scan. After mastering basic instruments, they learn radio calls and navigation used to perform instrument approaches to a landing.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 312 Aviation Safety Programs 3 Credit Hours

In AVIA 312, students gain understanding of establishing an aviation safety program, including organizational policy and risk management. Hands on learning includes conducting an investigation into a simulated aviation mishap.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 314 Principles of Aviation Administration 3 Credit Hours

There is so much more to aviation than flying airplanes. This is a career-oriented course which introduces students to management competencies with a practical application to aviation service businesses. Course discussions include management functions, marketing, cash flows, and property oversight.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 315 Commercial Gound 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

This course will cover advanced aeronautical knowledge in aerodynamics, regulations, meteorology, aircraft systems, and airspace operations required for the Commercial Pilot Knowledge and Oral examinations.
AVIA 320 Instrument Flight 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 310 and AVIA 020 (may be taken concurrently) and (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 101 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217)

This course will provide basic instrument flight training. The course will require approximately 35 hours and will include a combination of both aircraft and simulator flight training. The student will gain an in-depth knowledge of Air Traffic Control procedures, airway navigation, and both precision and non-precision instrument approaches. This course will prepare the student for the FAA Instrument Practical Test.

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 323 UAS Avionics & Powerplants 3 Credit Hours
This course will provide the student a study in the current state of the art of avionics and systems in unmanned aerial systems. Students will be taught advanced concepts including RTK GPS, wired and wireless communications protocols, and RF theory. An overview of various UAS powerplants will also be presented.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 325 Commercial Flight I 1-3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 025 (may be taken concurrently) and (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217)

This course is the first of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 326 Commercial Flight II 1-3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 325 and AVIA 026 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the second of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 327 Commercial Flight III 1-3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 326 and AVIA 315 and AVIA 027 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the third of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 331 Commercial Pilot, Single Engine Land Add On 1 Credit Hour
Prerequisites: AVIA 327 and AVIA 031 (may be taken concurrently)

This course will provide the student a study in the commercial operation of single-engine aircraft. The student will apply the knowledge and skills previously attained during the commercial multi-engine course to the operation of a single-engine aircraft. This will include theoretical and practical training in the flight maneuvers required by the FAA Commercial Pilot Practical Test Standards such that the student will be able to smoothly and precisely perform each single-engine commercial flight maneuver to the high standards required of a professional aviator. To satisfactorily complete this course, the student will be required to successfully complete an FAA Practical Test, which includes an oral exam and a flight test in a single-engine aircraft.

AVIA 332 Commercial Pilot Helicopter Add-On 3 Credit Hours
This course provides helicopter academic and flight training to FAA certificated fixed wing pilots. The student will receive a detailed introduction to helicopter aerodynamics, helicopter systems, helicopter maneuvers, aviation safety, and risk assessment.

Offered: Online

AVIA 334 Rotor to Fixed-Wing Commercial/Instrument Transition 3 Credit Hours
This course provides the requisite aircraft, simulator, and ground instruction training required to take the FAA Additional Category (Airplane Single Engine Land) and Instrument Airplane practical test. Students must already hold a valid FAA Commercial/Instrument Rotorcraft rating. During this course, students will complete the required training outlined in the applicable training course outline (TCO) under FAA 14CFR141 Appendix I and Appendix C. The student will be required to complete the following three FAA practical tests at the end of this course: Commercial Single Engine, Added-Instrument, and Commercial Multi Engine Add-On.

Offered: Online

AVIA 335 Medium UAS Ground and Flight I 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisites: AVIA 230 and AVIA 235 and AVIA 446 (may be taken concurrently)

This course provides the student knowledge on a medium UAS platform through classroom instruction. Aircraft systems, software, hardware, and operating procedures will be covered. This course prepares the student to succeed in future simulated, and actual, flight training events.

Offered: Resident
AVIA 340 Aviation Weather 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 210

This course is a study of weather hazards, meteorological flight planning, aviation weather equipment and human factors as related to flight safety in all weather conditions.

AVIA 350 Airline Operations 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 310 and AVIA 320

This course is representative of the initial training a First Officer will receive as a new hire in today's airline industry. A foundational knowledge of FAR Part 91 instrument procedures is required. The material covered will focus on FAR Part 121 regulations, airline policies and procedures presented from an operational perspective. The topics studied will include: airline seniority, safety systems, the concept of operational control, operational policy, flight planning, and emergency/abnormal operations. Each student will be exposed to an in-depth study of dispatch procedures, fuel planning, weather requirements, and Jeppesen instrument approach procedures. The concepts of both Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be developed through all aspects of this course.

AVIA 355 Air Carrier Operations 3 Credit Hours

This course will explore the regulatory, network, business, and operational framework that supports air carrier operations and management. Special topics include business strategy, airside planning and procedures, operational and crew planning, processes, disruptions in operations, and tactics for mitigating service interruptions. The course will incorporate concept-relevant current trends within the air carrier industry through review, analysis, and discussion.

