

DATABASE CERTIFICATE

Purpose

The Certificate in Database seeks to equip students with core training in coding, database development, and application programming. The knowledge obtained is an asset to many other aspects of the Information Systems field.

Program Learning Outcomes

The student will be able to:

- Design advanced SQL code to extract information that answers business questions.

Program of Study

Delivery Format: Online Only

- Database Certificate - Online

Career Opportunities

- Data communication analyst
- IT infrastructure technician
- IT technician
- Network and systems administrator
- Network security specialist
- Operations specialist

Additional education or training may be required for some jobs or occupations. Conferral of a certificate does not guarantee job placement.