

HONORS (HONR)

HONR 395 Quantitative Research Methods and Design 3 Credit Hour(s)

This course examines an overview of various types of quantitative research, theory and design of research problems and experiments in various subfields, communication of research proposals and results, and evaluation of current research and review of current literature.

Registration Restrictions: Junior Status

Offered: Resident

HONR 495 Senior Honors Thesis 3 Credit Hour(s)

This individually designed thesis will be directed by a faculty member from the honor student's major department in consultation with the department chairperson and the Director of the Honors program.

Offered: Resident