AVIA 360 Corporate and Business Aviation 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to introduce students to the exciting industry of corporate aviation. The course does introduce some business theory, but most of the course is designed as a practical guide for those who are interested in being involved in field of on-demand aviation. Students will be introduced to the importance of the feasibility study, and then discover the pitfalls of aircraft selection and acquisition. The course also highlights topics like international operations, maintenance requirements, and the importance of a good safety culture.

AVIA 361 Airport Management 3 Credit Hours

This course introduces students to the amazing world of airport operations. Management skills and airport knowledge merge together in this course to help develop a better understanding of the planning processes and managerial and operational functions carried on at small and large international airports.

AVIA 365 Air Carrier Operations 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 310 and AVIA 320

This course is representative of the initial training a First Officer will receive as a new hire in today's airline industry. A foundational knowledge of FAR Part 91 instrument procedures is required. The material covered will focus on FAR Part 121 regulations, airline policies and procedures presented from an operational perspective. The topics studied will include: airline seniority, safety systems, the concept of operational control, operational policy, flight planning, and emergency/abnormal operations. Each student will be exposed to an in-depth study of dispatch procedures, fuel planning, weather requirements, and Jeppesen instrument approach procedures. The concepts of both Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be developed through all aspects of this course.

AVIA 370 Aircraft Performance 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 310 and AVIA 320

This course will cover the scope of regulations concerning aviation and how they impact the pilot. The course will provide basic understanding of the human factors concepts including psychological and physiological limitations of humans operating in complex environments. In addition, the course will include an in-depth study of Crew Resource Management, which involves understanding of the flight deck environment and the proper utilization of resources available to the aviator.

AVIA 400 Aviation Human Factors 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 305

This course will survey the theory of airplane performance and flight characteristics to include pilot static calibration, weight and balance, engine and propeller performance, takeoff and landing performance, range and endurance, excess energy and power, 1G stalls, turn performance, and longitudinal, lateral and directional static and dynamic stability and control. The course will provide in class instruction and practical laboratory work in both a simulator and aircraft to quantitatively document aircraft performance, and stability and control. Flight test data reduction and reporting techniques will conclude the learning objectives as student will report on the results of their evaluations.

AVIA 405 Advanced Aerodynamics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 305

This course will survey the theory of airplane performance and flight characteristics to include pilot static calibration, weight and balance, engine and propeller performance, takeoff and landing performance, range and endurance, excess energy and power, 1G stalls, turn performance, and longitudinal, lateral and directional static and dynamic stability and control. The course will provide in class instruction and practical laboratory work in both a simulator and aircraft to quantitatively document aircraft performance, and stability and control. Flight test data reduction and reporting techniques will conclude the learning objectives as student will report on the results of their evaluations.

AVIA 409 Safety Management Systems 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 312

In AVIA 409, students explore Safety Management Systems (SMS) in depth. As leaders in training, students learn how Safety Management Systems (SMS) integrates leadership commitment, an environment of trust and accountability, and just culture. Hands on learning includes the planning and conducting of a simulated emergency response drill.

AVIA 410 Flight and Ground Instructor Theory 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 315

This course provides the student with a detailed study of the responsibilities and teaching methods of a flight instructor. The course is divided into two major sections: fundamentals of teaching and learning, including effective teaching methods, learning process, consideration of flight training syllabi, effective evaluations, and flight instructor responsibilities. The second section covers the analysis of the flight maneuvers involved with Private Pilot, Commercial Pilot and Flight Instructor Certificates. The course will also provide practical teaching experiences.

AVIA 419 Aviation Safety Data Analysis 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 400

In AVIA 419, students will learn to collect, validate, analyze and communicate data relevant to aviation safety. Students will visualize flight data using tools such as Google Earth, flight simulators, and data software, and will learn how to conduct Flight Data Monitoring (FDM).

Offered: Resident

Offered: Resident
AVIA 420 Flight Instructor Flight 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 410 and AVIA 040 (may be taken concurrently)

This course covers flight instructor methods and maneuvers in preparation for the FAA Certified Flight Instructor initial evaluation.

AVIA 422 Certified Flight Instructor - Instrument (CFII) 1 Credit Hour

This course is designed to train students to successfully complete the FAA Certified Flight Instructor Instrument Certificate. The course will contain both academic classroom and aircraft flight training required by FAA regulations. The academic ground school will consist of 11 lessons exceeding the FAA requirement of 40 classroom hours of instruction. The flight portion of this course will consist of 10 flights exceeding the FAA requirement of 25 hours of flight time.

