

SPANISH COMMUNICATION MAJOR (B.S.)

Purpose

The Bachelor of Science in Spanish Communication prepares students to achieve fluency in the Spanish language while fostering a deep understanding of Hispanic cultures and linguistic structures. Rooted in a Christian worldview, the program emphasizes professional communication skills, cultural sensitivity, and ethical engagement, equipping graduates to apply their language proficiency in service-oriented careers and multicultural environments. This program prepares students for impactful roles in areas such as business, healthcare, education, and ministry, where Spanish language skills and cultural awareness are essential.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

- Analyze cross-cultural situations through a biblical lens.
- Utilize Spanish communication skills in a professional and academic context.
- Communicate effectively in Spanish with accuracy, fluency, and adaptability across diverse contexts.
- Analyze linguistic principles and grammatical structures in the Spanish language interpretations.

Program of Study

Delivery Format: Online Only

- Spanish Communication (B.S.) - Translation and Interpreting - Online

Career Opportunities

Graduates of the Bachelor of Science in Spanish Communication program can pursue various career paths, including roles as:

- Translators
- Interpreters
- Educators
- Healthcare Support Specialists
- International Business Professionals
- Social Workers
- Missionaries

Some careers, such as translation and interpretation, may require additional certifications or licensure, while teaching positions may require further education or credentials in education, depending on the state.