AVIA 424 Airline Transport Pilot 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 315 and AVIA 325 and AVIA 326 and AVIA 327

This course is designed to train the student to obtain the knowledge, skill, and aeronautical experience necessary to meet the FAA Part 141 requirements to obtain an Airline Transport Pilot Certificate. The course will contain both academic classroom and aircraft flight training required by FAA regulations. The academic ground school will consist of 11 lessons exceeding the FAA requirement of 40 classroom hours of instruction. The flight portion of this course will consist of 10 flights exceeding the FAA requirement of 25 hours of flight time.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 430 Multi-Engine Theory and Advanced Aircraft Systems 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 310

This course provides for an understanding of the principles and practice of operating a multi-engine aircraft. Normal and abnormal procedures are included along with a discussion of the Federal Aviation Regulations, unique weather and environmental circumstances, aircraft systems and the specific aerodynamics associated with multi-engine aircraft.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 435 Advanced Jet Systems 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 430 and (AVIA 350

This course is representative of the systems training a First Officer receives as a new hire in today’s airline industry. This course provides advanced jet systems training by systematically studying the type of aircraft systems commonly found on commercially operated jet aircraft. As a training platform, this course specially explores all the major aircraft systems found on the Bombardier CRJ-200. Students will be exposed to aircraft limitations and profiles, Immediate Action Items, checklist usage, systems found on the Bombardier CRJ-200. The concepts of both Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be developed through all aspects of this course.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 436 Advanced Jet Training 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 435 and AVIA 036 (may be taken concurrently)

Built on the foundational knowledge acquired in Airline Operations (AVIA 350) and Advanced Jet Systems (AVIA 435), this course will include Cockpit Procedure Training (CPT) lessons and Flight Training Lessons in a CRJ-200 Flight Training Device (FTD). This scenario-based training will include: Checklist usage in multi-crew environment; Flight Management Systems (FMS) operations; Normal procedures and flight profiles; Abnormal/Emergency procedures and flight profiles; High altitude aerodynamics; and Aeronautical Decision Making. This course will also stress the proper use of aircraft automation to include: the Flight Control Panel, incorporating both the Flight Director and the Autopilot through all phases of flight. The concepts of both Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be developed through all aspects of this course.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 440 Multi-Engine Flight 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 327 (may be taken concurrently)

Introduction to multi-engine flight and all related maneuvers in preparation for the FAA Multi-Engine Rating.

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 441 Multi-Engine Instructor 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 410

This course builds on the Certified Flight Instructor Licensure to teach techniques and maneuvers in preparation for the FAA multi-engine practical flight test for licensure.

AVIA 442 Advanced Aircraft Flight Operations 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 327

This course will provide the student a study in high performance aircraft with engines having more than 200 horsepower. This will include theoretical ground training associated with high performance aircraft and the practical flight training required by 14 CFR 61.31. This will include training to proficiency in the operation of the aircraft’s major systems and in the safe conduct of high performance flight operations. In addition, this course will focus on advanced flight operations in a wide variety of environments, including unimproved landing surfaces, flight operations in and over uninhabited areas, complex airspace and aerodromes, and complex weather systems. At the successful completion of this course, students will receive a special endorsement authorizing the student to legally operate an aircraft with an engine of more than 200 horsepower.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 446 Medium UAS Ground and Flight II 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 230 and AVIA 235 and (AVIA 335

This course provides the student the opportunity to utilize knowledge gained in AVIA 335 by conducting simulated medium UAS flights. Normal, abnormal, and emergency procedures will be taught and executed utilizing Medium UAS simulators.

Offered: Resident
AVIA 447 Medium UAS Ground and Flight III
Prerequisites: AVIA 446 and AVIA 335
This course provides the student the opportunity to achieve full certification on a Medium UAS aircraft. Utilizing knowledge and skills built in AVIA 335 and 446, students will conduct training flight operations. Upon successful completion of all flight events the student will be given industry certification.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 450 Confined Area Operation
Prerequisites: AVIA 325
This course will prepare students to plan and operate in confined areas with short and unpaved landing strips. The student will learn safety aspects, risk management and flight techniques necessary to successfully operate throughout the world.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 451 Aviation Maintenance Operations
A study of aviation maintenance-specific topics which face those in maintenance leadership positions. These topics include, but are not limited to, the need for maintenance; development of maintenance programs; technical planning, control, and training; and differing types of maintenance operations.
Offered: Online

AVIA 455 Turbine Engines and Jet Transports
This course is an in-depth study of the turbine engine theory, design and operations. The student will also receive a broad knowledge of the design and operation of turbine engines and their related systems on transport category aircraft.

AVIA 460 Aviation Interview
This course will cover the unique requirements of an aviation job interview. The course material will focus on the entire interview process from personal preparation, to paperwork presentation, to the actual interview itself. Practice interviews with professionals from the aviation industry will critique the student on personal appearance, communication skills, and professional knowledge. In formulating answers to interview questions, the principles of Aeronautical Decision Making (ADM), Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be thoroughly developed.
Registration Restrictions: Junior Status or higher.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 465 Human Factors & Crew Res Mgmt
Prerequisites: AVIA 310

AVIA 472 Aviation Organizational Ethics
Prerequisites: AVIA 245
The aviation industry offers a work environment with a unique balance of regulatory and performance demands. This course introduces students to the tools necessary to recognize and apply managerial principles to common ethical situations found in this unique aviation environment.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 491 Capstone: Advanced Research Concepts
Prerequisites: AVIA 400 and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80)
During this course, students pursue aeronautical research interests to add to their educational portfolio through participation in a case study project or with a capstone topic or concept paper. Tasks include forming the research problem, defining methods, and generating a literature review. Path to continue with AVIA 492, Aviation Research Implementation.
Registration Restrictions: Second semester Junior Status or higher.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 492 Aviation Research Implementation
Prerequisites: AVIA 491
During this AVIA 492 students refine the research problem and methods, research the problem and report the conclusions. Ultimate desired outcome includes path for national forum presentation and/or scholarly journal publication.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 495 Directed Research
Prerequisites: AVIA 495
Students will apply their learning to add to their learning portfolio through participation in a case study project or with a capstone research paper. Tasks include refining the research problem, exploring methods, and generating a final paper.
Offered: Resident

AVIA 499 Aeronautics Internship
Prerequisites: AVIA 446 and AVIA 335
This course provides the student the opportunity to achieve full certification on a Medium UAS aircraft. Utilizing knowledge and skills built in AVIA 335 and 446, students will conduct training flight operations. Upon successful completion of all flight events the student will be given industry certification.
Offered: Resident

Important: This degree plan is effective for those starting this degree program in fall 2019 through summer 2020. This degree plan will remain... in effect for students who do not break enrollment or who do not change

Associate of Arts Degrees
In an effort to meet the educational needs of students who want a university degree, but who do not desire to complete a four-year bachelor's program, the School of Aeronautics offers the Associate of Arts Degree in Aeronautics Airline Flight Attendant and the Associate of Arts Degree Aviation Maintenance Technician. These two-year degree programs combine courses in the major program of study with General Education courses and other graduation requirements.

Programs
• Aeronautics - Airline Flight Attendant Major (A.A.) (p. 422)
• Aviation Maintenance Technician Major (A.A.) (p. 423)

Aeronautics - Airline Flight Attendant Major (A.A.)

Purpose
The purpose of the Flight Attendant Program is to train men and women to become exceptional flight attendants who possess outstanding knowledge, excellent technical skills, sound judgment, professionalism, and strong Christian character.

Program Learning Outcomes
The student will be able to:
1. Apply biblical principles within the professional aviation environment.
2. Apply written and oral communication skills as they pertain to the aviation industry.
3. Promote a healthy organizational safety culture in aviation.

Aviation Maintenance Technician Major (A.A.)

Purpose
The purpose of the Aviation Technician Program is to train pilots, as well as non-pilots to maintain aircraft in the context of a faith-based missionary organization; however, training is also applicable to those pursuing other careers in general, corporate and commercial aviation.

The Aviation Maintenance Technician Program is an accelerated maintenance training program designed for the FAA portion (all AVMT courses) to be completed as a single block in one year. Additional Associate of Arts degree courses may be completed within an additional year. The curricula for the aircraft maintenance certification program are regulated by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) under 14 CFR 147.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of the Associate of Arts in Aviation Maintenance Technician or Aviation Maintenance Technician Certificate program, the student will be able to:
1. Apply Biblical principles in the aviation maintenance environment.
2. Solve aviation maintenance issues and problems individually, and within a team environment.
3. Apply science, technology, and mathematics in the area of aviation maintenance.

Aviation Administration Major (B.S.)

Purpose

The purpose of the Aviation Maintenance degree program is to prepare students for management and leadership roles in the aviation maintenance field. The curriculum expands on the School of Aeronautics Aviation Maintenance Technician Program (AMTP) training for FAA aviation mechanic certification. It builds on, and strengthens, fundamental skills and principles taught during the AMTP training. The degree delves into broader topics facing an FAA licensed mechanic such as Human Factors and Safety.

The FAA certification portion of this program (all AVMT courses) is designed to be completed in 12-consecutive months.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:
1. Apply biblical principles within the aviation profession.
2. Apply written and oral communications skills to promote effective aviation administration.
3. Promote a healthy organizational safety culture in aviation.
4. Mentor others in leadership skills and qualities as it relates to aviation administration.
5. Adapt sound business practices to the aviation industry.
6. Apply science, technology, and mathematics to aviation administration.

AVIA 101 Exploring Aviation

This course explores the field of aviation, career opportunities, and future trends. While learning about their future in aviation, students will study blimps, rocketry, gliders, and the principles of flight.

AVIA 102 Aviation Foundations

This is a survey course that introduces key ideas which will help anyone interested in aviation succeed. Class time is spent introducing topics like aviation rules of thumb, character development, learning theory, and aviation technical knowledge areas, and applying these topics to various aviation career fields.

AVIA 103 Flight Attendant Orientation

This course will introduce students to the exciting lifestyle and career of professional airline flight attendants. Students will learn about the fundamentals of flight, aviation terminology, emergency procedures, regulations, aeromedical factors, customer services expectations, how to deliver public address announcements, and other elements relevant to the role of an airline crewmember. In addition, students will participate in various class activities that include water survival drills that require swimming while fully clothed, self-defense training, touring relevant airport operations areas, professional dress and appearance, classroom discussions, and publically presenting aircraft safety announcements. It will also include one or more aircraft flights in a small flight training aircraft and, depending upon availability, it may include an observational flight onboard a regional airline aircraft.
AVIA 105 Aviation Survey 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 210

This course is required for all aviation majors and designed for all students interested in an aviation career. Includes a general introduction of current aviation and historical events. This course includes an overview of basic aviation terminology, and potential careers in aviation. Further, it will expose students to the vast array of careers within the aviation sector. This course will introduce a student to Part 141 flight training, Aviation Medicals and Restricted ATP program.

Offered: Online

AVIA 210 Private Ground I 3 Credit Hours

This course is the first of two courses that develop the student's aeronautical knowledge required for certification as a Private Pilot with an Airplane Single Engine Land rating. The course covers basic aviation terms and concepts, basic aerodynamics, aircraft systems, and FAA publications.

AVIA 211 Advanced Aviation Theory 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

This course will introduce students to the idea of aviation risk management. Course content includes discussions on aircraft systems, cross-country flying, elements of risk management, and automation.

Offered: Online

AVIA 215 Private Ground II 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 210 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the second of two courses that develop the student's aeronautical knowledge required for certification as a Private Pilot with an Airplane Single Engine Land Rating. The course covers basic aviation terms and concepts, to include flight planning, meteorology, airport operations, and navigation.

AVIA 220 Private Flight I 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217) and AVIA 010 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the first of two sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Private Pilot practical test. Students who are required to complete ENGL 100, MATH 100, or MATH 100 are not eligible for AVIA 220 enrollment.

Registration Restrictions: To be eligible to take this course, students must score at least a "C" on the Liberty University English and Math Assessment Tests and be eligible to take English 101 and Math 115 or higher.

AVIA 225 Private Flight II 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 220 and AVIA 015 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the second of two sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Private Pilot practical test.

AVIA 230 Unmanned Aerial Systems 3 Credit Hours

This is an introductory course in unmanned aerial systems (UAS). The course includes the history of unmanned aircraft; the elements of command and control; the National Airspace System and how it relates to UAS; current and planned Federal Aviation Administration regulation; and the very latest operations and challenges currently facing this industry.

AVIA 235 Small Unmanned Aerial System Ground 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 230

This course builds upon the foundation developed in AVIA 230. This course consists of academics and simulated flights of multi-rotor and fixed wing UAS platforms. Students will learn mission planning, autonomous mission execution, and customer product creation.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 236 Small UAS Flight 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 230 and (AVIA 235

This course will provide the student a study in the command and control of small unmanned aerial systems. Command and control theories will be discussed in relation to a specific UAS. Specific command and control systems will be taught and will include ground lessons, simulator training, and flight training. By completion of the class, the student will be able to safely conduct small UAS flights for commercial purposes.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 240 GPS Navigation 1 Credit Hour

This course teaches the practical use of global positioning through the Garmin G1000 Flight Management System. We will cover the Global Positioning System (GPS) theory, operations, hardware and software usage, and refer to similar equipment models. This course references the National Airspace System and critical Air Traffic Control elements including navigational aids, operations in controlled and uncontrolled airspace, as well as towered and non-towered airport environments. Elements of communication, radio operations, as well as normal and abnormal operations are discussed.

AVIA 314 Principles of Aviation Administration 3 Credit Hours

There is so much more to aviation than flying airplanes. This is a career-oriented course which introduces students to management competencies with a practical application to aviation service businesses. Course discussions include management functions, marketing, cash flows, and property oversight.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 315 Commercial Ground 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 225

This course will cover advanced aeronautical knowledge in aerodynamics, regulations, meteorology, aircraft systems, and airspace operations required for the Commercial Pilot Knowledge and Oral examinations.

AVIA 320 Instrument Flight 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: (AVIA 310 and AVIA 020 (may be taken concurrently) and (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 101 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217)

This course will provide basic instrument flight training. The course will require approximately 35 hours and will include a combination of both aircraft and simulator flight training. The student will gain an in-depth knowledge of Air Traffic Control procedures, airway navigation, and both precision and non-precision instrument approaches. This course will prepare the student for the FAA Instrument Practical Test.

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 323 UAS Avionics & Powerplants 3 Credit Hours

This course will provide the student a study in the current state of the art of avionics and systems in unmanned aerial systems. Students will be taught advanced concepts including RTK GPS, wired and wireless communications protocols, and RF theory. An overview of various UAS powerplants will also be presented.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 325 Commercial Flight I 1-3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 025 (may be taken concurrently) and (ENGL 100 or (pre2016) SAT Writing with a score of 480 or SAT Test Writing/Language with a score of 28 or ACT English with a score of 19 or Placement Score-English with a score of 70 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 201 or ENGL 202 or ENGL 215 or ENGL 216 or ENGL 221 or ENGL 222) and (Placement Score-Math with a score of 75 or MATH 110 or MATH 114 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 117 or MATH 121 or MATH 122 or MATH 125 or MATH 126 or MATH 128 or MATH 130 or MATH 131 or MATH 201 or MATH 217)

This course is the first of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 326 Commercial Flight II 1-3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 325 and AVIA 026 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the second of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 327 Commercial Flight III 1-3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 326 and AVIA 315 and AVIA 027 (may be taken concurrently)

This course is the third of three sequential flight training courses that include the requisite aircraft and simulator training and experience required for the FAA Commercial Pilot practical test. During this course, students will complete approximately one third of the aircraft and simulator training and experience hours required in the applicable commercial pilot training course outline (TCO).

Offered: Resident and Online

AVIA 331 Commercial Pilot, Single Engine Land Add On 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 327 and AVIA 031 (may be taken concurrently)

This course will provide the student a study in the commercial operation of single-engine aircraft. The student will apply the knowledge and skills previously attained during the commercial multi-engine course to the operation of a single-engine aircraft. This will include theoretical and practical training in the flight maneuvers required by the FAA Commercial Pilot Practical Test Standards such that the student will be able to smoothly and precisely perform each single-engine commercial flight maneuver to the high standards required of a professional aviator. To satisfactorily complete this course, the student will be required to successfully complete an FAA Practical Test, which includes an oral exam and a flight test in a single-engine aircraft.
This course provides helicopter academic and flight training to FAA certificated fixed wing pilots. The student will receive a detailed introduction to helicopter aerodynamics, helicopter systems, helicopter maneuvers, aviation safety, and risk assessment.

Offered: Online

AVIA 334 Rotor to Fixed-Wing Commercial/Instrument Transition 3 Credit Hours

This course provides the requisite aircraft, simulator, and ground instruction training required to take the FAA Additional Category (Airplane Single Engine Land) and Instrument Airplane practical test. Students must already hold a valid FAA Commercial/Instrument Rotorcraft rating. During this course, students will complete the required training outlined in the applicable training course outline (TCO) under FAA 14CFR141 Appendix I and Appendix C. The student will be required to complete the following three FAA practical tests at the end of this course: Commercial Single Engine, Added-Instrument, and Commercial Multi Engine Add-On.

Offered: Online

AVIA 335 Medium UAS Ground and Flight I 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 230 and AVIA 235 and AVIA 446 (may be taken concurrently)

This course provides the student knowledge on a medium UAS platform through classroom instruction. Aircraft systems, software, hardware, and operating procedures will be covered. This course prepares the student to succeed in future simulated, and actual, flight training events.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 340 Aviation Weather 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 210

This course is a study of weather hazards, meteorological flight planning, aviation weather equipment and human factors as related to flight safety in all weather conditions.

AVIA 350 Airline Operations 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 310 and AVIA 320

This course is representative of the initial training a First Officer will receive as a new hire in today’s airline industry. A foundational knowledge of FAR Part 91 instrument procedures is required. The material covered will focus on FAR Part 121 regulations, airline policies and procedures presented from an operational perspective. The topics studied will include: airline seniority, safety systems, the concept of operational control, operational policy, flight planning, and emergency/abnormal operations. Each student will be exposed to an in-depth study of dispatch procedures, fuel planning, weather requirements, and Jeppesen instrument approach procedures. The concepts of both Crew Resource Management (CRM) and Threat and Error Management (TEM) will be developed through all aspects of this course.

AVIA 355 Air Carrier Operations 3 Credit Hours

This course will explore the regulatory, network, business, and operational framework that supports air carrier operations and management. Special topics include business strategy, airside planning and procedures, operational and crew planning, processes, disruptions in operations, and tactics for mitigating service interruptions. The course will incorporate concept-relevant current trends within the air carrier industry through review, analysis, and discussion.

Offered: Online

AVIA 360 Corporate and Business Aviation 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to introduce students to the exciting industry of corporate aviation. The course does introduce some business theory, but most of the course is designed as a practical guide for those who are interested in being involved in field of on-demand aviation. Students will be introduced to the importance of the feasibility study, and then discover the pitfalls of aircraft selection and acquisition. The course also highlights topics like international operations, maintenance requirements, and the importance of a good safety culture.

AVIA 361 Airport Management 3 Credit Hours

This course introduces students to the amazing world of airport operations. Management skills and airport knowledge merge together in this course to help develop a better understanding of the planning processes and managerial and operational functions carried on at small and large international airports.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 400 Aviation Human Factors 3 Credit Hours

This course will cover the scope of regulations concerning aviation and how they impact the pilot. The course will provide basic understanding of the human factors concepts including psychological and physiological limitations of humans operating in complex environments. In addition, the course will include an in-depth study of Crew Resource Management, which involves understanding of the flight deck environment and the proper utilization of resources available to the aviator.

AVIA 405 Advanced Aerodynamics 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 305

This course will survey the theory of airplane performance and flight characteristics to include pilot static calibration, weight and balance, engine and propeller performance, takeoff and landing performance, range and endurance, excess energy and power, 1G stalls, turn performance, and longitudinal, lateral and directional static and dynamic stability and control. The course will provide in class instruction and practical laboratory work in both a simulator and aircraft to quantitatively document aircraft performance, and stability and control. Flight test data reduction and reporting techniques will conclude the learning objectives as student will report on the results of their evaluations.

Prerequisites: AVIA 400 and (RSCH 201 or Inquiry Research with a score of 80 or Research with a score of 80 or Research (prior to 2017-2018) with a score of 80)

During this course, students pursue aeronautical research interests to add to their educational portfolio through participation in a case study project or with a capstone topic or concept paper. Tasks include forming the research problem, defining methods, and generating a literature review. Path to continue with AVIA 492, Aviation Research Implementation.

Registration Restrictions: Second semester Junior Status or higher.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 492 Aviation Research Implementation 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: AVIA 491

During this AVIA 492 students refine the research problem and methods, research the problem and report the conclusions. Ultimate desired outcome includes path for national forum presentation and/or scholarly journal publication.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 495 Directed Research 1-3 Credit Hours

Offered: Resident

AVIA 496 Advanced Directed Research 1 Credit Hour

Prerequisites: AVIA 495

Students will apply their learning to add to their learning portfolio through participation in a case study project or with a capstone research paper. Tasks include refining the research problem, exploring methods, and generating a final paper.

Offered: Resident

AVIA 497 Aeronautics Internship 1-6 Credit Hours

Offered: Resident

AMTS training. The degree delves into broader topics facing an FAA licensed mechanic such as Human Factors and Safety. The FAA certification portion of this program (all AVMT courses) is designed to be completed in 12-consecutive months.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

1. Apply Biblical principles within the aviation maintenance environment.
2. Apply science, technology, and mathematics in the area of aviation maintenance.
3. Promote a healthy organizational safety culture in the aviation maintenance industry.
4. Solve aviation maintenance issues and problems individually, and within a team environment.
5. Apply written and oral communication skills as they pertain to aviation maintenance.
6. Mentor others in leadership skills and qualities.

Note: Based on FAA requirements, the AVMT courses (45 hours) listed on this degree cannot be offered online and must be taken residentially at Liberty University. You may complete FAA mechanic certification with Airframe and Powerplant ratings outside of Liberty University and Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) credit may be awarded for licensure to meet the requirements of the AVMT courses (45 hrs.).

Aviation Maintenance Major (B.S.)

Purpose

The purpose of the Aviation Maintenance degree program is to prepare students for management and leadership roles in the aviation maintenance field. The curriculum expands on the School of Aeronautics AMTS (A&P) training for FAA aviation mechanic licensure. It builds on, and strengthens, fundamental skills and principles taught during the
Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 101 Maintenance Mathematics 1 Credit Hour

This course will provide the student with a review of the fundamental operations in arithmetic as they are applied routinely in aircraft maintenance, including: fractions, decimals, ratios, geometry, basic trigonometric functions, formulae, and proportions. Applications of these operations in aircraft maintenance will be demonstrated.

AVMT 102 Aircraft Sciences II 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to introduce the student to direct and alternating current electricity, electrical circuit design, measuring devices, transformers, magnetism, electromagnetism, electronic devices and applications; with emphasis on basic laws relating to voltage, current, resistance, inductance, and capacitance. The student will also learn how to read and interpret electrical diagrams and to inspect and service aircraft batteries. This course will also give the student an understanding of aircraft drawings, symbols, and schematic diagrams commonly used in aircraft maintenance and illustrated parts manuals; the knowledge and ability to create drawings and sketches of repairs or alterations, and the ability to interpret blueprints, graphs, and charts.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 103 Maintenance Physics 1 Credit Hour

This course will provide the student with a review of the fundamental concepts of physics. Basic concepts of aviation applied physics will be presented, including: aerodynamic laws, theory of flight, fluid, heat, power, work, simple machines, and sound.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 104 Maintenance Practices I 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to develop the student's skills in the proper use of basic aircraft mechanic's hand tools and measuring devices, aircraft hardware, safety methods, and materials used in aircraft maintenance and repair. Various methods of nondestructive testing will be learned and applied to practical situations, including liquid penetrant, magnetic particle, eddy current, ultrasound and radiography. The student will understand the privileges, limitations, and regulations provided by the FAA Code of Federal Regulations pertinent to aircraft maintenance technicians. Emphasis will be placed on the selection and use of FAA and manufacturers' aircraft maintenance specifications, data sheets, manuals, and publications; as well as proper logbook and maintenance entries and record keeping.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 105 Aircraft Weight and Balance 1 Credit Hour

This course will provide the student with an understanding of the principles of aircraft weight and balance, and its crucial impact on flight safety. The student will learn aircraft weight and balance procedures, center of gravity computations, and how to identify and rectify adverse loading conditions.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 106 Maintenance Practices II 3 Credit Hours

This course will instruct the student in aircraft cleaning; corrosion identification, treatment, removal, and control practices. The student will learn how to fabricate and install flexible and rigid fluid lines and fittings. The student will also understand proper procedures for safely securing, moving, fueling, starting, servicing, and taxing aircraft.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 200 Airframe Auxiliary Systems 3 Credit Hours

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for airframe auxiliary systems and their components, including: cabin atmosphere control, communication and navigation, instruments, static and pitot, fire detection and extinguishing, smoke and carbon monoxide detection, ice and rain control, speed and configuration, anti-skid brakes, as well as position and warning. The student will also learn the operations and maintenance of aircraft fuel systems and components, including fluid quantity indicating systems, fluid pressure and temperature warning systems, fuel dump systems, transfer and defueling, and pressure fueling systems.

Offered: Resident

AVMT 201 Airframe Auxiliary Systems I 1 Credit Hour

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for airframe auxiliary systems and their components, including: communication and navigation systems, aircraft instrument systems, and ice and rain control systems. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

AVMT 202 Aircraft Electrical Systems 3 Credit Hours

This course is designed to provide the student with an advanced study of AC and DC electrical systems, electrical power generation and control; to include alternators, generators, motors, relays, switches, wiring installations, load analyses, and aircraft batteries. The student will gain principle knowledge and skills to inspect, check, service, and troubleshoot airframe electrical components.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for airframe auxiliary systems and their components, including: cabin atmosphere control, and position and warning systems. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course will instruct the student in the basic construction and properties of materials typically used in aircraft applications, with emphasis on aluminum sheet metal applications and their manufacture, repair, and inspection. Student projects will focus on sheet metal lay-out, cutting, forming, bending and riveting, using solid and blind rivets, as well as identifying and using specialty fasteners.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment. This course is designed to introduce the student to basic fluid mechanics as it applies to practical applications in aircraft hydraulic and pneumatic systems. Construction and operation of hydraulic and pneumatic systems and components will be discussed. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for aircraft landing gear systems. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course will instruct the student in aircraft covering materials, construction, inspection, and repairs using natural and synthetic fabrics. The student will understand the identification, inspection, and application of finishing materials to both fabric and metal surfaces, including touch-up, trim, and lettering. The student will learn the fundamentals of airframe assembly, rigging, aerodynamics, and controls. This course will also introduce the student to conformity and airworthiness inspection requirements and procedures as they relate to the airframe, including knowledge and abilities needed to perform inspections and properly complete associated forms and paperwork.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for aircraft landing gear systems. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

This course is designed to introduce the student to basic fluid mechanics as it applies to practical applications in airframe systems. Construction and operation of hydraulic and pneumatic systems and components will be discussed, as well as identification and selection of hydraulic fluids and their related components. The student will learn landing gear designs, construction, and operations; as well as the inspection, servicing, and repair or replacement of various types of fixed and retractable landing gear systems, shock struts, brakes, wheels, tires, and steering systems.

Offered: Resident

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for engine fuel systems and their components, including: carburetion, injection, and fuel metering systems for reciprocating engines, as well as engine fuel control systems for turbine engines. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.
AVMT 214 Engine Electrical Systems 3 Credit Hours

This course will present the principles of operation and servicing procedures of electrical systems and electrical components found on reciprocating and turbine engine powered aircraft. Students will study and understand the operation, inspection, and servicing of ignition and starting systems, generation and control systems, auxiliary power units, and wiring installations.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the student must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.

Offered: Resident

AVMT 215 Powerplant Lubrication Systems 1 Credit Hour

This course will provide the student an understanding of operating principles and basic maintenance techniques for engine lubrication systems and their components. The student will learn to inspect, check, service, troubleshoot and repair these systems.

Registration Restrictions: Due to FAA requirements, the students must submit an AMTS Application through the School of Aeronautics prior to enrollment.
